Che Other Day.

BY CHARLES SWAIN. It seems, love, but the other day.
Since thou and I were friends together;
And yet we've trod a toilsome way.
And wrestlid off, with storing weather.
I see thee in the spring of years.
Ere check or curl, hath known decay;
And there's a maste in wine ears.
As sweet as heard sin other day!

Affection, take a rearrant more day.

Affection, take a rambow, bends.
Above the past, to glad my gaze.

And sometiging still of beauty lends:
To memoral's face of other days;
Within my heart there seems to beat.
That lighter, happier heart of youth,
When looks were sired, and lips were sweet,
And love's world seemed a world of truth.

Within this inner heart of mine A thousand golden fin-ies throng, And whispers of a tune divine as ne winspers of a tune divine
Appeal with half forgotten tongue;
I know I feel 't is tune dream,
That thou art old and haft grey,
And that, however, bein Magner,
We are not as the Ther day.

Not as the other day-when flowers Shock fragrance on our joy our track, When love could verge reput the hours.

When love could wever count the nours, And hepe never dream't of looking back; When, if the world had been our own. We thought how chanced should be its state. Then every cut should be a litting.

The poor as happy as the great? When we'd that scheme which love imparts, That chaincall interests to bind-The fellowsips of human beauts, . The federation of mankind!
And though with us time travels on,
Sill relies of our youth remain.
As some flowers, when their spring is gone,
Yet, late in antumn, shoom again.

Then, though it seem a trifling space. Since youth, and love, and hope were ours Stree youth, and love, and nope were out yet those who give us most may trace. The braid of Age and our flowers. Thus day be day life's acce grow; The sande, which hourly fall and climb, Mark centuries in their reaseless flow, And cast the destinies of time:

Medicines. ANOTHER ASTONISHING CURE

THE CU ES PERFORMED BY DR. SWAYNE'S Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry Are unsurpassed by any Medicine ever discovered.

Croup, Broken Constitution, Sore Throat, Norvous Debility, and all Diecasts of the Throat, Herast, and Lungs; the most effectual and speedy cure ever known for for any of the above discases, is

DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY. EVIDENCE INDISPUTABLE.

EVIDENCE INDISPUT ABLE.

Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir:—I feel it a debt of gratitude due you—and a duty to the afflicted generally in offer my humble testimony, in favor of your Compound Syrup of Prunus Virginia, or Wild Cherry, or rather of its medical virtues. Some three years since, I was violently attacked with cold and inflummation of the Lungs, which was accompanied with a very distressing cough, pain in the breast and head; a very considerable discharge of offensive mucus from the lungs, frequent from them, especially upon changes of weather, however slight. At first I felt no alarn about my condition, but was pretty soon convinced that I was accided to going into consumption. I grew daily weaker, siderable discharge of offensive mucus from the lungs, frequent from them, especially upon changes of weather, however slight. At first I felt no alarm about my condition, but was pretty soon convinced that I was rapidly going into consumption. I grew daily weaker, and at length was scarcely able to walk about, or speak alove a whisper, such was the exceeding weak-hes of my lurgs. During this time I had, tried various preparations and prescriptions, but found no relief e-growing all the time worse. Just here I was advised and persuaded by a dear friend in Wilmington to make a trial of your Syrup of Wild Cherry; I must confess that previously, I had been prejudiced against patent medicines, and an still against those coming out of the hands of empirics, but understanding your claims to the profession and practice of medicine, and having implicit faith in the say-so of my friend, I forthwith parchased of Dr Shaw, one of your agents, a few bottles, and commenced its use. My disease at this time, was of 20 or 21 months standing, consequently was deeply seated. In therefore required time and a number of bottles to effect a cure in my case; I found, however, considerable relieftfrom the use of the first four or five bottles. But bging a public speaker, I frequently attempted to preach with my increasing strength and health, and thereby reputive d times vessels that had already began to heal; in this way, doubtles, my cure was greatly retarded. In consequence of acting thus imprudently, I had to use 12 or 15 bottles before I was perfectly restored. I have no question a much smaller number of bottles would have made me sound, but for the above indiscretion; The Sydup allayed the feverish habit, done away the distressing cough, put a stop to the discharge of matter from the lungs, and gave them and the entre system good health. Thanks be to God, who is the scource of all health, and to'Dr. Swayne for it. I would recommend this Syrup to all persons who may be atfected with colds, cough or consumption. I verily believe it

PATENT METALLIC ROPES. FOR THE USE OF MINES, RAILWAYS, &c. For sale, or imported to order, by the subscriber.

THESE Ropes are now almost exclusively used in the Colliaries and on the Railways in Great Britan, and are found to be greatly superior to Hempenones as regards safety, durability and economy.

The Patent Wire Ropee, have proved to be still in good coudition after three year's service, in the same situation where the Hempen ones, previously used, of double the size and weight would wear out in nine or ten months. They have been used for almost every purpose to which Hempen Ropes and chainshave been applied. Mines, Railways, Heavy Cranes, Standing Rigging, Window Cords, Lightning Conductors, Signal Halyards, Tiller Ropes, &c. They are made either of Iron or Copper Wire, and in cases of much exposure to dampness, of Calvanized Wire.

Testimonials from the most eminent Engineers in Encland can be shown as to their efficiency, and any additional information required respecting the different descriptions and application will be given by ALFRED F. REMP, 75 Broad et., New York, Sold Agent in the United States.

Two main roads run through the lands, and improved Farms adjoin, while Saw and Grist Mills are in the immediate neighborhood. This land was selected by a gentleman of experienced juttement, and its considered by judges to be one of the best tracts in the county. Its proximity to the Claring and Allegheny rivers, and numerous navigable streams, and the proposed Railroad to Pittsburg and Eric renders it highly desirable as an investment at present prices.

Abounding in Iron Ore and Bituminous Coal of fine quality, it is believed to present one of the most advantageous locations for Iron Works in West Pennsylvania. The present owner purchased with a view of erecting such Works, but chaggenbents in another quarter obliges him with great reluctance to forego his intention. Maps will be shown, and every information given by the undersigned. The lands are patented, and the titles and quality will be warranked, and sold free and clear of all incumbrance.

PIANOS.

THE subscriber respectfully invites the public to call at Mr. Witfield's Store, Centre street, and examine his assortment of C. Meyer's GRAND ACTION PIANOS of Philadelphia:

The instruments are highly approved of by the most eminent Professors and Composers of music. For qualities of time, touch, and keeping in time up, to concert pitch, they cannot be surpassed by either American or European Pianos. They are chosen, by all musical stars for their concerts, such as Madriffee Castellan, Leopold de Meyer, Vieux Temps, Burk, Wallace, Templeton and many others; they are used for 200 or 300 concerts every year. They have also received the first premiums of the three last exhibitions, and the last silver medal by the Franklin Institute was awarded to them. The subscriber warrants these instruments for the year. He keeps them constantly on hand and sells othem at the lowest manufacturer's prices on reasonable terms. All orders from abroad will be promptly attended to.

THE POTATO ROT

LIWRENCEVILLE, Aug. 16, 1846. Mr. Biddle .- This disease, which, like the small pox or cholera among the human family, has siezed the potatoes of both hemispheres, has attracted universal attention. I send you the results of three experiments, one of my own, and two of my nearest neighbors, hoping that some light will be thrown upon subject. I shall carefully reveal every fact in the case, as I have specially turned my attention to the subject this season. I here give it you.

Experiment No. 1.—A small patch of new ground cleared last fall, this being the first crop.

LATE CLEMENS BRAKER.

years, under the impression that they will grow any where, so that they are planted and hoed once or twice. Thus God's law was broken—By the sweat of thy face thou shall eat tread—and the penalty comes in the shape of the potato rot. Let our farmers keep the law and the penalty will be removed. I have also been assured by two of my friends who tried it this year with wonderful success, that the following plan will remove all worms from the Peach tree : Take quick lime, slake it, add water until it is of the consistency of cream, put in a good handful of salt, bare the root, pour on the mixture, cover up lightly with earth not too rich, and the tree will thrive wond rfully. This, universally preached, would lower the price of peaches in your market 50 per cent. Yours, &c.

Historicus. THE PRESERVATION OF BOOFS, -In the country, where numerous buildings are indispensible for the farmer, and where the roots are generally of-wood, it is a matter of great importance to preserve them as long as possible. Whenever they need repairing, or to be laid anew, they make a heavy item in the year's expenses. following from the Furmer and Mechanic, may prove useful: A writer in the Boston Cultivator, referring to wooden roofs and their rapid decay, gives the following cheap and simple method of preserving them for many years. He observes:—'A friend of mine, who unites much close observation with large experience in building, states that the best preservative of shingles that has come within his knowledge, is to soak them in an alkaline solution of quick lime before they are put on. The plan adopted by him for the purpose, is to prepare a box in which to dissolve the lime, similar to that used by plasterors, and have it elevated, so as to permit the lime water to be drawn from it, into an other box in which the shingles are to be placed that are intended to be impregnated with the alkaline solution. A sufficient quantity of quick lime is put in the upper box, which is slak duced to a thin wash, and well stirred up, when it is permitted to settle. The shingles are set on end, with their butts down, in the lower box, which is sufficiently deep to permit the parts which will be exposed to the weather, when they are put on in courses, to become soaked, by drawing down the alkaline lime water from the upper box into the one below in which they are placed. They should remain in this solution for some hours, when they are removed and suffered to dry, and others substituted in the box to undergo the same operation before they

No part of white wash or lime should be permitted to pass into the lower box, it being the caustic alkaline solution of the lime only, which is beneficial; it is a powerful antisoptic, interposing powerful obstacles to the decay of wood or vegetable matter of any kind. The presence of the insoluble particles of the lime would tend to clog the pores and interstices of the wood, and impede or prevent the entrance of the alkaline solution of the lime, which is perfectly fluid and tran-

An old roof may have its usefulness extended for many years, by simply spreading pulverized quick lime over it, so as to form a very thin coat. of it on the roof; by the absorption of the dew, the alkaline solution will be formed, and will pen-etrate the shingles, which will be cleared from moss and preserved by it, and on the occurrence of a heavy rain the insoluble parts of the lime will be washed off leaving it clean.

The tendency of white wash to preserve wood from rotting, is universally acknowledged, but it should be borne in mind, that it is the alkaline solution of the lime, only, which has this tendency, and that gross, insoluble particles of the lime which remain for a time in the form of a scale on the surface to which it has been applied, has nothing to do with its antiseptic powers, and that where the design of its application is to preserve the wood only, it would better accomplish the object by being much more diluted than it generally is, that its alkaline quality would be more thoroughly absorbed than is usually the case. It is a very curious and interesting fact, that water at the freezing point dissolves twice as much of the alkaline ingredient of lime as boiling water does, so that the use of hot water to dissolve lime, is worse than useless.' FATTENING Hogs -It is good policy to commence fattening pretty early, for pork can be made at less cost in mild weather than in winter. At this season weeds from the garden and fields will aid a little, and sweet apples that have fallen will do more service in the hog pen than under the tree, where the worms that are in them would make their appearance next spring in the form of insects. Hogs are fond of variety, and in August and September they can be gratified at small cost .-Purslane, that now covers the ground in many gardens is greedily devoured by hogs, and who knows but this weed has as much power to fatten as the tops of corn have? Charcoal should be occasionally thrown into the pen; brimstone should be mixed in the liquid food, and a little meal improves sour milk and whey. When your sweet corn is full the corn may be cut up at the roots, and the whole may be cut fine with an axe. The cob will be caten with the corn, and the whole will prove economical food. Well fed hogs make better manure than half fed animals and now your harvest hurry is over you have time to add loam hat will make the pen smell sweeter than some kitchens you pass by.
