FISHING AND MATRINONY .- A story is told of a man who-was inordinately fond of going a fishing, that he was fearful of appointing a day for his marriage, lest it might turn out fine weather for his favorite sport. The thing was finally settled by a contract of this nature. "The marriage shall be consumated on Monday next, provided the weather is such as to prevent ish from biting. If it should not so turn out, it shall be postponed until the first day favorable for matrimony, vice versu for fishing." Were we in the girl's place, such a chap might fish somewhere else for a wife.

"The old Russian custom of the bride on the evening of the wedding day, taking off her hus, band's boot, in pledge of obedience, is still retained in some parts of that country, as also that of the husband depositing in one boot a sum of money, and in the other a small whip If the young wife happens to hit first upon that containing the money, she keeps it-if not, her husband gives her two or three lig. t cuts with the whip.

Yankee Notions in London -- Extract of a letter from London, received by the last steamer .---"We have a Yankee here, who has opened a shop in the Strand for the sale of American manufacturod articles, such as cut tacks, screws, augurs, combs, pins, milk pails of codar, wine coolers, com broams, wooden clocks, ect. ect. John Bull will find out, at last, that we can now make our own mouse-traps."—Aillas.

As an attorney and a physician were sitting together in a public house, the doctor began to reproach the attorney with the number of strange words which the law indulges in, viz: "habeas corpus," "fieri facias," etc., and amongst others, asked what was meant by the words "docking an entail." "Why doctor," replied the attorney, "it is doing what you will not do with your patients -it is suffering a recovery."
