

POTTSVILLE. Saturday Morning, May 31, 1845

VOLNEY B. PALMER, At his Real Estate and Coal Agency, No. 60, Pine Street, Philadelphia.

Rev. A. A. Anderson, will preach in the large room of the Town Hall, to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon, at half past three o'clock.

Lines in the Episcopal Church of Pottsville, by J. M. C. will be received too late for this week, but shall appear in our next.

MINERAL WATER.—Messrs Jordan and Morrison, of Philadelphia, advertise bottled Mineral water. From the specimens under our table we are inclined to pronounce it superior, that it is looks superior—the weather is rather too cold to drink mineral water now, but as the dog days are at hand, we anticipate a warm spell before many weeks, and if it should occur we will try it and report the result of our experiment.

THE WEATHER.—Our climate has become as capricious and variable as a spoiled beauty, and a man should be extremely cautious of committing himself upon its phases for an hour in prospect.

THE COURTY.—The year verges upon the leafy month of June, the country wears its most delightful appearance.

THE SOCIETY HELD THEIR BOOK SOCIETY.—This society held their anniversary in Philadelphia, on Wednesday evening of last week.

RELIEF TO PITTSBURG.—We find in the Pittsburgh Daily American the following communication:

POTTSVILLE, May 16, 1845. Wm. J. HOWARD, Esq., Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh.

Dear Sir.—It affords me great pleasure to forward you the enclosed draft on the Bank of the Northern Liberties, Philadelphia, for Five Hundred and Fifty dollars, contributed by citizens of Pottsville and its vicinity, towards the relief of the sufferers by the late disastrous fire in your city.

Very respectfully, Wm. J. HOWARD, Mayor.

Dear Sir.—I have visited all the principal manufacturing towns in New England, as far as Portland, and I was struck with the evidence of prosperity exhibited every where, in the cheerful and happy countenances of the people generally; and all this has been the effect of the Whig Tariff of 1842.

Very respectfully, Wm. J. HOWARD, Mayor.

AN EVIL TO BE CORRECTED. Intemperance being in itself an injury to society; as well as destructive in its tendencies to the temperate; it becomes the philanthropist to enquire whether this evil be on the increase or decrease.

A few years since, the friends of temperance united in a grand effort to change the old order of things—merry and want in the domestic circle, gave way to the regenerating influence of peace and plenty!

Truly this was a great work of utility. Now, we are verging into the old order of moral degradation. We see men of intellect, yielding to the serpent that sparkles in the ruby cup.

Some of the reformed, have fallen into their old habits, like the hog returned to its wallowing in the mire; but to a great extent, new actors appear on the stage of our borough's reputation; and drunkenness stalks abroad with impunity.

Profanity is made to darken the counsels of religion; The Sabbath, that is calculated to lead the mind of man, "from Nature, up to Nature's God" is made the occasion for the coarse jest and ribald laugh of the sons of intemperance, and young men, as well as middle aged, are flocking to the standard of misery and prostituted reputation.

The writer of this is by some adjudged to be seeking office—by others, it is said, he is "writing away his popularity." As both cannot be true; and we feel inclined to doubt that either is correct, we may be excused for summing up the whole argument, and presenting the "syllabus of his case" as follows:

1st. Some of our heeded places of resort, are rather indifferent to the objects contemplated by Law; and instead of accommodating "strangers and travellers" with necessary entertainment; encourage young men to spend their earnings for liquid instruments of suicide.

2d. Our borough is overrun with unlicensed beer and ale houses, to encourage drunkenness by diluted poison. We have laws to correct these evils, but alas for the administrators of the law—"what is everybody's business, is nobody's business;" and these stepping-stones of iniquity, are suffered to traffic in this manner without fear of consequences.

How long will this state of things be permitted to continue! Pottsville May 28th, 1845. J. M. C.

THE RICE.—The second great contest for the supremacy of the turf, between the celebrated mares Fashion and Peytona, came off on the Camden Course on Wednesday. Fashion the Jersey mare beat her southern rival both heats four times by several lengths—Time first heat 7:48; second heat 7:57.

A SINGULAR LAW CASE has been pending before one of the courts in New Orleans, in which a child is claimed by two sets of parents—the one asserting that the child was born in New Orleans in 1835, and the other that he was born in New York in 1837.

FROM MATANZAS.—The New Orleans Picayune, of a late date says.—The Mexican Schooner Junata, Estela, master, arrived at this port yesterday from Matanzas, whence she sailed on the 3d inst. She brings us neither letters nor papers, but a great abundance of rumors, in which we place very little confidence.

FROM MATANZAS.—A slip from the Charleston Courier says.—We learn by the arrival of the barque Apollo, Capt. Hunt, from Matanzas, that the market were extremely dull at that place for all kinds of American produce, and that the produce of the Island was scarce and high. The crop of sugar and Molasses was represented as being short.
