"I wont," tried fair Fanny, as pressing her closely, A youth, all unskilled in love, begged for a kiss; And he, never thinking she meant it jocosely.

Let go the soft hand that was clasped within his. But Fanny, astonished to find him so coy, And wishing in truth for the kiss she was spurning Put in play all her arts to embolden the boy,

And teach him a practical lesson worth learning. I wont. she repeated-but sent forth such glances As maidens are wont when they're bent on a prize; Yet Adonis, still coy, made no further advances,

"I wont 'she still sighed, the more coaxingly smiling The smiles of fair Fanny, ah! who could resist 1-The boy saw, at last, she was done with beguiling, And pressed the bright rubies that craved to be kissed

'In fature,' she whispered 'you'll know what to do :' (He kissed ber.) to show what he'd LEARN'D by he

M wont, when you ask, means I will not kiss you; Though you may keep re, when you like, without asking."

From the Southern Miscellany. Letter from Major Jones. - Pineville, July 15, 1844.

To COL. HANLESTER: Dear Sir-I owe you an apology for not wriin to you before now, but the fact is I've had a monstrous sight of botherments to prevent—the baby's been cick, and the crops been in the grass, and the negroes has all had the measles, which has kep me in a perfect flustration all the time.—

I wanted to go to the Baltimore Convention, to nominate Mr. Clay, but Mary and old Miss Stallions tuck on so about it, and was so afraid some of the steamboats mought hust their biler and spill main the sea, that I staid home just to humor or missiand ever sense, sein how things was givine on slick and smooth, I've sort o drapt out of politics and tenden to the plantation. But I can't stand it no longer—I feel like I would be no better nor a tory to my country if I was to stand idle now, and do nothing to help to put down the treacherous rascals that is tryin to destroy the government, and earne I was to stand it no longer—I feel like I would be no better nor a tory to my country if I was to stand idle now, and do nothing to help to put down the treacherous rascals that is tryin to destroy the government, and earne I was to stand idle now, and do nothing to help to put down the treacherous rascals that is tryin to destroy the government, and earne I was the stand the search of the triangle of the property o now, and do nothing to help to put down the treacherous rascals that is tryin to destroy the government; and sense I've-hoe I all the grass out of my crap and laid it by, I'm jest giving to turn in and help to hoe LOKTFOKTFOKTISH out by the ncots, and never stop till we lay the good old State by next November, safe and sound for Henry Clay! I never did have much opinion of these hig democrat leaders that was always tryin to make divisions among the different classes of peor-ple in the country—always tryin to set the pore (who has held these Sales for the past eighteen months) agin the rich, and the planters agin the manyfacturers, and the South agin the North, and even the unreligious agin the religious people. I never did believe they was what they pertended to be, but I always thought they was friends to their country, though they took as monstrous pore way of showin it. I thought they wanted office, and was tryin to fool the people into votin for 'em but I never begun to think they was mean enough to tey to bust up the Union if they couldn't have their own way. But now I see into 'em, bomination take their infernal picters, and go in for squashin. 'em into the yearth howdaciously, so they can't never raise their heads as a party in this country agin.

The truth of the bisuess is just this-they saw the people was twine throw 'ein in the next election like they did in [310] and tried every way they could in the last Congress to pump up some new capital-some new dust to throw in the people's eyes-they tried General Jackson's fine and every thing else they dared to touch, but they burnt their fingers with the tariff, and they was afraid to raise the ghost of the Bank, so they had to just steal old Tyler's thunder, and make the most they could of it. But mind I tell you, its gwine to blow em all to everlastin smash before they are done with it. That annexation question, come wheelin into the political sky, all of a sudden, like some thunder in big comet with a fiery tail, and its just gwine to serve the Democratic party like a taller candle does a skeeter-hawk, when he dabs in the place like a tarnal fool without knowin what it il swinge 'em all into a perfect crackling. The people of this country has got too much sense to give this union away for Texasand the re not soon gwine to forget or to forgive the man that has got no more sense and no more patriotism in 'em than to want us to wash out the rementing blood of our fathers with the blood of our brothers in a civil war.

We're all strait as a coon's leg down here. The boys is all hurra for Clay, and sense they've found out that Polk is to be the lokofoky candidate they took sich a dislike to the yarb that they won't le a stalk of it grow on their plantations, for fear people mought think they was Pola men. Old Nippers was bout the only loky foky in the settlement. He's been crowing about Van Buren and ·Free Trade like a house a-fire till last Monday when he first heard of the nomination. Polk, Polk, see he, who's Polk. Some of the boys told him he was the chap what Jimmy Jones of Tennessee beat so bad for Governor last year .-Old Nippers haint opened his head bout politics ever sense. If Polk doesn't flourish no better any where else in Georgia. than it does here, it won't take many fixers to count the berries next fall .-We're all comin to your Convention-I never did see sich a stir-every one feels as if the destiny of the country was at stake this time-even the wimmen's got the dander up sense they heard about old Bumsquattie's gwine to bust up the Union. You may jest lay off a ten acre lot to hold the time time.

Hints to Lovers of Flowers .- A most beautiful and easily obtained show of evergreens in winter may be had by a very simple plan, which has been found to answer remarkably well on a small scale. If geranium branches are taken from heal-thy and luxurious trees just before the winter sets in, cut as for slips, and immersed in soap and water, they will, after drooping for a few days, shed their leaves, put forth fresh ones, and continue in the finest vigor all the winter. By placing a number of bottles filled in flower baskets, with conceal the bottles, a show of evergreen insured for a whole season. They requi-

IMPORTANT INVENTION.

SUPERIOR WASHING MACHINE.

THE undersigned having become the owner and proprietic of Mr. John Shugert's newly invented. Parent Washing Machine, for the county of Schuylkill and is now making the machines at his shop, in Pottsville, where he has a supply on hand for inspection and sale, at the very moderate price of seven dollars.

This machine for cheapness, efficacy and perfection in any respect, is without exception the greatest invention in the known World. It is the only washing machine among the many thousands that have been pronounced PERFECT. It washes without rutbing or scrubbine, tearing or wearing, pressing or squeezing, knocks off to buttons, does all the finery work of cleaning Hems, Tucks, Frills, &c., in a few mindtes; and washes clean all coats, vests, pahtaloons, shirts and bed clothing of the dirtlest kind, with less than on tenth part of soap necessary in the ordinary way washing. A girl of twelve years old can wash more two hours, than two women in a whole day by hand.

Facts for the People!

HE constantly increasing popularity and sale of B. A Fahnestock's Vermifuge has induced persons who are envious of its success to palm off upon the public preparations which all nedical men know to be inefficacious in expolling worms from the system.

This Vermifuge has made its way into public favour upon the ground of its own intrinsic merits, more than any other medicine of the kind now used; and while many worm remedies have, by dint of puffing, been forced into sale, and shortly after gone into the obscarity which their worthlesness justly merited B.
