They are, for the most part, inordinate, illegitimate and unprofitable ; and the more we cherish . them, the greater rejoicing is there in hell, and more sorrow in heaven. When our base and sordid de sires are allowed to be gratified, Satan shouts halleluish, and the angels weep, like willows in a shower, over the grave of virtue and departed worth. .My hearers--- Fate triumphs over fortune, here in this world of sickness, sin and eternity. We are dragged on by Destiny. In spite of all physica, or moral exertion ;-and we might as well sub-fit to its despotism as to chafe our souls, tear, our tronsers, and scrape the skin of our shins, in showing resistance. We often see the wicket exalted to the highest nich of prosperity, and the laurels of wealth, honor, and renown grace the brow of worthless rascality, while the good, the honest and the pious (like myscif) are pitched into the pit of adversity, to work out their own salvation with fortitude, forbearance and long-suilaring. But, my friends, you ought not to trouble Providence with impertinent questions, hs to the why and wherefore of all this. Let it suffice that it is through the unfathomable wisdom of the Omnipotent that we are situated and subject to constant vicissitude. It is not for you to inquire into these matters, for the plain reason that your comprehension is not commensurate with your inquisitiveness ; and, if it were, you would be no more satisfied after having found dut the whole truth than you were before. " If there be one among you, you short-sighted, leer-eyed sons of sin, who can with the negdle of perception, pierce through the vast immensity of space-can count the worlds that compose the universe-measure eternity with a three foot rule, and tell what hind of creatures inhabit every twinkling star-why then he, and he alone, as my friend Pope says, may tell why Heaven has inade us as we are. My dear friends—it is all nonkense for you to murmer because you have anstocratical isouls crusted with such plebeian, perishable class. The soul is immortal, imperishable, and undamageable therefore, what is the use in Naturn'- going to any extravagant expense in fitting up such a mis-ciable concern as the body must begat best ! In would be like feathers upon a toad, more for ormament than for use ; and the truth of this would be verified as soon as one blow from the hammer of death had knocked it into a three cornered hat. Not withstanding, my worthy friends, all the little flaws you may feel disposed to pick in the words of Omnipotence you may depend upon it that whatever He does, he does according to Gunter ; and if you will only appreciate them according to their worth, and act as though you wer samples of integrity/ morality and wisdom, of His manufacture, sentsdown here for special exhibition "you will take your leaves of this world perfectly

"Colonel B. has one of the best farms on the Illinois river. About one hundred acres of it, are now covered with waving corn. When it came up in the Spring, the crows seemed determined on its entire destruction. When one was killed it seemed as though a dozen came to its funeral ; and though the sharp crack of the rifle, often drove them away, they always returned with its. echo. The colonci at length became weary of throwing grass, and resolved on trying the virtue of stones. He'sent to the druggist for a gallon of pleohol, in which he soaked a few quarts of com and scattered it over his field. The, blacklegs came an 1 partook with their usual relish, and as usual, they were pretty well corned, and such a cooing and cackling, such strutting and swaggering !- When the boys attempted to catch them, they were not a little amused at their staggering gait, and their zigzag way through the air. length they gained the edge of the woods, and their being joined by a new recruit which happened to be sober, they united at the top of their, vo.ces, in caw-caw-cawing and haw-hawing; and shouting either praises or curses of alcohol, it was difficult to tell which, as they rattled away without rhyme or reason. No Quackery !!! No Deception. .

In setting forth the virtues of this truly great medicine, we have no desire to deceive those who are labouring under affliction, nor do we wish to eulogize it more than it justly deserves. Yet when we look around and see the vast anount of suffering and distress occasioned by many of the diseases in which this medicine has proved so highly successful, we feel that we cannot urge its claims too strongly, or say too much in its favour. Such indeed are the SURPRISING VIRTUES Of this Balsam, that even in the advanced stages of Con-umption, after all the most exteemed remedi s'of physicians have failed to effect any change, the use of this medicine has been pro-ductive of the most astonishing felici, and pe-tually effected cures after all hopes of recovery ad been despaired of. In the first stages of the disease, termed " Catarrhal Consumption," originating from neglect-ed OOLD, it has been used with undeviating success, and hundreds acknowledge they owe the restoration of their health to this invaluable medicine alone. In that form of Consumption so prevalent amongst delicate young females, amonly termed debility, or "GOING INTO A DECLINE." A complaint with which thousands are lingering, it has also proved highly successful, and not only possesses the power of checking the progress of this alarming complaint, but also strenghers and invigorates the system more effectually than any medicine we have ever possessed. IFor particulars see Dr. Wistar's Treatise Consumption, to be had of the agents.
