The ten Regiment bill is in statue quo, and will be defeated, in all probability, after all the members have defined their positions on the war, and emptied out the eloquence and patriotism which they have been carefully bottling up during the last three or four moone. So, this is about all we have to say.

Legislative Affaire.

A resolution has been offered in the House, die eting the Judiciary Committee to enquire into the expediency of reporting a bill to obviate the necessity of receiving judgments every five years by making them continue a lien until paid. If passed it will injure the lawyers, but certainly will be advantageous to the people.-There is a measure now before the Legislature, authorizing the making of a railroad from Wrightsville to Marietta, thence connecting the Harrisburg railwondert Mount Joy, in Lancaster County. The great Central railroad, as far as its benefits are calculated to extend to Philadelphia, would by this connexion, defeat the objects entertained by the Caledonia valued at $18,000. It comprises its friends. The trade of the road would turn off upon the Baltimore and Susquelianna railroads, and Tido Water Canal at Columbia, and would be three miles nearer to Baltimore than Philadelphia at either point. It would require but seven miles of milroad to unite the two roads, and all that remains to be done to deprive the citizens of Philadelphia of the vast benefits contemplated in the completion of this great improvement, is the authority of the Legislature to construct the road as desired. We may add, that the Bal-timore and Susquehanna railroad have had, for some time previous to the charter of the Central some time previous to the charter of the Central stine to be defended by posts conveniently lo-knew whom the cake would suit, and subscribed road, authority to extend their road from York to cated. Harrisburg. But this would be inconvenient and perhaps unprofitable in many respects, as it would encounter the expense of two branches, while the one at Columbia is amply sufficient for all the trade of the Susquehanna. At Minersville. on the 23d inst., Miss. SARAH ANN LEWIS, daughter of Mr. Henry W. Lewis, in the 34th year of her age.

In this afflictive dispensation of Providence, the surviving friends of the deceased are ineasureably consoled by the vopes and promises of the Gospel. She died in propect of a joynos immortality,

"Earth to earth we're laid her down; She has gone to claim her crown—
Crown of clorious blood bought splendor—
Annel hands to Heaven attend hor.
Though her body sleeps in dust,
Such the scutence of the Just;
Th' immortal mind with powers expanded
Is on the shores of glory landed."
A large concourse of persons at her funeral testified the respect and affection with which she was regarded in life, while the tears of many children exhibited a strong at tachment to their valued teacher. May they meet in Heaven!
