Boeten by John Q. Abame.

Miss Eiten M. Cocker, of John and Thomas Po ust, Baltimore county, presented t Mr. Anaus, a few weeks ago, a pair of knit gloves. In acknowledging their reception the "old man diagrant" penned Cesoifawing lines:

Who shall : ay that pullic tree Who shall cay their petitic fee.
Is nothing but discordant strife?
And he whose heart as time dove,
Tender and gentle as the dove,
Must what the telone such and doy,
for condicts with the birds of preye

Pheliin did start him, and as the log commenc ed its progress the rope caught in a projection and began rapidly to wind up. It soon drew poor Jimmy chock up. First he went over the log and then the log went over him, and so they tinued their circumgyrations and summersets. Pholim watched their progress for a moment and then sung out—Stick to him Jimmy! faith you'r a match for him ary way: you'r on top half the time!'

SCENE IN THY NEW HAMPSHIRE SENATE .-

There was an amusing passage in the debate on Friday, in the Sonate chamber,

Mr. Patten-[hastily] 'Mr. President! there is no analysis between the case. [A general laugh.] Mr. Patten-[thinking he had collared a good joke.] I repeat it Mr. President, there is not the slightest analysis vetween the cases."

We think there is a slight 'analysis' between the gentleman's use of English and what a good lady of Buffalo, ambitious to be considered clever, once told Gov. Throop. She remarked in relation to the weather, that it was very aid to be storing when the sun passed the Penobscot.—Concord (N. H.) S'utesmaz.
This is almost equal to the following passage

A Pugnacious Captain .- When the call for rolunteers was first made in Missouri, an officer in Cole county raised, with great despatch, a tine impany, and forthwith tendered their services to the Government. They were kept in suspense for several days, when they were sent to their homes, to await instructions. Again the trumpet sounded to arms; volunteers were wanted and would be received -so the Adjutant General of Missouri seemed to think. Again the company was murch ed to Jefferson city, but they were again refused. 'General,' said the patriotic captain, I raised my company to enter the service of my country, and right the Mexicans. This is the second time I have marched them here, in obedience to your orders and their services have been rejected. I have sworn not to return without a fight; and since you have thus refused to let me fight the Mexicans, I'll tight the rancheros, or hangers-on of our own camp." And 'suiting the action to the word,' he fell to and gave the redoubtable Adjutant General of the state of Missouri, as spirited a thrashing as General Taylor gave the Mexicans at the Rio Grande.— When the official report of this gullant affiir was received, there was found that there was but one missing.

PHENETENING A ROSUE .- In the St. Louis Recorder's Court, recently, Alexander M'Manus was fined $5 for stealing wood from the steame Hannibal, and was asked to fork up by his Hon "C-c-c-cao't do it," stuttered he, a-a-a-ain't got pains in the breast, palpitation of the heart, and shortness of breath, which were soon followed by a failure of appetite, extrease wakefulness at night, and partial paralysis of my limbs—these symptoms of a deranged system being frequently attended with spitting of shood. For about two years I was occasionally thrown into consulsions, which left me in a miserable state of feelideness and began to affect my mind. From time to time my sufferings were more or less severe, until at length they increased to such a degree, and the violence of the symptoms were so augmented, that for a whole year I was unable to attend to my business. During this time I consulted aome able physicians and attended to their prescriptions; but all their skill was unavailing to procure merelief, and at length they regarded my recovery as entirely hopedess. In this condition I was indicated of the salutary effects of Thompson's Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood Naptha, in a case somewhat similar to mine, and though I had given up all expectations of a recovery of my former health by human means, yet by being strondy advised to try this medicine, I was at length prevailed upon to do so, and I have now to say, that by the use of six bottles my health has been restored, and I am sow able to attend to business with as much facility as usual.

HAAS' EXPECTORANT. FOR THE CUBE OF Consumption, Coughs, Colds, &c. TO THE PUBLICE

IN PRESENTING this valuable medicine to the public as a reniedy for Consumption, and Pulmonary Diseases in general. I have been actuated sidely by the great success attending its use in my own immediate, neighborhood, and a desire to benefit the afflicted. I shall simply endeavor to give a brief-statement of the shall simply endeavor to give a brief-statement of the stateful sizes, and flure myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to turnesh such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most increduous, that CONSUMPTON way and "CAN BE CURED," if this medicine is resorted to in time. As Consumnion, lowever is a TION may and "CAN BE CURED." if this medicine is resorted to in line. As Consumption, however is a disease which differs much in the severity of its symptoms, and the expidity of its progress, and has long baffed the skill of physicians it cannot be supposed that this or any other remedy is capable of effecting a cure in overy case and, in every stage of the disease; in the contrary, we must expect it to fail sometimes, a circumstance which occurs daily, with all the most valuable remedies we possess, for the most simple diseases. The proprietor submits the following testimonials in its favor from citizens of this County, well known to the public.

Herr Alexander, the conjuror, is astonishing the people of New York with his tricks. A New York paper notices one of them as follows:

Herr Alexander attired in a magnificent tunic, embroidered with gold, mounted a stool, which that no connection with the floor. He showed that he had nothing concealed about his person. Then taking a red shawl which is spread out, he produced in succession, a glassi wase full of gold fish, swimming in water which reached the brim, and about half a dozen pigeons, which flow about a found about half a dozen pigeons, which flow about the energy of the continue of the produced in succession, and produced in succession.

For Sale. For Sale.

1671 ACRES 19 Perches and allowance of 6 per 1671 cent. of first rate farming Lands, located in Jents Township, Jefferson; county, finely Timbered and Watered; and having several Mill sites upon them. Two main roads run urough the lands, and improved Farms adjoin, while Saw and Grist Mills are in the immediate neighborhood. This land was selected by a gentlemn of experienced judgment, and is considered by judges to be one of the best tracts in the county. Its proximity to the Clarion and Allegheny rivers, and numerous navigable streams, and the proposed Railroad to Pittsburg and Erie, renders it highly desirable as an investment at present prices. Railroad to Pittsburg and Erie, renders it highly desirable as no investment at present prices.

Abounding in Iron Ore and Bituminous Coal of fine quality, it is believed to present one of the most advantageous locations for Iron Works in West Pennsylvania. The present owner purchased with a view of erecting such Works, but engagements in another quarter obliges him with great reluctance to forego his intention. Maps will be shown, and every information given by the undersigned. The lands are patented, and the titles and quality will be warranted, and sold free and clear of all incumbrance.

Diffusion of Useful Knowledge. Twenty Millions of Inhabitants in the United States. A N effort is now making to circulate one million of copies of the PENNY MAGAZINE, a re-issue of which commenced in May, 1845. This splendid and useful work contains 4000 Imperial Octavo Pages and Two Thousand Engravings! and forms a complete library within itself.

THE PENNY MAGAZINE, was originally issued under the direction of the "Society for the diffusion of Useful Knowledge," and is unquestionably the most entertaining and useful of all the popular works which has ever appeared in any age, or in any language. Its pages embrace every subject in the wide field of human knowledge, and as every article, whether ery article, whether On Science, History, Biography, Literature of the Arts,

the Arls, passed the careful scrutiny and critical ordeal of a committee of learned men, the work may be placed in the hands of the youth of the Country, without danger or distrust. In England

More than 80,000 Copies More than 80,000 Copies of the monthly parts were disposed of during the first year of its publication. In the United States, the work has sequired great popularity, and since the commencement of this re-issue, the demand for each succeeding Number has increased with unparalleled rapidity, so that a second, third and even fourth edition of the early numbers has been called for. It is universally acknowledged to be the most valuable and entertaining tamily work, for all classes, which has ever been published. The original cost of the Stereotyping and Engraving to the London publishers was $25,000.
The American re-issue is printed on good paper, and well done up in handsome paper covers, and issued in 24 parls, at 25 cents each.

The Parts average 150 meres each, and will in future

The Parts average 170 pages each, and will in future be published on the 15th of each month. It is an extra venient. A very small pipe would be sufficient. The re-print of the London edition, without alteration or abridgment, being printed from the London stereotype being the page enriching then page which it is not well as the page and the plates.

Three Parts of the Work, comprise one year of the Original Publication, and can be had at BANAN'S Book Store. Pottsville, At the publisher's prices, who has been appointed Agent for the sale of the work in Schuylkill County. May 30th, 1840.

Inrigation or Gardens.-We do not know that this has ever been practiced systimatically or on an extended scale; although there are certainly facts to show its advantages. The practice of he Dutch Gardeners in freely and constantly watering many of their vegetable crops, and their consequent fine growth are well known. During the present season we had a row of Antwerp rasp. berries which exhibited the same influence in a strong light. A part of the row stood under the eves of a wood house and on the north side of the building, and another part stood in open ground, away from the drippings, but from its advantageous position was subjected to much freer cultivaroof upon the plants was very striking throughout the summer, and at the present time-mid-autumn -these are at least triple the size of the others in open ground.

S. Williams, of Waterloo, whose garden was cloyey, during the dry hot weather a few years ago, let in the water through small gutters, he tween the hills and rows of vegetables. 'Its general influence, says he, was instantaneous; in ten days my early potatoes grew two thirds in size. in fact I had never been able to get anything like a fair yield of potatoes in this garden before. cumbers grew equ ally fast; and even beans and marrowfat peas bore testimony to its quickening

McIntosh mentions another case of the benefit of water on Strawberries. Strawberry beds, three feet wide, were kept watered by trenches between them, about nine wide, the trenches being lined with brick, forming four inch walls on each side, and the depth cough to two or three courses of brick. They were laid without mortar, and were for the purpose of preserving the sides of the trenches and for neatness. Water was supplied by:a pump, when the ground was dry and the plants we e in fruit. A much greater crop was thus obtained, and the plants continued bearing much longer than in beds where there were no trenches for water. This was in the cool and moist climate of England. How much more striking would be the result in this country. there is not the slightest question that where the watere is at command, either from streams, ponds by pumping with hand or elevating by wind, the finest results would be produced. The water might be distributed by means of trenches, as already described, or by those furnished with a nose like that of a watering pot; the latter would, doubtless, be much the best and most conpoults have acquired their first feathers, they are ods are resorted to. Some feed them on barley meal mixed with skim milk, and confine them in hen-coop during this time; others merely confine them to a house; while a third class allow them to run quite at liberty; which latter practice, from the experience of those on whose juligment we can most rely, is by far the best method. Care should, however be taken to feed them abundantly before they are allowed to range about in the morning, and a meal should also be prepared for tnem at mid-day; to which they will generally repair homewards of their own accord. They should be fed at night, before roosting, with oat meal and skim-mik; and a day or two previous to their being killed, they should cat oats exclu-sively. We have found from experience, that when turkeys are purchased for the table, and coopplentifully they may be supplied with food and lose flesh. When feeding them for use, a change of food will also be found beneficial. Boiled carrots will also be found beneficial. Builed carrots and Swedish turnips, or potatoes mixed with a little barley or out-meal, will be greedily taken by them. A cruel method is practiced by some to render turkeys very fat, which is termed cramming. This is done by forming a paste of crumbs of bread, flour, minced suet, and sweet milk, or even cream, into small balls about the bulk of a marble, which is passed over the throat after full Sulphunic Acid in Boxes .- A correspondent inquires which is best to mix with sulphuric acid raw or boiled bones ! There are various opinions at the present day as to the propriety of boiling bones or not before they, are used; this is certain that in all manures you apply to the soil, they should contain certain elements of the plants you wish to produce from the land, as well as stimulants to vital action. Now, in the oil and fat, &c. in and about hones, and which are removed by boiling, are found carbon, oxygen, and hydrogen -elements ever present in all vegetable maters; by combining the oily and fatty matter with sulphuric acid, you do not destroy those elementary principles, you only cause them to form new combinations; and when they are applied to the land, either in the original form or the new state the vital process of vegetation remodels just suffi-cient for them of the different elements which the plant requires, and no more. Therefore all your chemical changes produced by preparing artificial manures, if they be good, only tend to make this food for plants in a more ready state for being absorbed into the plant itself. Mr. Huxtable recommends sulphuric acid to be poured on animal matter, for making an artificial manure equal to guano, The land apparently best adapted for receiving the bone with the sulphuric acid, is the same as that where bones in the simple state are found to be most beneficial, viz., on light, dry, sandy, peaty soils, light loams, &c., can eat them with care, and they will do it if not fed liberally with other fodder. ' When thistles abound, a pretty good grop will be obtained; af-In mowing, the grass destroys them; but in pas-
