SCIENTIFIC AGRICULTURE .- The Bal-ing, and which was raised under circumstances showing what good management may effect in the agricultural line. The wheat in question was the product of a field which, a short time since, was part of the waste common that had been uncultivated for many years, and was deemed to be too poor and worn, out to yield anything. After en-closing it, the present owner jut lime upon it in the proportion of 100 bushels to the acre, and sub-sequently followed the lime with a liberal application of stable manure." The field, thus prepared, was sowed with wheat, and returned a crop of the

that the previous occupant of the farm, who made the manures from his own materials, had no right to remove it. This is directly opposed, we believe, to a decision of the Supreme Court of Mas-
