Wit and Humor.

A Good Story .- Some years ago, when Chicago was in its infancy, a stranger took up quarters at the principal hotel, and inacribed his name on the register as "Mr. J.—, of St. Louis." For several days he remained there, engaged in transacting the business which had brought him to the place, and from his exceedingly plain transacting the grapest angers and stransacting the transacting the grapest angers and stransacting the stransa dress, manners, and general appearance, attracted but little attention. Soon Mr. J. was suddenly seized with illness, during which he was sadly neglected by his host; and the servants, taking their tone from the master of the house, left him to shift for himself as he best could. Thus mattars went on, till one morning he was found past praying for. His papers were then examined, that the sad intelligence might be communicated to his friends, when, to the surprise of all, he was found to be one of the wealthiest men in the western country. Arrangements were accordingly made for the funeral; but, before the last rites were performed, the subject came to life sgain, having been the victim of catalepsy, instead of the trerim King of Terrors." All were performed. the "grim King of Terrora." All were overjoyed at his fortunate escape from so dreadful a fate, and from that ime were profuse in their expressions of solicitude, clicited, however, if we may judge by "documentary evidence," rather than by any personal regard. At length some one ventured to ask how things appeared to him while in his trance, to which he thus replied:

trance, to which he thus replied:

"I thought I had come to the river of death, where I met an angle, who handed me a jewel to serve as a pass to the other side. On giving this to the ferryman, I received from him another, which carried me forward muther stage in my journey. Going on thus, for several stages, receiving at the termination of each a ticket for the succeeding one, I at last reached the gate of the heavenly city. There I found St. Peter, who opened the door at my summons, pipe in mouth, seated by a small table, on which stood a goodly mag of steaming whiskey toddy. "Good morning, St. Peter," said I.

"My name is J-....

"I died at Chengo, in Il inois."
"I beg your pardon, St. Peter, but have you a map of the United States here!"
"Yes, sir."
"Allow me to look at it."
"Certainly, sir." With that he handed down a splendid atlas, and I painted out Chicago on the sape.
"All right, sir," said he alter a moment's pauce."
"It's there, sure enough, so walk in, sir; but I'll be bitst if you ain't the first man that has ever come here from that place!"

Thus ended Mr. J.—'s account of his fransifion state; and no more questions were asked.

TO THE PUBLIC!!
IN PRESENTING this valuable medicane to the public as a remedy for Consumption, and Pulmonary biseases in general, I have been actuated solely by the great success attending its use in my own immediate regishorhood, and a desire to benefit the afficted, I distance and fiviter myself that its surprising efficacy will enable me to fushish such proofs of its writtees as will satisfy the most increditious, that CONSUMP-ITON may and "CAN BE URED," if this medicine is resorted to in time. As Consumption, however is a fisease which differs much in the serverity of its symptoms, and the rapidity of its progress, and has long baffed the akill of physicians it cannot be supposed that this or any other remedy is capable of effecting a cure in every case and in every stage of the disease; on the contrary, we must expect it to fail sometimes, a dirementance which occurs daily, with all the most valuable remedies we possess, for the most simple disease. Ritter's Compound Syrup

OF TAR AND WILD CHERRY.

THIS preparation is believed to be the best medicine
I now in use for the cure of diseases of the Chest, Lungs, Bronchial Fasanes, &c., while the low price at which it is furrambed, places it within the reach of all.
The following voluntary testimopial has been received from a genileman well-known in Philadelphia, engaged in the Dry Goods business in Market street:
Messrs. J. L. & B. J. Ritter:—Genilemen:—Your Compound Syrup of Tar & Wild Cherry, has cured me of a most severe Catarrh. I was so hoarse as to be unable to speak distinctly, and greatly oppressed in the Chest, besides having a tertible Cough. The first dose relieved me, and a single bottle cured me entirely.
Yours respectfully.
M. B. STAHLE.
This pleasant, safe, efficacious remedy is for sale at the low price of 25 cents per bottle, by storekeepers generally in this and adjoining counties, and wholesale and retail by the proprietors.

1 SURE REMEDY FOR WORK Facts for the People.

THE constantly increasing popularity and sale of B.

A. Fahnestock's Vermitige has induced persons who are envious of its success, to palm off upon the public preparations which all medical men know to be inefficacious in expelling nearms from the system.

This Vermitige made its way into public favor upon the ground of its own intrinsic merits, more than any other medicine of the kind now used; and, while many worm remedies have, by dunt of pulling, been forced into sale, and shortly after some into the obscurity which their worthlessness justly merited, B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to be triumphantly sustained. It has only to be used and its effects will fully sustain all that is said of its wonderful expelling power.

EXETTIFICATE.

Hates, Eric Co., New York, Jan. 7, 1913.

We certify that we have used B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge in our families, and in every case it has provided a decided and effect out remedy for expelling worms from the system. We condially recommend it to parents who have children afflicted with that dangerous malady.

HORRIBLE MISTAKES::

Are sometimes made by confounding one medicine with another, and administering the wrong article. Equally horrib e are those mintakes which are made in supposing that all fills are alike, and that therefore, it is indifferent which are taken, and if one kind is bad all are bad together. This is a very great mintake. There is as much difference between Whight's Ishtan Veorta-nile Pitls and other articles, as between midnight and noonday: We do not wish any to take our word merely for this statement. Let any one, having taken other medicines, try this. Nothing more will be necessary.

Many persons have been led away by a currist or Sugar, as if they anticipated that it would remove the naises of the medicine. But they are generally mistaken. Without stoan those articles have nothing to recommend them, and would not be sold a single day. But with the sugar, and by giving the article a name visual with the sugar, and by giving the article a name visual a temporary notoricty.  Their welcome to the sweet Spri.
 At morning's dawning bright;
 The chanting of their wild lays,
 So joyous and so clear,
 As heardding their glad praise
 To God, that Spring Is here. How lovely looks the hilf-side,
As aloping to the atreatt,
Where, just below, the waves gli
And calch the son's first beam;
The smoke is curling up, loo,
From many a dwelling toland,
And seems, unto my charmed with
