A CARD.

IT HAS suited the convenience of certain parties, to offer in the market, pipes made in violation of our patent, and finned, with a view to obtain the preference, by pretending that lead pipe is an unwholesome conveyance for good water. This stale imposition has been urged, with extraordinary efforts of perversion and dishonesty, in New York, without effect, and is now about to be attempted elsewhere.

Nature soon provides an insoluble and indestructible coaling to lead pipes, (wher in use for conveying water that is fit to drink.) far better than any lartificial protection; for the latter can neither he permanent nor secure in any case and sometimes injurious. Persons interested may see at our office some of this "tinned" stuff that was used for ten years by the side of pure lead pipe, and judge for themselves about the corrosion-A letter from Dr. Rusgar Harse, of the University of Penpsylvania, distinguished as one of the first Chemists of the age, is appended below.

Nevertheless, for the benefit of lovers of the marvellous, we will supply the tinned or "tin plated" pipe at the price of pure lead pipes; and, as we will not be undersold, we hope to preserve out old relations with our business friends.

Messes. TATHAM & BROTHERS ;- In reply to you Messrs. Tatham & Brothers:—In Iroply to your note respecting the influence of lead pipes upon the water which they convey, it may be sufficient to say, that haying used the Schuylkill water so conveyed, to my laboratory in the University for more than twenty, five years, I have never perceived the slightest indication of the presence of that metal. Had there been any lead in the liquid in question, the reagents, with which I have been accustomed to use it, must have rendered the impurity evident.

Saturday Morning, Nov. 1, 1845. D Indian Summer is with us with its hazy but balmy athrosphere—the golden tinted hues of Auinmn, yes, lovely Autumn, gild and adorn our mountains, and all Nature seems to be clothed in robes of heauty. Who would not envy our Mountain hame at this season of the year,

ANOTHER HELEY JEWETT AFFAIR .-- A young and beautiful married woman, named Mrs. Bickford, aged 23, but of doubtful reputation, was found murdered in a suspicious house in Bosten on Monday morning last. She was found lying on the floor with her throat cut from ear to car. The bed had been set on fire, and the bed clothes and her face considerably burned. 'An alarm of fire, cause ed by the burning of the bed clothes, about 43 o'clock, A. M., was the cause of the discovery. A man by the name of Abbott Terrell, is suspected of committing the murder. His drawers, vest, and a hunch of keve were found in the rooms

ANTI RENTISM .- The Anti renters have made sad business of it—they have been effectually put down and besides two have been condemned to be hung for the murder of Sheriff Steele-a portion have gone to the State Prison for life-and a large number for terms varying from 3 to 10 years. The laws must be upheld at all hazards. and those who violate them must expect to bepunished.

STEAM VS. WATER POWER FOR MANUFACTUntva.-This is a subject that has attracted some attention of late years among those interested, and appears now to be generally decided among all practical men at least, that it is cheaper to erect Factories in the market on the seaboard, and use steam power, than to go into the interior even a few miles, merely for the purpose of availing themselves of Water power. A committe was recently appointed at Utica, to investigate this subject with a view of locating Steam Factories at that place. The committee, as the following extract from their report proves, arrived at the same con: clusion: The committee consisted of Spences Kellor. Andrew S. Poud and Edmund Graham. The first place they visited was Newport, Rhode Island. Here are two Cotton Mills operated by steam power, which have been in existence about nine years, and which have heretofore been under A certain two story frame dwelling house-and Black and the story of the produce testimonals of character.

They then go into a calculation of the relative cost of water and steam power. Their compari-son of the Bartlett Steam Mill No; I at Neveburyport, which has 11,000 spindles, and manufactures 167,843 yards of cloth per month, with a mill of equal capacity at Lowell, driven by water, shows a difference in favor of steam, of near $3000 per annum. In this calculation they do not charge the water mill with the outlay for building boarding houses, nor the expense of transportation to and from mavigable waters. It was the opinion of all with whom the Com-mittee conversed, that a steam mill should not be built with Jess than 15,000 spindles. It takes less than fifty per cent more coal to propel 10,000 spindles than it does 5000, and it costs no more for an engineer and fireman io a large mill than it does in a small one.
