TT DR. LEIDY'S SR SAPARILLA LD Is the purest, strongest, and most efficacious of any other preparation of arsaparia that is made.

Is the purest, strongest, and most efficacious of any other preparation of argaparia that is made.

It is warranted to be stronger than bottles of MOST others—stronger than four of SOME, and stronger than three of the STRONGEST prepared by any other in the United States.

3 Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla is recommended by all respectable physicians in preference to any other. All who have ever used it, have derived MORE BENEFIT from one bottle than three to ten of others, and those who, after having used other's preparations, without benefit, will use Dr. Leidy's, will soon be cauvinced (as thousands have already been) of the foregoing assertion. The apparatus with which Dr. Leidy's extracts used in his preparation of Sarsaparilla as prepared, is the only one in the United States, unported by Dr. Leidy himself, from the celebrated house of Pelleter & Cavenion, in Paris, at a great expense, and is capable of extending the medical virtues of Sarsaparilla and other roots, more effectually than by any other process.

3 SEVERL HUNDRED ERTIFICATES of remarkable cures and recommendations from clergymen and physicians have been from time to, time published it is only thought necessary to keep the public acquisated as to where Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla can by obtained geninel namely, at Dr. LEIDY'S HEALTH EMPORIUM, 191 North SE. A lady in Smithfield, Pennsylvania, and now about 50 years of are had been gradually getting deaf for more than 40 years, so that it was next to impossible to make her hear conversation in the loudest tones of yoice; Last winter she was induced to try 'Scarpa's Oil for Deafness.' Oil for Deafness, that you sent.me, with the wish that my daughter would try it, has been used, and in its effects, have astonished all; you know how very deaf she has been since she was three years old—she now hears quite well, but as the medicine has all been used, I wish you to send me an other bottle, which I have every reason to believe wi urchef entirely. —[Times. The Good old Plough.

Let them sing who may of the battle fray, And the deeds that have long since past; Let them chant in praise of the tar whose days Are spent in the ocean vast : would render to these all the worship you please, I would honor them even now, But I'd give far more from my heart's full store,

To the cause of the Good Old Plough. ct them laud the notes, that in music float Through their bright and their glittering halls, While the amorous twirl of the hair's bright curl, Round the shoulders of beauty falls; But dearer to me is the song from the tree, And the rich and the blossoming pough;

Oh! these are the sweets which the rustic greets, As he follows the Good Old Plough. Then how jocund the song as it comes along From the ploughman's lusty throat; Did the hunter his shout ever yet give out To the brown woods a merrier note!
Though he follows no hound, yet his day is crown it With a triumph as good I trow, As though antiered head at his feet lay dead,

Instead of the Good-Old Plough. Full many there be that we daily see. With a selfish and hollow pride, Who, the Ploughman's lot, in his humble cot, With a scornful look deride. Yet I'd rather take, aye, a hearty shake From his hand than to wealth I'd bow,

For the honest grasp of that hand's rough clasp Has stood by the Good Old Plough. All honor be then to the grey old men, When at last they are bowed with toil; Their warfare then o'er, why the battle no mor For they've conquered the stubborn soil. And the chaplet each wares are his silver hairs, And ne er shall the victor's brow whap them in good strong paper. Steel is injured by lying in woolens - Amer. Traveller. 2 Successfut culture of Tunnies-It is a fict, familiar to most farmers, that when the buil is heavy, newly cleared land is finely adapted to the rusing of the common flat turnip, but that after a few years, this quality seems to disappear, owing chiefly, as is generally supposed, to the ravages of the turnip fly. A farmer in the western part of this State, entirely obviates this difficulty, by a very simple exdient. His farm is a heavy fertile soil, and though well adapted to most farm crops it appeared to be entirely unfitted to the turnips, like all others of a similar character. The successful mode hig adopted, is as follows; after having ploughed and harrowed his ground, and reduced it to a fine tilth, he spreads over the surface several inches of old straw, which is suffered to lie a few weeks. Just before sowing time, it is burned, the surface is harrowed, the seed sown and brushed in. In this way, he uniformly obtains the finest crops. He ascribes his success to the destruction of the insects by fire; but whatever may be the cause, the practice is well worthy of trial by all possessing land of a similar character. CONTINUATION OF MILE IN COMS. - Extract of a letter from Mr. Calvin Butler, Plymouth, Connecticut, to the editor of the Cultivator "On the subject of keeping cows in milk from year to year, I have had some experience. It is not true that cows kept constantly in milk, will after a lapse of years, fail of their milk. This depends upon the nature and disposition of the cow for milk or fattening. I kept one in milk for five years constantly, and she increased in her milk every year, and it was almost impossible to dry her, when I turned her to beef. I am now milking one for the third year, which neither gains nor fails in her milk, and I presume would not, should she be milked ten years. I am milking another for the first year, which I presume, will continue to gain from year to year. My cows have been kept away from the bull, not spayed." PEACH TREES succeed best on elevated ground, where the soil is dry and friable. Remember to set out the trees with care, not too deep-cut off with a sharp knife, the roots which may have become bruised or broken-and apply well rotted manure abundantly while tree is growing. This is one of the mysteries of raising good peaches.
