Meyers' Grand-Action Planos. Meyers' Grand-Action Planos.

THE subscriber respectfully invites the public to call at Mr. Wittfield's assortment of C. Meyer's GRAND ACTION Planos of Philadelphia.

The instruments are highly approved of by the most eminent Professors and Composers of music. For qualities of tune, touch, and keeping in time up to concert pitch, they cannot be surpassed by elither American or European Pianos. They are chosen by all musical stars for their concerts, such as Madame Castellam, Leopold do Meyer, Vieux Temps, Burk, Waltace, Templeton and many others; they are used for 200 or 300 concerts every year. They have also received the first premiums of the three last exhibitions, and the lastaliver medal by the Frankfin Institute was awarded to them. The subscriber warrants these instruments for the vear. He keeps them constantly on hand and sellion other at the lowest manufacturer's prices on reasonableterms. All orders from abroad will be promptly attended to.

That what we have might pass away White we the words were saying. The heart has depths of bitterness As well as depths of pleasure, And those who love, love not unless They both of these can measure There is a time, and it will come,
When this they must discover;
And woe of either, then be dumb
To power that moved the Lover:

Some spots there are where each will fall; And each will need austaining; And suffering is the lot of all. And is of God's ordaining;

In bonds that none can sever,
If not to bless each changing light,
And strengthen each endeavour!

"The annoyances arising from my children, sir, are most intolerable. They are continually crying, and a box on the ear only makes them yell the louder,—and my wife joins in the concert.—The best of children are only less noisy and mischievous than the ordinary run. But all of them are subject to teething, whopping-cough, and measles, which render their existence a misery to themselves, and a burden to all around them, ex-cept to their mothers and nurses, who, I really believe, like the trouble which they thus occasion But their wretched complaints, are not only trou blesome, but expensive. Can soothing influence impart,
Or hope, to give,
A mawing casker doth encrust
The singgish wheels of fife—
In solitude my heart-stripts rust—
Must I contess my grief? I must

A Child's Laugh. "I love it, I love it the laugh of a child.
Now rippling and gentle, now merry and wild;
Ringing out on the sir with its innocent gush.
Like the thrill of a bird at the soft twillight's hush
Ploating up on the breeze like the tones of a bell.
Or the music that floats in the heart of a shell—
Oh: the laugh of a child, so wild ard so frue,
Is the merriest sound in the world for me!"

"There's something in a noble boy.
A brave, fire-hearted, carcless one.
With his unchecked, unbidden joy;
His dread of books and jove of fun.
And to his clear and ready smile,
Unshaded by a thought of guile,
And unpressed by sadness.
Which brings me to my childhood bash,
As if I tood its very track.
And felt its very gladness."

Consolation.

There's not a heath, however rude,
But hath some little flower
To brighten up its solitude,
And scent the evening hour! There's not a heart, however cast By grief and sorrow down. But hath some memory of the past To love and call his own: . A Sentimental Scane.

M Sentimental Scans.
Two lovers stood upon the shore
Of Massachusetts hay,
Bidding a sad farewell before,
seth tore, himself away.
"I'll marry you when I come back,
My Salty Ann." says be,
And then be took a little smask,
And went away to see. The Port The Port,
I the Port,
I the wrettled room,
Of the embers burning low—
Think of the scany gath.
Of the child of want and wos.
Ye whose bright cup of life
With wealth is running o'er,
Think of your brother man—
Believe him from your store,

Love True, gentle love is like the summer dew.
Which falls around when all is still and hush,
And falls unseen until its tright drops strew
With doors, heth and flower and bank and bush.
Oh, love—which, womanhood is in the flush,
Ard man's a your gaving unsport of thing.
His first breathed word, and her half-conscious blosk,
Are fair as light in heaven or flowers in spring.

Hezameter Outdane. Oh: lady hear thy lover sigh.

No triter heart there is than mine;

Bread complished in your eye.

Then why not say at once, It've kept you walting a long time, and if you'll. have patience till I can get a wedding dress made, I'll be thine:

To the Laborer. A glorious man: and thy renown shall be Borne by the winds and waters through all time. While there's a keel to carre it on the sea. From clime to clime. e rom clime to clime.
