of the union. A foreign religious influence, too, has been brought into the field ugainst us, and the whole Catholic population, with few exceptions, taught by their pretended friends to believe that the Whig party were their determined enemies. went in a body against us. But that was not all; their speakers and presses have industriously sought to turn the whole public discussion from the doctrines and principles, from the practical measures best style. and mighty interests at peril, and carry on the contest upon personal grounds; a sort of scullion warfare, instead of a high and dignified debate; a war, in which malevolent, rancorous, calumnious slanders; long ago exploded, were raxed up and repeated without scruple and without shame. Mn. CLAT's individual worth, his usefulness in public life, his unimpeachable integrity, his exact and scrupulous performance of all his arduous pub. lic duties; his dignified and courteous manners his mild but firm temper, his frequent sacrifice of self to the country's welfare, and his unhesitating preference of the general good to the sumersev of private opinion; his intimate connection with every great and salutary measure introduced into the country, within the last forty years, could not se. cure him from the furious vituperation of his political enemies, but were made the occasion for, slanders and obloquies the most shocking and shameless. They attacked and sought to ruin hi private reputation, penetrated into his house, and left their slime on his housel.old goods ; no calum. ny was to ) foul, no lie too fithy and base for the

Is fixed forever to detract or praise ; Repose denies her requiem to his name, And Folly loves the marty dom of Fame. The foe, the fool, the jealous, and the vain. 'The envious who but live in others' pain; Behold the host, delighting to deprave, Who track the steps of Glory to the grave ; Beize on each fault that daring genius owes - Half to the ardor which its birth bestows ; Distort the truth, accumulate the lie, And pile the pyramid of calumny.'

The Whig party has been forced to contend against, and has been overwhelmed by unprincipled wickedness, false issues, and abominable frauds: They, conducted the contest like honorable, high minded men, whose only phject was the welfare of their country. They have done all that honest men could do, and can solare themselves in their defeat by this comfortable reflection-they know that the thinking, reasoning, intelligent, virtuous portion of the people, the American people, are with them in heart, with them in feeling, and as well in the mortification of defeat, as they would have been in the enjoyments of the fiuition of victory. They know too, that the pinciples for which they struggled are permanent and immortal; the principles of the country. A dishonest adluence has not overthrown, but postponed their policy. Feelings have been aroused in the deep heart of Americans, which will not sleep-beaten but not dismayed, they will enter upon the struggle for the next four years with a power su. portion to the power of the administration. Theirs is a system of National policy, which must inevita. bly prevail; American labor must and will be
