THE MINERS' JOURNAL, AND POTTSVILLE GENERAL ADVERTISER.

THE TOBACCO WORM.

With ear-locks soapy and long,
With whiskers frizzled and red,
A loafer sat with a quid in his mouth,
A spitting, and muttering said—
Work—work—work,
These hands shall never pursue,
While I can obtain a long nine to smoke,
Or a plug of tobacco to chew.

And he spits—spits—spits,
When moon is breaking bright;
Spits—spits—spits,
When Sol has climbed his height;
Spits—spits—spits,
With day's expiring gleam,
And supperizes, falling asleep on a bench,
Keeps spitting away in his dream.

At market, church, or mill,
In business or prayer—
Stage coaches, cars, and barber shops,
Bar-rooms, and everywhere—
He spits—spits—spits,
Evening, noon, and morn—
And snuffs, and puffs, and blows his nose,
As a fisherman blows his horn.

Ye dames who mean to wed,
Come listen to my lay—
Your charms from all tobacco worms,
Forever turn away;
But if you wear the yoke,
With resignation wear it—
Nor sulk, nor scold, nor get the blues;
But if he smokes, and snuffs and chews,
Till pigtail quids are over shoes,
Dear madam, grin and bear it!

Wit and Humor.

JARVIS, THE PAINTRE.—This eccentric individual was very fond of giving dinner-parties, and on such occasions was the life and soul of the company. He once gave a party to some Southern gentlemen, and, as usual, the tables groaned with all the luxuries the market afforded, but were woefully deficient in the ordinary concomitants wherewith to make away with such a repast, such as knives without handles, forks with one prong, no tumblers, decanters there were none, good wine was provided, but was placed on the tables in black bottles, and for want of a corkscrew, a fork was used to draw the cork, and in case it broke, it was unceremoniously jammed into the bottle. At this dinner were several distinguished gentlemen of the city of New-York—amongst them Pierre C. Van Wyck, the then Recorder of the city, who, after being seated, called out—

"Mr. Jarvis, let me have a glass of water, or pale ale."

"John!" said the painter, "fetch the Recorder the brandy bottle."

"No, no," quickly exclaimed Van Wyck, "I do not want brandy, I want a glass of pale ale."

"John fetch the Recorder some pale ale, be quick, d'ye hear?"

John departed. Some time elapsed, and the old gentleman becoming very impatient, at length said—

"Mr. Jarvis, I think I asked for some ale."

"Yes, yes," said Jarvis, "John why don't you bring the ale?"

John appeared, "why—why."—

"Why, what!" exclaimed the painter in a passion.

"Why there's no tumbler, sir."

"No tumbler!" furiously returned the artist—"then d—n it, throw the soap out of my shaving cup!—be quick!"

AT A LOSS FOR SOCIETY.—"Would you believe it, aunt," exclaimed a pale-faced young lady of the upper ten, "would you believe it!—Uncle Solomon here, tells me that the ladies out West actually speak to the tradesmen and retail store-keepers! They must be sadly in want of society; mus'nt they?"

"Humph, yes," interposed uncle Solomon as "they are so badly off for society, my dear, as your father was when he pulled radishes and asparagus for a living, and your mother sold them in the old fly market—ha, ha—fine society, humph!"

Miss Polly Dolly Adeline fainted, and her aunt was visible in the next room.—Fact.

POSTHUMOUS WIT.—Dr. Jasper Main, who lived in the reign of James I., of England, was celebrated as a scholar and a wit. He displayed through life a strong propensity for innocent raillery and practical jokes. Just before he expired, he told a servant with a grin, that he had bequeathed to him something in an old trunk that would make him drink! The servant, as soon as his master was dead, impatiently opened the trunk, expecting of course to find a heap of treasure; but, alas! his disappointment was great at finding nothing in the trunk but a red herring!

A COMPLIMENT OVER THE LEFT.—Peter Davidson was the ugliest man in Shropshire.—Once at a public ball a beautiful woman, who had been several times pressed to dance, and had refused, intimated that she should like to dance with Peter. Peter believed that she had fallen in love with him, and in a very earnest way asked why she had selected him from the rest of the company! "Because, sir," she said, "my husband desired me to select a partner who could not possibly make him jealous."

MRS. PARTINGTON AGAIN.—"Will you have a Daily Sun?" said a newsboy to Mrs. Partington.

"Will I have a daily sun? Why, you little scape-grace! How dare you insinuate against a lone woman from home! No, indeed, I guess I won't have a daily sun. My poor dear man used to complain awfully when I presented him with a little upstart imp!" and the old lady called for the old turkey-tail fan to keep from swooning.

AN ARKANSIAN'S BAGGAGE.—"Boy, run up stairs to No. 20, and bring down my baggage—hurry, I'm about moving," said a tall Arkansas meat-axe looking person to a waiter at one of our crack hotels.

"What is your baggage, massa, and what is he?"

"Why, three pistols, a pack of cards, a bowie knife and a shirt. You'll find them all under my pillow."

ANECDOTE OF DEAN SWIFT.—Swift preached an assize sermon, and in the course of it was severe upon the lawyers for pleading against their conscience. After dinner a young counsel said some severe things upon the clergy, and did not doubt that were the devil to die, a parson might be found to preach his funeral sermon."

"Yes," said Swift "I would give the devil his due, as I did his children this morning."

POLITICAL PRUDENCE.—Wise men say nothing in dangerous times. The lion called the sheep to ask her if his breath smelt: she said 'Aye,' and he bit off her head for a foe. He called the wolf, and asked him. He said 'No,' and he tore him to pieces for a flatterer. At last he called for the fox and asked him. 'Truly,' said he, 'I have got a cold, and cannot smell.'

CRABS AND PHILOSOPHY.—Philosophers are puzzled to tell why a crab walks backward.—The true cause is as follows; the crab was the son of a lobster—his daddy told him to do some work, and not let him see his face till it was done. Accordingly, the crab, not being able to achieve the task required of him, always approached his daddy backwards, so that he need not see his face, and all his generations have been backward ever since. Strange, is'n't it!

LEAVING IT OUT ALL NIGHT.—A loafer having got a heavy load on, fetched up against the side of a house which had been newly painted. Shoving himself clear by a vigorous effort, he took one glimpse at his shoulder, another at the house, and a third at his hands, and exclaimed, "Well that's a darned careless tick in whoever painted that house, to leave it stand out all night for people to run against!"

A STREET CONFAB.—"Peter Jumbo, had you seen a cow widout any horns go past here to-day?"

"No, Quomino, I no see 'em. Why you ax dat?"

"Bekase I lose my cow last night, and dar was sich a high wind, I 'spect dat it blow her horns off."

GONE TO WHEELING.—A man who had set up business with a wheel-barrow, was met in the street by one who said—"Is that you, Tom? I thought you were going out of town."

"That's true," was the answer; you see I have gone to Wheeling."

DRAPER AND TAILOR,
No. 2, Arcade, Norwegian street, Pottsville,

BEGS leave to inform his old patrons and the public generally that he still continues to be in business at his old stand, where he is prepared to make up garments in the very neatest style and latest fashions of the day. From his past experience in business throughout the United States, he flatters himself that he is inferior to nobody in his line of business. He therefore hopes to receive a portion of the public patronage. All garments entrusted to him will be made up in the neatest style, and at the very shortest notice, warranted to fit or no pay. Wanted, a BOY to learn the above business. [Nov13 47-6 tf

Real Estate for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale his plantation situate in Wayne township, Schuylkill county, immediately opposite Friedensburg, adjoining lands of Michael Fritz and Jacob Faust, containing 56 acres and 100 perches of land, which he has recently cleared with the best chestnut timber to be found in the neighborhood, and the remainder cleared and under cultivation, of which a good portion is meadow land. This property presents inducements for speculation in rail road sills and cord wood, as several thousand of the former and a considerable quantity of the latter could be made on the premises. The property is distant 9 miles from Pottsville; 9 miles from Orwigsburg, and 9 miles from Pinegrove. The improvements consist of a one story double dwelling house and a frame barn. There is an excellent apple orchard of grafted trees upon it. A good title and possession will be given on the first of April next. For further particulars enquire of the subscriber on the premises. THE subscriber respectfully invites the public to call at Mr. Witfield's Store, Centre street, and examine his assortment of C. Meyer's GRAND ACTION PIANOS of Philadelphia.

The instruments are highly approved of by the most eminent Professors and Composers of music. For quality of tone, touch, and keeping in tune up to concert pitch, they cannot be surpassed by either American or European Pianos. They are chosen by all musical persons for their concerts, such as Madame Castellian, Leopold de Meyer, Vieux Tempe, Burk, Wallace, Templeton and many others; they are used for 200 or 300 concerts every year. They have also received the first premiums of the three last exhibitions, and the last silver medal by the Franklin Institute was awarded to them. The subscriber warrants these instruments for one year. He keeps them constantly on hand and sells others at the lowest manufacturer's prices on reasonable terms. R. C. Everett,

PRINCIPAL OF THE PHILA. SURGEON'S BANDAGE INSTITUTE,

No. 31, South 6th St, below Chesnut,

PHILADELPHIA,

Successfully treats by the application of BANDAGES, made under his direction, including Trusses, Abdominal Supporters, Lace Stockings, Suspensory Bandages, Shoulder Braces, and Bandages for deformities. He warrants the retention of the worst reducible Rupture by the use of his Patent Truss, (Patent granted March, 21, 1846) which gives a perfect support in every case, which can be varied in degree, and otherwise, by the wearer at pleasure. In its action as an excellent abdominal supporter, it tends to prevent Corpulency, and is recommended by the Medical Department on the 2d floor, under the charge of Mrs. Everett, (entrance by the private house door) by whom ladies are fitted with such Bandages as may be required. Notice, therefore, to be given in a newspaper published in this county of Cambria, and in each of the counties in which the heirs reside.

And now, to wit: At October term, 1847, the above rule, enlarged until the next term of said Court, to be held on the first Monday in January next, with notice to be given as above ordered.

Ebensburg, July 7th, 1847.

Cambria County ss.

I, Joseph McDonald, Clerk of the Orphans' Court of said county, do certify the foregoing to be a true extract from the proceedings of the Orphans' Court of Cambria county, at July and October terms, 1847. In testimony whereof I have set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court at Ebensburg, the 14th October, 1847.

J. McDONALD, Clerk.
