From the U. S. Gazette. Do WHAT IS RIGHT, COME WHAT MAY .-The above is a translation of a move rather famous but always commended to use by its position in the Alexandria Gazette whose chitor always followed his text, like a good preacher. We are now reminded of the maxim and induced to press it upon our readers especially the young, by a circumstance that recently occurred near l'atter-.The above is a translation of a morto rather famous but always commended to us by its position son, (N. J.) A man named Cunningham, was charged with murdering a man with whom he was, at the time of the death, buthing. It was charged that he had kept him beneath the wa-

When the testimony of the Commonwealth had been concluded, the Court decided that there was no cause for trial, and, of course the prisoner was dismissed. After which Cunningham stated to the Court and jury that he was in the water with Morris, and saw him dive down, but did not see him come up. He said he was afraid of being suspected of murdering him, and therefore hid his clothing when he came out, and denied having been in with him.

The last sentence is that to which we would draw attention. Cunningham was evidently innocent of the crime charged, but he was a man of little faith. He had no confidence in truth—none in his own character. He knew the world was prope to censure, and with a promptness which denoted an unbalanced mind, he tild a lie-told it word and deed, . He hid the clothes of the dead man, and then denied having been with him in the water. This is the common subterfuge of guill. I heard the voice in the garden, and I was straid, for I was naked,' or, I know not ; am I my brother's keeper?' And when the falsehood is detected, it is most natural to infer a guilt, which the falsehood was intended to conceal. But Cunningham was not guilty of the murder, et he told a lie. His unbalanced mind oscilated. and finally settled to a falsehood; and he inflicted uppoa himself the double terrors of a detection of the lie, and the almost subsequent presumption of murder. The lie was easily proved upon him. and, consequently, the homicide is naturally in-

What is valuable in the teachings of this trial, for all trials are teachings, is the enforcement of the importance of truth at all times, and especially in circumstances where there is a presumption or a suspection of crime for the he, hastily formed and uttered, cannot (and it ought to be so considered,) stand the close scrutiny to which the crime will render it liable, and it will therefore, serve rather to expose than to hide the guilt .-The blanket that was drawn up to conceal the tace will probably leave bare the feet, and the exposure of either extremity will affold evidence of person-

Had Cunningham promptly and candidly explained to the Coroner or others, who first saw the body of the drowned person, all that he confessed to the Judge and jury, he would probably have been considered a candid man. He yielded to his fears, and his distrust, and told a lie. He had, of course, never been taught the whole importance of truth. He had not practiced, against adverse temptations, the utterance of truth. His impulses were wrong; his fears were greater than his principles, and he fell. Few, indeed, suffer as much from a lie that was not intended for their neighbor's hurt, but none can tell what will be the result of the attempt at false concealment; and none may rightly complain of what may be regarded as a severe punishment, when that punishment is seen to be a natural and inevitable consequeuce of the fault. Parents will probably see, in the circumstances of Cunningham's case, something to awaken in in them apprehensions for the fate of those providentially entrusted to their care, and they will apply a lesson to the young, far more effect ve than any we can give, at which we only hint in these ramarks, which we conclude by copying the following apposite lines:

Face thine enemies-accusers Scorn the prison, rack or rad! And if thou hast ructu to utter. Speak! and leave the rest to God. THE HOOSIER GAL..

BY SOLITAIRE. The heart proclaim'd her peerless, and her eye Beamed forth the hues of a bright summer sky; Her cheek in tint outvied the fairest rose; And, oh! how beauteous was her flaxen hair; Each glance would ever some sweet charm disclose As if the fav'ring gods had beaped them there; I long besought her, fondly, to be mine-A thoughtful shade was seen her face to cross,

As if she dwelt on all she must resign, And then she murmur'd, Well, I will, old Hoss! A prisoner being brought up at a London police office, the following dialogue passed between him

'How do you live ?' Pretty well, sir; generelly a little beef and pudding at dinner !

I mean, sir, how do you get your bread ?" "I beg your worship's pardon ;-sometimes the baker's, and sometimes at the chandler

'You may be as withy as you please, sir; but mean simply to as you how do you do?'
Tolerably well, I thank you, sir; I hope you worship is well also.'

other preparation of arsaparic that is made.

It is warranted to be stronger than 6 bottles of MOST others—stronger than four of SOME, and stronger than three of the STRONGEST prepared by any other in the United States.

Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla is recommended by all respectable physicians in preference to any other. All who have ever used it, have derived MORE BENEFIT from one bottle than three to ten of others; and those who, after having used other's preparations, without benefit, will use Dr. Leidy's, will soon be couvinced (as thousands have already been) of the foregoing assertion.

The apparatus with which Dr. Leidy's extracts used in his preparation of Sarsaparilla as prepared, is the only one in the United States, imported by Dr. Leidy himself, from the celebrated house of Pelleter & Cavenon, in Paris, at a great expense, and is capable of extracting the medical virtues of Sarsaparilla and other roots, more effectually than by any other process.

SEVERL HUNDRED ERIFICATES of remarkable cures and recommendations from clergymen and physicians have been from time to time published it is only thought necessary to keep the public acquainted as to where Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla can by obtained genurae, namely, at Dr. LEIDY'S HEALTH EMPORIUM, 191 North SE OND Street, near vine St., (sign of the Golden Eagle and Serpents;) Fred. DR. LEIDY'S Sarsapariila Blood Pills.

THE ONLY PILLS in existence containing Sarsapa-I rilla in their composition.

They purify the Blood and Fluids of the body, and cleanse the Stomach and Bowels from all noxious substances that produce disease.

They are composed entirely of vegetable Extracts, (free from mercury and minerals) which make them the safest, best, and most efficacious of any other pills in existence.

Secretithousand certificates of their efficacy have here-tofore been published, and their sales are in-reasing annually by thousands. More than One Million boxes have already been sold since their introduction. MORE THAN 100,000 BOXES THAN 100,000 BOXES have been sold in Philadelphia alone, the past year; thus showing that in the place where they are manufactured they have a reputation, greater than any other pills—which arises from the fact that Dr. Leidy is well known at home as a regular, Physician, and his pills are consequently employed with greater confidence than any other; in addition to their own efficacy.

Quality and not quantity is a valuable attribute belonging to them; one box doing more good than two to four of others.

BE particular to remember the location of this store. and not confound it with any other Tea Establishment in the street. This store is convenient to the place of flanding of the Jersey City Ferry.

We beg to inform you that we have established ourselves at the above place, principally for the purpose of meeting the view of our wholesale and large family customers on the North river side.

The upright manner in which we have carried on our business for several years past, in this city, together with the very high quality and moderate price of our goods, have earned for us a degree of reputation and rendwn far beyond that of any similar house in the United States, and we consider these the best reasons we can urge to obtain your patronage. We have, however, much pleasure in stating that we have made, with great care and judgment, our selections from all the spring cargos, and which comprise the finest specimens of Hyson, Gunpowder, Imperial, Ooiong, Pekoe, Ningyong, Congou, Souchong, &c., which have arrived here this season, which, with an immense variety of fine and good qualities, we offer at wholesale and retail:

THE WHEAT CROP OF 1845. The wheat crop of the United States for this year, is estimated at 125,000,000 of bushels.— The wheat crop of 1842, which was the largest ever previously raised in this country, was 103, 000,000. The increase of 22,000,000 sh less the large additional amount of land brought under cultivation than the genial character of the

The crop of Michigan is comparatively larger than that of any other State in the Union.— With a population of not over 400,000, she raised this year at least 7,000,000 bushels of wheat. The quantity is also of the very best. The Wolverines are glorying in their abundance, and they say they can furnish all Europe with all the bread she may need. The Central Ruil-road now brings down to Detroit 10,000 bushels of wheat daily, but the supply is so very heavy at Marshall and the other depots at this busy season, that the mo-tive power cannot take it off as fast as the forwarders require. This will give some idea of the products of Michigan. The recent advance in prices will most fortunately afford a fair profit to the producer, and thus with an immense crop he reaps a high price-which fortunate combination

Sept. 6 Jan. 6 May 6 is all that is wanted to insure a sound and enviable prosperity.
This fall, the western States are not only peculiarly fortunate in their large crops, but also in acquiring intelligence of the late rise before the whole crop was in second hands. The following table, which we find in the New York Herald, affords material for reflection, as exhibiting the variations in our crops arising from dance best expresses the garnerings in, of every harvest. The amount of Indian corn raised seems a matter of wonder. The half starved operatives of Europe may well look at those returns with glistening eyes, for it affords 22 bushels of corn alone for every man, woman and child in this country. Indian coin will rarely bear exportation, and therefore but little is carried abroad. It is nearly all consumed at home. Our cattle enjoy an abundance of that food which would seem a luxury in Europe. Such is the prolific fertility of our soil and the extent of production under the competition of. freemen. Egypt was once called the granary of the world. but America, in the extent of its wheat production as well as the superiority of its quality, will! throw into the shade even the fables of Hero-

Noah Webster, have been published in the Massachussetts Agricultural Repository : It is the practice with some persons to pick applcs in October, and first spread them on a floor of an upper room. This practice is said to render apples more durable, by drying them. But I can affirm this to be a mistake. Apples after remaining on the tree as long as safety from the frost will admit, should be taken directly from trees to close casks, and kept dry and cool as possible. If suffered to lie on the floor for weeks, they wither and loose their flavor, without acquiring an 'additional durability. The best mode of preserving apples for spring use, I have found to be, the putting of them in dry sand as soon as picked. For this purpose, dry sand in the heat of summer; and late in October, put down the apples in layers, with a covering of sand upon each layer. The singular advantages of this mode of treatment are these:-lst. the sand keeps the apples from the LARGE CROPS .- The Rochester American says that Charles Lee, Esq., of Milo, Yates county, raised this season fifty seven bushels of spring wheat upon a single acre,—upon two acres eighty-seven bushels and a half-and upon five acres, one hundred and sixty bushels. Mr. Lee has a fine farm and cultivates it judiciously and scientifically. Nothing but such judicious and scentific cultivation is needed to make and keep the soil of Western New York as productive as any in hushels of spring wheat per acre on their respec-tive farms. The land was measured by a surveyor's chain and carefully measured. The crops of the Germans are said to be remarkably fair; and their farming a model of good husbandry:

CATTLE IN PASTURES -Steers and Oxen may be pastured together; so also may heifers, cows and yearlings, and large weaned calves. Horses are better by themselves. Bulls if not vicious, may run with oxen. It should ever be an object with the grazier so to arrange and lay out his pasture grounds to admit of a change of food at least as often as once a fortnight, through the season. Sheep should never be allowed to enter lands intended for neat stock, but be provided with a pasture by themselves;—they foul the grass, and by constant trampling, greatly diminish the amount of feed.

SALIVA IN HORSES .- The cause of this disorler in horses is involved in obscurity. Its cure, however, may be speedily effected by mixing a table spoonful of sulphur (flour) in the salt that is given them from time to time.
