HAAS' EXPECTORANT, FOR THE CURE OF Consumption, Coughs, Colds, &c. TO THE PUBLICIT

TN PRESENTING this valuable medicine to the public as a remedy for Consumption, and Pulmonary Diseases in general, I have been actuated solely by the great success attending its use in my own immediate neighborhood, and a desire to benefit the affacted. I shaft simply endeavor to give a brief statement of its lacounters, and dater myself that its surprising editeacy will enable me to furnish such proofs of its virtues as will satisfy the most increditions, that CONSUMPTION may and "CAN BE CURED," if this medicine is resorted to in time. As Consumption, however is a disease which differs much in the severity of its sympoms, and the rapidity of its progress, and has long halfied the skill of physicians at cannot be supposed that this or any other remedy is capable of, effecting a cure in every case and in every stage of the disease; an the contrary, we must expect it to fail sometimes, a sircumstance which occurs daily with all the most valtable remedies we hossess, for the most simple disease; arable remedies we possess, for the most simple diseases. The proprietor submits the following testimonials in its favor from citizens of this County, welf known in its favor from citizens of this Gounty, well krown to the public.

Mr. W. J. Haas, Having been afflicted for the last thirty years with Consumption, and having had the advice of some of the mostelminent Physicians, and was given up-as incurable. I was induced to make trial of your invaluable Expectionant, and am happy to say that I am entirely cured, and am attending to my dility occupation as though I had never been afflicted. Previous to taking your EXPECTORANT, I could not, if I had been so disposed, do anything at my trade. I have since resommended it to several of my friends, and particularly, one case of CONFIGNED CONSUMPTION, and am hapy to state that in every instance it had the desired effect. Yours respectfully

BY MRS. S. J. HALE. Gently, as lillies shed their leaves,
When summer suns are fair.
The feathery snow comes floating down,
Like blossoms in the air;
And o'erine earth, like angel's wing,
Untilding white and pure.
It shines the shield of power diving,
When Lith may read it sure.
That its who rules the year can bring,
The life, the loveliness of Spring.

And when the bloak and storm rob'd day,
Seemed sealed with cares and fears,
Off through his prison-house of clouds,
'The serting sun appears,'
And to the pensive watcher's gaze,
A beam of glory bears,
Which in the moonlide summer's prime, He notes admine summer sprine,
He nover, never wears;
Like Hope, that pour in light most clear
When grief's dark clouds are gathering near.

Even, the winds, like waving hosts,
The dark night fills with dread,
Still Love may turn the graial fire,
The minds rich banquet spread;
And as life's storm of sorrow drew
Kind hearts more kindly near,
So Nature's coldstern frowns will make
Dear home more desply dear—
Thus Farrn, and Hopf, and Love are given,
In Winter Pictures, limned by Heaven. - Allatrimony.

"VICTORY on CRIPPLE,"-A good story is told of a would-be volunteer, who became much discumfited by reading on one of the banners, 'Victory or Death." 'Victory is a good thing, said he, but why put it Victory or Death; put it Victory or Cripple, and I'll go that.'

Inox Statistics .- My late reading results in some information which I will put down whilst I yet have leisure. A' London letter of the 18th November reports extensive sales of all sorts of British Iron at prices that were not previously obtainable. The London and York Railway Co. had appeared in the market as buyers of rails to the extent of 70,000 tons, and various other orders had been in the market for foreign as well as home account, which has had the effect of causing the iron masters to decline entering into contracts at previous rates. It was therefore confidently anticipated that a very important advance will take place upon this article before the close of the year -some refused under £11

A Liverpool letter of thesame date (18th) says orders are now in the market for about 100.000 ton to be given out before the 1st January, 1848. which is three months of the make of Great Britain. This quantity, added to the extensive or-ders on hand, in process of execution, make the non masters very independent, and no reduction can be reasonably expected. The demand for Iron for other purposes is rather increasing, and a good deal has lately been done in Boiler Iron and hest Bar Iron. Those who defer ordering under the expectation that a reduction in price may take place in a short period, will most probably be disappointed. The market is in a healthy state.
