MR. CLAY AND MR. EVERETT.

The following anecdote is not fresh, but it is sound, and will be relished by those who take delight in proving the clovated motives and views of Mr. Clay, a political career.

When the nomination of Mr. Everett as ambassador to England was before the Senate, a southern Senator rose in his seat and called the attention of the Senate to a published correspon dence, which he held in his hands, between Mr. Everett and certain abolitionists who had addresto him a series of questions touching the subject of slavery. The language of Mr. Everett's letter which was written when he was a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, was said to be very strong, and such as none of the southern Senators considered to be justifiable.

The Senator having read the correspondence made it the text of a strong denunciatory speech against Mr. Everett, earnestly and vehemently appealing to the representatives of the Southern interests and institutions in that body, to record their sentence of condemnation against such dangerous sentiments, by rejecting the nomination of a man by whom they were put forth.

"This corespondence, together with the speech of the Senator who brought it forward, arrested the attention of the whole Senate, and awakened new and strong apprehensions among the friends of Mr. Everett, as to the fate of his nomination. Soon after the Senator in question had arisen from his seat and commenced speaking, Mr. Clay was observed to pause in his walk to and, fro and as the Senator from the South proceeded in his speech, he (Mr. C.) became more and more interested till, at length, he gradually returned to his accustomed seat and was standing by it when the gentleman, who was occupying the floor finished his speech with the following emphatic language. "If under these circumstances, Mr. President, the Senate shall confirm the nomination of Mr. Everett., I consider the Union virtually disolved?"

"And I say, sir," said Mr. Clay, instantly taking up the words of the Honorable Senator, "that if a this Senate, sitting on the nomination of Mr. Everett, or any other man, as Minister to a Foreign Court, shall take upon itself to reject that nomnation, on the ground that the person nominated, has expressed to his neighbors and fellow-citizens of the State to which he belongs, sentiments not in accordance with our own, yet no way impeaching his character, or affecting his qualification of the Dealers in Boots and Shoes, of this city, with the avowed object of suppressing the sale of those Goods by Auction. It seems proper for the subscriber, tions for the post to which he is nominated, then, sir," said Mr. Clay, elevating himself to his full height and raising his voice to that clarion-like tone of impassioned eloquence, for which he above all living men, is so justly distinguished, then, sir, I tell the honorable gentlemen and this Senate that we have no longer any Union to dissolve!' Proceeding from this point, Mr. Clay poured forth for the space of about ten minutes, the most eloquent speech I ever heard in all my life. 'And that speech,' said the gentleman from whom these facts were derived, settled the question of Mr. Everett's nomination!

FUNTA SCENE-Hon. Silas Wright and his psuedo brother.-A person calling himself William S. Wright has been convicted in the Washington Criminal Court, of obtaining money under false pretences. The prisoner has pretended to be. the brother of the Hon. Silas Wright, and in this way effected his objects. During the trial, Senafor Wright was brought into the Court as a witness, and the question being propounded to him-Pray, sir, look at the prisoner, and say if he be your brother.' The Senator took a long survey of the culprit from head to foot, and then, in his usual and quiet way, answered, No, sir, I never set my eyes on the man in my life until now.' On this, the prisoner threw up his arms with every appearance of astonishment and agony, and most pathetically ejaculated, 'Oh, brother! Oh brother Silas !- how can you desert me now !'-The habitual blush on the senator's check deepens ed considerable at this imputation. The telegraphic despatch from the Baltimore Convention scarcely decomposed him more; but he recovered his equammity in an instant, cast a withering look on his pseuco brother, and made his way back to the Senate Clamber.

Clay and Coon Skins-an Omen !- Gen. Cass attended a Loco-Foco meeting at Ypsilanti a few days since. He condescended to look on while the salute was being fired. In loading the last gun, the General's friends used Coon skins for walding; and then filled up the vacancy with CLAY! When the match was applied, the gun exploded, prostrating about a dozen Loco-Focos. Fortunately no very serious injury occured; but the incident should teach the gentleman Locos that "Cray and Coon skins" are death to Loco-Focoism .-- Roch. Dem.

BAR TO MARRIAGE. The government of the principality of Waldek, in Germany, have given public notice that no license to marry will hereafter be granted to any individual who is addicted to drunkenness; or, if he have been so, he must exhibit full proofs that he is no longer a slave to this vice. The same government have also ditocted that, in every report name by the eclesias-tical, municipal and police authorities, upon po tition for license to marry, the report shall distinctly state whether either of the parties desirous of entering into matrimonial connection is given o intemperance or otherwise.

It is said that a large number of the Kinderkook er's friends at Baltimore avowed their motto to be: 'Van Buren or nobody.' They ought to be tolerably well satisfied, as they have nearly got one branch of the alternative. If Polk isn't 'nobody,' he is the next thing to it. - Louisville Jour.

Most Extraordinary Cere!—If any have doubts they may now dismiss them, and the most incredulous may consider Beafiness as curable. Numerous cases of cures, and many of them very remarkable—by the use of Scarpa's Oil, have been published, but this 'caps the climax.' Young or old may yet recover hearing. A lady in Smithfield, Pennsylvania, and now about SU years of age had been gradually getting deaf for more than 40 years, so that it was next to impossible to make her hear conversation in the loudest tones of voice; Last winter she was induced to 'try 'Scarpa's Oil for Deafness.' It is only necessary to add that she has used two bottles, and that her hearing is perfectly restored—she is cured.

Deafness Cured.—The following extract from a letter written by Mr. Johnson of Boston, to a friend in this city, is important.

'The bottle of Scarpa's Oil for Deafness, that you sent me, with the wish that my dauchter would try it, has been used, and in its effects, have astonished all you know how very deaf she has been since she was three years old—she now hears quite well, but as the medicine has all been used, I wish you to send me another bottle, which I have every reason to believe will cure her entirely.'—[Times.

NATURE'S OWN PRESCRIPTION. A compound Balsanne preparation of the Prunus Virginiana or "Wild Cherry Burk," prepared by a new chemical process, approved nd recommended by the most distinguished physicians, and universally acknowleded the inst valuable medicine ever discovered.

No Quackery!!! No Deception. In setting forth the virtues of this truly great redicine, we have no desire to decrive those who are libouring under affiction. ngs do we vish to eulogize it more than it justly deserved Yet when we luok around and see the vast a mount of suffering and distress occasioned by nany of the dideases in which this medicine hes proved so highly successful, we feel that we can not urge its claims too strongly, or say too much n its favour Such indeed are the SURPRISING VIRTUES Of this Balsam, that even in the advanced stages of Consumerion, after all the most esteemed remedits of physicians have failed to effect any change, the use of this medicine has been produrive of the most astonishing relief, and actually effected cures after all hopes of recovery had been despaired of. In the first stages of the disease, termed " Ca. arrhal Consumption," originating from negleci. ed COLD, it has been used with undering success, and hundreds acknowledge they own the restoration of their health to this invaluable medicine alone. In that form of Consumption so prevalent amongst delicate young female.

commonly termed debility, or "GOING INTO A DECLINE." complaint with which thousands are lingering, it has also proved highly successful, and nat only possesses the power of checking the progress of this alarming complaint, but also strengh. ens and invigorates the system more effectingly than any medicine we have ever possessed.
