iann -- We learn by an extra from the Delaware (N. Y.) Express that a Mr. Jones one of the most respectable farmers in the town of Meredah, hes been committed for trial charged with the murger of his wife Louisa Jones. It appears that they lived very unitappily togethed and slept in different parts of the heave. On Saturday night the 27th ult., Jones called up his mother and sons, who lived close by, stating this his wife had falen down lates. When they reached the bouse they found her dead, and some of the neighbors were called in to lay her out. On the day of the funeral how-ever, some disatisfaction was manifested at the appearance of the wounds open deceased, and a vole taken whether to bury her or to have the coronac called. The latter was decided, upon, and a jury summoned, and the testimony of several thysis cians was conclusive that the deceased came to. her death from wounds inflicted upon her head by some person. [There were cleven wounds on dilstrument with an obtuse edge, perhaps a wagon hammer. The skull was broken in in several places in the region of the car, and part of one of the ears cut oil. I nese and other matters adduced, established the fact, beyond a queation, that de-ceased had been inhumanily murdered; and the jury tendered a verdict to that effect. Mr. Jones was arrested and the matter at once placed before the Grand Jury, then in ression, who found a true bill of indictment against him for murder. Mr, Jones issone of the best farmers in Meredith, is worth some five or six thousand dollars, and has always been considered a good and respectable citizen, though of a quick and irritable temperament and, as is the general expression of those why know him, is the last man, that would have been
