THE subscriber offers for sale, the two points of rendezvous for the troops to assemble, to the Mexicone, and authorizing the President to allow the non commissioned officers and soldiery one month's extra pay.

A correspondent of the Charleston News, alluding to the despatch of Mejia, in which he de-scribed the American General as little better than a Mexican tailor, says : "If it takes nine Mexican Tailors to make a man, how many MEXI-CAN GENERALS will it take to make one AMERI-CAN TATIOR !!"

Gen. Vegs and suits who were taken prisoners are rusticating in New Orleans. Gen. Gaines solicited him to become his guest during his stay in this country. He is a fine looking officer, and great favorite with the Ladies. He expresses great surprise at the growth and resources of New Orleans and the country generally. He is quite mplimentary to our troops for their bravery and humanity.

Gen. Gaines, who made requisitions for nore troops to reinforce Gen. Taylor in his exposed situation, has been censured for officiousness by the Union, the organ of the Administration. The conduct of Gen, Gaines in his anxiety to sustain Gen Taylor by sending forces to his aid. will doubtless meet the appropriation, of the whole country, - and we have not yet heard a single individual, Whig or Locofoco, but what condemns the conduct of the Administration in placing Gen. Taylor in that exposed situation with the limited forces under his command. The death of Majors Ringgold & Brown, who were ornaments to the Army, and a number of others, might have been spared if the Administration had performed its
