THE WIT OF A GERMAN LIWY FR. There are to the effect that a young man of Nuremberg who had no fortune, requested a lawyer, a friend of his, to recommend him to a family where he was a daily visiter, and where there was a handsome daughter who was to have a large fortune. The lawyer agreed; but the father of the young lady loved money, immediately asked what property the young man mad. The lawyer said he did not exactly know, but the would enquire. The next time he saw his young friend he asked him if he had any property at ail. 'No" replied be. 'Well,' said the lawyer, would you suffer any one to cut off your nose if he would give you 'twenty thousand dollars for it?' Not for the world?' 'I's well, replied the lawyer, I had a reason for asking. The next time he saw the girl's father, he said, ' have inquired at out this young man's cucumstances. He has indeed, no ready money, but he has a jewel for which, to my knowledge, he has been offered and refused twenty thousand dollars." This induced the old father to consent to the marriage, which accordingly took place; though it is said that in the sequel he often shook his head when he thought of the jewel .- Boston Transcript.

ARSAPARILLA & VEGETABLE BLOOD PILLS IN consequence of the increasing demand for Dr. Leidy's Blood Pilis, and the encouragement by the public in employing them, in preference to all others, the proprietor was obliged to have constructed a machine, which would make them more rapidly and with less labor, consequently less expense than heractore. Having effected so desirable an object, and that the public may share the benefits of such great improvement in Pill tasking, his boxes will henceforth contain FORTY PILLS IN A BOX,

IF PILLS ARE NECESSARY for purging or cleansing the stomach and bowels, for purifying the blood or fluids of the body, as an alternative for removing the causes of disease and arresting its progress, and as a Spring purifier these pills will be found more effectual than any other.

YOUNG AND OLD, MALE OR FEMALE, may avail times take them without change of living restraint from oc upation, or fear of taking cold from exposure to all kinds of weather, for they contain mercury or minerals, which are contained in other pills, and which make other pills so unsafe or danger out to take, and uncertain in their effects.

PERSONS OF ALL CONSTITUTIONS whether feeble or debilitated, or of robust and le enstitution, can take them without prostrating or de ifitating the system: they operate so easy and gentle of effectual, that little inconvenience is caused in taking them.

> WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTON And the best Medicine known to Man for the cure of Asthma, of every stage, Liver Complaints, Bronchitis, Julienza, Coursis, Coulds, Bleeding of the Iguags, Shortness of Breath, pains and weakness in the side, breast, &c., and all other diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

and all other diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

A VERY important disease over which this 'Balsam'
A exerts a very powerful influence, is that of a DISEASED JJVER. In this complaint it has undoubtedly proved more clicacious than any remedy inthertoremployed, and in numerous instances when patients had endured long and severe suffering from the disease, without receiving the deast benefit from various remedies, and; when MERCURY has been resorted to in vain, the use of this Balsam has restored the LIVER to a healthy action, and in many instances effected PERMANENT CURES, after every known-remedy had failed to produce this effect.
Besides its astonishing effect, in the disease above mentioned, we also find it a very effectual remedy in ASTHMA, a complaint in which it has been extensively used with decided success, even in cases of years standing.

It not only emanates from a regular Physician, but has also been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recommended. It is not my intention, therefore, either to cloak it in mystery, or in any way deceive the public by overrating its virtues; on the contrary, I shall simply endeavor to give a brief statement of its uccluness, and flatter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most incredulous, that Consumption may and 'CAN BE CURED,' if this medicine be resorted to in time.

that I an happy to communicate through vou the

it a privilege and duty to do so. I have been-troubled

OPINION OF A REGULAR PHYSICIAM.

Exter, Mc., Sept. 20, 1815.

This certifies that I have recommended the used of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two year past, and many bottles to my knowledge have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two cases where it, was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure.

E. BOYDEN, Physician at Exter Corner.

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine, are, in every respect, TRUE.

Beware of Counterfers and Imparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr. Wistar's Basam of Wild Cherry in all the disease for which it is recommended, curing many cases after the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large and increasing demand for it. This fact has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and iminitors to palm off spurious mixtures, of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam.

Two main roads run through the lands, and improved Farms adjoin, while Saw and Grist Mills are in the immediate neighborhood. This land was selected by a gentleman of experienced judgment; and is considered by judges to be one of the best tracts in the county. Its proximity to the Clarion and Allegheny rivers, and numerous navigable streams, and the proposed Railroad to Pittsburg and Erie, renders it highly desirable as an investment at present pricis.

Abounding in Iron Ore and Bituminhus Coal of fine quality, it is believed to present one of the most advantaneous locations for Iron Works in West Pennsylvania. The present owner purchased with a view of erecting sich Works, but engagements in another

Farmer's Department.

THE STRAWBERRY .- The case with which every farmer may obtain this delicious and valu-able fruit, should induce him to supply himself with all he wants. It is true we are at this month of the year abundantly furnished with peaches, plums, and pears; but the strawberry comes by the first of summer, even as far north as Albany. when nothing else is to be had. Why then should any one let the privilege escape of enjoying a plentiful supply? Now is the time to move in the matter and set out the plants.

Downing speaks of this fruit like a man who knows it well, when he says, 'Ripe blushing strawberries, eaten from the plant, or served with sugar and cream, are certainly Arcadian dainties with s true paradisical flavor, and fortunately they are so easily grown, that the poorest owner of a few feet of ground may have them in abundance.

Very few, comparatively, among the mass of our land owners, have undertaken the culture of the strawberry; and of those who have, many have partially failed from two causes, namely, neglecting good, rich, clean, and thorough culivations and neglecting to procure fine and productive varieties. As many bushels of strawberries as of corn, may be raised to an acre, and at an expense not much greater. If it were not so, the straw-berry cultimats of Cincinnati could not afford to pour into that city their hundreds of bushels, at a price of three or five cents a quart. One distinguished cultivator there, raised at the rate of five thousand quarts per acre; and another, who is the most extensively engaged in the business, brought into market four thousand quarts in a single day. The fortieth part of an acre would fafford a large family a most abundant supply during the strawberry season.

A great deal could be said on the cultivation and management of the strawberry. It may per-haps be sufficient here to state merely, that this plant to flourish, requires, like most other plants, a good, rich, mellow soil; and, like nearly all other plants, the soil for it must be kept clean and well cultivated. Who would expect to see a good crop of corn or of potatoes, from a promiscuous growth of these plants with weeds and grass? Strawberries should be planted in straight rows, about two or two and a quarter feet apart. These rows are as easily kept cultivated by a horse, as rows of potatoes or carrots. The runners, as they must be treated precisely as weeds, and kept hoed down, or at least should be fived three or four times a year. With such 'management success can be scarcely doubted.

Once in three years the runners may be allowed o fill in between the rows, and the old rows demolished, new ones being thus obtained without

The soil should be kept rich by yearly additions of manure in autumn.

The plants are usually set out in spring, and at the end of summer, or early in autumn .- Albany Cultivater.

Honses vs. Oxen in Agniculture. - In readng Skinner's essay on the Ox; in Clater's and Youatt's Cattle Doctor, (which, by the way, I would recommend to every farmer as almost indis-pensible.) I supposed that he gave the ox too. much preference over the horse, in regard to economy and usefulness as a beast of burden; and to satisfy myself of the fact, I commenced, one year ago last April, to keep an exact account of the work done, and the amount of food given to one pair of horses, and one yoke of oxen, on a farm of about one hundred acres of tillable land, setting down every Saturday night the number of miles travelled, the number of days worked, and the amount and kind of food consumed during the veek. The following is the result : The horses travelled 667 miles double; 2.154 miles single; worked on the farm 591 days dou-ble, 361 days single. Now, allowing 40 miles travel to be a day's work for a team, it would make 121 days the whole amount performed by one pair of horses in one year, which, at 31 75/a. day, would amount to $211. They were fed during that time, 105 bushels of oats, which, at 40 cents per bushel, smounts to $42; 47 bushels of as much work in a day as a pair of horses; if he s correct, then the balance in favor of oxen would Malden Bridge, Columbia co., June 24th, 1846.

But Mr. Skinner says a yoke of oxen will do

From the Germantown Telegraph. REARING AND MANAGEMENT OF POULTRY. Of late years much attention has been paid to the raising of poultry, especially of hens. We find in most of our agricultural journals, very definite. and precise rules laid down, and no small degree of empyricism exhibited by authors of a certain character, in relation to their treatment. Now it is evident that the hen, like all other domesticated fowls and animals, in order to be a source of profit to the owner, must receive attention; at least, she must be supplied with a sufficiency of food at proper seasons, and of the required kind and qualty; and she must also be provided with proper lodgings, where, at all seasons, she can be secure from the deliterious effects consequent upon sudden alterations of temperature, especially during the spring land fall. Those who keep hens for laying, merely, should provide themselves with a henery,' and never keep more than twenty hene and two cocks in one apartment. Suitable conveniencies for laying and feeding should he provided, and meat, lime, ashes, bone dust, and grain of various kinds, constantly supplied. The first is indispensible. If the hen be debarred the privilege of this important luxury, however liberally she may be supplied with grains, water, lime, &c &c., she will not be a source of much profit to the owner.

from market, to procure meat; but this difficulty is one admitting of easy remedy as fish furnish a very polateable substitute, and, in most localities, are easily obtained. When permitted to run at large, the hen ordinarily is her own caterer grasshoppers, worms and other insects supply her uaily food. When incarcerated, and debarred the privilege of seeking the gratification of her stomatic propensities,' it is necessary that the advantages she is thus deprived of by confinement, should be supplied by those by whom she is confined:-We seduously consult the tastes, habits, and propensities of our domestic animals, why not those of your fowls? We look to them as a source of profit, and expect every hen fairly to 'pay her way.' We have tound buckwheat to be one of the best grains for feeding hens, in a state of confinement that can be supplied. As it contains a larger per centum of lime, than corn or wheat, it is consequently much better adapted to their wants, and is ilways, in a state of health, partaken of with avidity by hen's and other fowls.
