TRIUMPHART SUCCESSOF

TRIUMPHANT, SUCCESS'OF Thompson's Compound Syrup of TAR & WOOD NAPTHA.

Still another remarkable Cure!

Cartiele, Pu., Nov. 20, 1845.

About six years since, in consequence of the sedentary nature of my business. I was attacked with severe pains in the breast-paraputation of the heart, and shortness of breath, which we't soon followed by a failure of appetite, extreme-wakefulness at night, and partial paralysis of my limbs—these symptoms of a derapined system being frequently attended with spitting of flood.

For about two wears I was occasionally thrown into paraysis, m. my timos expected with spitting of plood. For about two years I was occasionally thrown into convulsions, which left me in a miserable state of feebleness and begant to affect my mind. From time to time my sufferings were more or less severe, until at length they increased to such a degree, and the violence of the symptoms were so augmented, that for a whole year I was unable to attend to my business. During this time I consulted some able physicians and attended to their prescriptions; but all their skill was unavailing to procure me relief, and at length they regarded my recovery as entirely hopeless. In this condition I was informed of the salutary effects of Thompson's Compound Syrap of Tar and Wood Naptha, in a case somewhat similar to mine, and though I had given up all expectations of a recovery of my former health by human means, yet by being strongly advised to try this medicine, I was at length prevailed upon to do so, and I have now to say, that by the use of six bottles my health has been restored, and I am now able to attend to business with as much facility as usual.

MINERS' JOURNAL.

Saturday Morning, Feb. 21, 1846: The Advertisers will observe by the arrangement of our paper, that news will be tound on every page, which, compels the reader to clance his eye over all the advertisements. This obvinites to a great extent, the objection of having advertisements placed on what is termed tipsoutside of the noner.

We refer our readers to the call for a democratic Whig County Meeting, to be held at Orwigsburg on Monday the 2d of March, to select delegates to represent this County in the State Convention, which will convens at Harrisburg on the 11th of March, to nominate a candidate for the office of Canal Commissioner.

THE ELVES AND OTHER TALES. This is a republication of the Edinburgh tales, a book which has been highly praised by the English papers. The leading story is a translation from the pen of Thomas Carlyle. The book is No. 73 of Harper's Library of Select Novels: For sale at this office-price 25 cents.

THE NATIONAL PRESS .- We have received the first number of a new weekly paper with tho above title, issued by Gen. Geo. P. Morris, late one of the editors of the Evening Mirror, and for many years proprietor of the old New York Mirror. The experience of Gen. Morris is a sufficient guarantee that the paper will be ably conducted The National Press is a large paper, elegantly printed, and is published in New York at $2 00 per annum.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF MYSTERY, is the title of curious and interesting work, recently published by the Harpers. It contains as much information interesting to the lovers of the marvellous as we have ever seen in any work. Those who are ford of reading strange and wonderful descriptions, can have their taste fully gratified by the purchase of the volume. It contains 442 pages, is well printed, well bound, and sold for fifty cents. Copies can be had at this office.

MADANE COSTELLO. This infamous woman who calls herself a female physician, by which is meant an abortionist, has at last met with her deserts. She was tried in New York recently for producing an abortion on a young girl named Dobson, and with her accomplice, Charles Mason, who seduced the girl; was convieted. Madame Castello is sentenced to imprisomment for six months, and Mason for four. Each pays a fine of $250.

IF There are very many persons in the world. surrounded with the comforts and luxuries of life whose lips are scarcely ever heard to utter the language of praise and gratitude. There are others who, though afflicted by poverty, and harrassed: and perplexed by a thousand cares, never indulge in complaints. The following is a picture of contentment in poverty which might well be studied by those in affluence, who do not know how to appreciate the blessings profusely scattered upon them:

THE MOTHER AND HER FAMILY.

DY MISS SEDGWICK. Pi ilosophy is rarely found. The most perfect sample I ever met, was an old woman who was apparently the poorest and most forlorn of the huin species, so true is the maxim which all profess to believe, and none act upon invariably, viz t that happiness does not depend on outward circounstances. The wise woman to whom I have alluded, walks to Boston, a distance of twenty or thirty miles, to sell a bag of brown thread and stockings, and then patiently walks back with her gain. Her dress, though tidy, is a grotesque colicction of shreds and patches'-coarse in the ex-

Why don't you come down in a wagon?' said I, when I observed that she was wearied with her "We have't got any horse," she contied to the neighbors are very kind to me, but they can't spare their'n, and it would cost as much as my thread would come to. 'You have a husband; don't he do any thing for vou?Ñ 'He is a good man-he does all he can, but he'a a cripple and an invalid. He reels my yarn and mends the children's shoes. He's as kind a husoand as a woman need to have.' But his being a cripple is a heavy misfortune o you,' said L *Why, ma'am I don't look upon it in that light.

replied the thread woman; I taink that I've great eason to be thankful that he never took to any bail babits." 'How many children have you!' Six sons and five daughters, ma'am.'
Six sons and five daughters! What a family or a poor woman to support!" It's a family, ma'am; but there sin't one of 'em I'd be willing to lose. They are all as healthy as need be, all willing to work, and all clever o me. Even the lattle boy when he gets a cent, now and then for doing un errand, will be sure to bring itita me." Do your daughters spin your thread?"

No me am; as soon as they are big enough they go out to service, as I don't want to keep them always delving for me; they are always willing to give me what they can tabut it's fair that they should the a little for themselves. I'do all my spinning after folks are abed."

Don't you think you would be better off, if you had no one but yourself to provide for ! 'Why, no ma'am, I don't. If I hadn't been parried, I should have had to work as hard as I ould, and now I can't do more than that: My, children are a great comfort to me, and I look fore ward to the time when they'll do as much for me is I have done for them."

Here was true philosophy. I learned a lesson from that poor woman which I shall not soon forget, PAPA non'r DRESK, AND I WON'T .- About ten years since, I was callled upon to help one of my neighbors raise a barn frame, and the hands were collected, the min bottle was nessed, as was customary in those days, and after the men had drank, the rum was hunded to some boys who were collected and looking or, Phey all took it except one little boy about seven years old, who refused to take any. He was urged very hard to take a little, but all to no purpose. His mind was fixed. He was then asked to give some reason for not drinking, and the fittle jad bravely replied, Papa don't drink any, and I won't," A NEW GAS FURNISHING APPARATUS .-Brown's Hotel, at Washington, is now lighted with gas, furnished by an apparatus invented by Benjamin F. Coston, Esq., of the U.S. Navy.— It generates gas sufficient for one hundred burners at an expense of from 75 cents to $1, per night. The apparatus, manufactured by Messrs. Forsyth & Brothers, of Philadelphia, consists of a small stove-like furnace, about four feet wide and two feet high, with a kettle in which rosin or grease is put. Gas is made in it at the rate of 400 feet per hour, without any purification, and ready for immediate use. ANDNEMOUS LETTERS The Boston Transcript makes the following remarks on the subject of anonymous letter writing: - Few persons have sufficient mastery over their own firelings as at once to scout at the contents of such letters, and to pass them by disregarded. The mind is too prone to give some credence to the instituations thus conveyed, and difficulty to set to work to suspect the author. In this way the innocent be-THEOLOGICAL SKETCH BOOK, vols.
