A Card to Male Readers. To those who intend visiting Phaladelphia to make purclusse, it is important to know where it can be done to the heat advantage. Such as are about to buy IAT for their own heads, or by the case to sell again, are respectfully informed that there is an establishment at No. 1, Strawberry street, on the second floor, conducted by E. Da-MAI, on the cash system entirely, where IAT's of the best materials, and of the latest fashion, can positively be obtained at from one to two dollars less them at the showy and extravagant stores in the fashionable streets, not fit of the city, where rents are from one to three thousand in the same and the of the city, where rents are from one to three thousand dollars nor annum!

At this establishment, on account of locating himself in a his attent, and up stains, the proprietor procures his store at the low rents of one hundred dollars. The vast difference, in the profils which there must be between the two descriptions of stores, every one can answer!

A visit is earnestly solicited, as it is certain no one will ever regret doing so.

This is an error, axising most likely from the common notion that the country is a confederacy of republics, which wrested its freedom from surrounding despoisms. It is one thing to throw off a foreign yoke, and another to establish internal freedom. Switzerland at the gresent day, with all its wonderful industry and spirit of liberality in matters of international trade, is, in point of fact, a cluster of little despotisms, the despots in each case being a majority of the population which oppress the minority—oppression on the score of religion and of birth. Ignorance, and selfishness—which is only a manifestation of ignorance—are conjuintly which the Chineso have discovered before them, only a manifestation of ignorance—are conjuntly which the Chinese have discovered before them, but which lie hidden in their books, and will reonly a manifestation of ignorance—are conjointly but which lie bidden in their books, and will reunder the common name of Swiss, three great European races meet and nestle about the heart of the Alps—the French from the west, the German from the north and east, and the Italian from the south —and the want of communication till of late years has kept these races spart and ignorant of each gion more marked. Two-thirds of the Swiss are Protestant, and the remaining one third Catholics; and the Protestant and Catholic cantons, as the recent civil war has shown, bate each other, as the hostile clans in the Highlands hated each other two hundred years ago. Besides, though Switz etland, compared with most countries, is a land of mountains, the greater part of it is enimposed of plains amidst the stupendous Alps. Two hours stiff climbing suffices to change from the neattimmed flower-garden and stuccoed cottage of the industrious artisan of Zurich, into the lofty hillcountry of Schweitz, where the mountaineer leads and the Chineses have distored in their books, and will remain there unknown unless a liberal and still minor of the days works, in which scintific end industrial methods, applicable to our excisal state and needs, are described and boried."
