CURE FOR A COLD .- The following prescription has been taken from an old black-letter book, A. D. 1403. We print it for the benefit of those medical antiquaries who are fond of tracing the progress of medicine:

Putte vour settee in hot water, As highe as your thighes; Wappe your heade up in flannelle As low as your eyees.

Take a quari of rum'd gruelle. When in bedde, as a dose, With a number four dippo Well tailow your nose.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND .- A Liverpool paper tels the following laughable story ;-A gentlemanly looking personage walked into the house of Mr. Turrets, the Seraph Hotel, and accosting the waiter with a patronizing air, asked what he could have for dinner. He was informed there was some soup, and some nice roast beef, and boiled mutton above Race.

clover; he enjoyed a dinner worthy of a Nabob. and qualified the best beverage which wine covered hills and gay valleys of France' could afford. On rising to depart, satisfied to his heart's content with good things, he threw down a sixpence, and took up his hat. 'Thank you, sir,' said the waiter, eyeing the little coin; would you like the bill sir ?' . The bill-I want no bill!' was the cool reply; 'I have paid you!' 'Yes sir, my fee, sir, I and thank you.' No sir, it is for the dinner, according to the bargain. I ordered you to bring the best dinner you could for my money-you did so-and I am satisfied; that's my money-it's all I have, and you cannot have more.' In a mo ment the waiter was down stairs with his master -the bill was made out-twenty-five shillingsand on being assured that only a sixpence was offered in payment, Mr. Turrets was soon in 'the.' presence, vehemently remonstrating at such a trick being played upon him.

He discovered, however that there was no possible casoning with an empty pocket—the gentleman quietly stuck to the express terms of the bargain-and the worthy host at length decided, instead of sending for a police officer, to laugh himself out of the difficuly, and complimented his unwelcome guest, who he could now easily perceive was 'a man about town,' and one who lived onhis wits. 'Well,' said he, I'm done-it's a clever trick, and I will forgive you, and halt a crown besides, if you will only go to-morrow, and favor my friend, Mr. Westwood, of the Imperial, with a visit. Our hero drew himself up-his pride seemed hurt at the very suggestion-he had his hand upon his hat, and shaking his head in conscious dignity, he exclaimed, 'pardon me, sir-sir-honot; don't say one word more on such a subject. It was only yesterday that Mr. Westwood, after I'had patronized him in a similar way, gave me five shillings to come and play the trick on you.'

afflicted with pain in the breast,
and a severe Couch,
for the period of five years.
About the first of May last, she became so reduced, that she wis confined to her bed for several weeks, entirely unable to move. I called in our family physician, who after some inquiry, &c., left her a few pills. The next day the Doctor paid her another visit, and then told me that medic the was entirely useless, as her; recovery was impossible.
I then procured a bottle of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry,
she viding to th
visider

commenced using according to the directions, and from which she derived considerable benefit. I constitued the use of the Sypup until she had used 10 llottles. By this time she had recovered perfectly. She now ergloys good health, and attends to her household duties as usual. I would most cheerfully recommend this medicine to all similarly afflicted. What is the price of 10 or 15 battles, compared to good health?

Yours respectfully

The following are two, respectable, and the gentlemen too will known to require comment. Let them be read.
I have been afflicted most grievously since 1872-with Rheumatism and contraction of the cords of ray legs, caused by the cramps of the cholera, which I then had in its most severe form. After trying many remedies in vain, I have found relief—had the cords of my legs relaxed—the, swylling reduced—and and greatly benefited by the use of one bottle of Liminent, based externally and one bottle of Indian Vegetable Elix r, used in ternaly at the same time. I can now walk with ease in positions that I could not a week ago, endure at all.

An old negro servant of General Washington, Samuel Anderson, a native of Africa, died near Mount Vernon, on the 20th inst., aged about 100 years.

MELANCHOET OCCURRENCE AND DEATHS We learn from the Reading Democrate that on Friday evening last, as a man by the name of Schaeffer and another person were returning home from a wood chopping match, in the neighborhood of Walnuttown, in Berks county, they stopped before the house of Mr. Jacob Hell, an sold man, at least 82 years of any when one of them, Schaeffer, endeavored to gain forcible entrance into the house, by smashing in the shutters and windows with an axe that he had in his hand. He was repeatedly warned by the old man to desist from the undertaking, but without effect. The old man, thinking, no floubt, that he was about being murdered, took hold of a knife, and with single bow sent it through Schaeffer's heart, and he almost instantly expired.

A SINGULAR BET.-Public notice is given in the Boston papers, of a bet which was to be set tled on the 4th of March, in that city. It appears that a whig and a loco, after having bangered each other, several months since, for a bet on the Presidential election, finally agreed that Mr. Clay was elected, the democrat should saw half a cord of wood for the whig, in any public place he should name; vice versa, if Mr. Polk should be elected. The whig, having lost, was to saw the half cord of wood last Tuesday in front of the market house.
