THE PROTECTIVE POLICE OF THE COUNTRY. The People Demand its Restoration!

General ZACHARY TAYLOR; Subject to the Decision of the White National Convention

For Coal Commissioner, NER HIDDLEWORTH.

We are compelled to omit several columns of news-matters and advertisements.

John K. Clement, Esq. has been appointed Solicitor for the Town Council of the Borough of Mineville.

The Weather for several days past has been very cool. It moderated somewhat yesterday. Must have been heavy showers of hail, somewhere.

Seaside Railroad—Motive power was introduced on this road, for the first time, at the beginning of the present week. The locomotive is the property of C. E. Spangler, of Philadelphia. Nearly every Railroad in this Region is now supplied with motive power.

Samuel Lutz, the well-known poet and Yocellist, arrived in this Borough yesterday, and on Monday evening, at 7 o'clock, in the Town Hall, gave a recital of his new poetry, to-day for Lanthier. He is full of talent, poetry, and genuine wit.

Reading Railroad—We learn that the subscription to the arrangement authorized by the last Legislature, for covering the Bonds of the Reading Railroad Company into new preferred Stock, is progressing very well. At Boston all the large bondholders assented to the arrangement.

The Ruddy Family—We were present at the Concert given by this band of Vocalists, on Wednesday night. Their selections were principally confined to ballads, and without acknowledging their ability for the higher ranges of musical composition, we need at least well pleased with the entertainment afforded.

Borough Meeting—It will be seen by the proceedings of a meeting in another column, that our citizens are now adopting efficient measures to secure the reelection of the Court House. The plan proposed of submitting the whole subject to the Town Council, meets with approbation, and we propose, hereafter, having something more to say on the subject, being compelled to renounce the desire to present from the lack of room.

The Anthracite Gazette, in its usual felicitous style, expresses some anxiety with regard to the publication of the Budget ordered by the Senate. Perhaps the intense solicitude of the editor might be somewhat relieved, if he were to visit the Commission and subject the subscription paper to a critical examination. He will find his name recorded there, in his bouncing characters, in connection with a liberal sum, when "paid," will "inspire more energy into the printer's soul" than is wrought by his simple alphabet.

Death on Railroad—On Saturday morning, between 3 and 4 o'clock, Daniel McCulla, twenty-one years of age, an Englishman, employed on the Reading Railroad, was killed by the train which was engaged at the break. The train was upon the descent without any locomotive, and by some means unknown, and entirely unaccountable to his associates, he fell, and the whole train went over his body, cutting him in two. His death was instantaneous. The Coroner held an inquest on the body at Post Richmond. No blame is attached to any one.

THE IRON-TRADE. We notice in several newspapers a catalogue of furnaces which are said to have been erected since the Treaty of 1846 went into effect, and which is thus exhibited for the purpose of conveying a belief that the iron interests are secure under that law. The Washington Union, and other local journals of low degree, in various sections of the country, are actively engaged in manufacturing arguments to prove the falseness of this Treaty upon the great and paramount interests of Pennsylvania, and this statement is held up as one of the beneficial results of the measure!

It is scarcely worth while to say that, not only is the statement wholly incorrect as regards the time the several furnaces were commenced and completed, but the whole fabric of arguments to sustain the belief that the present rate of iron is sufficient to pay fair remunerating profits to the laborers and manufacturers, is wholly incorrect and altogether more foolish and dishonest. Since the passage of the Treaty of 1846, very few furnaces have been erected, and the few that have been erected, and upon this slender foundation we may withdraw our troops and occupy a position on the colored territory. But this was never! Shall we be subjected to the expense of maintaining fifty or twenty thousand troops, merely to get a few acres of poor land? We hope not. The fact is, our war and treaty-making friend, the Hon. J. K. Polk, has got himself into a predicament, and it was in his high consideration of the interests of his constituents, and in order to secure a re-election for the year 1846, that he has been obliged to do this. Let them keep their barren lands and miserable population—until we shall stand upon good behavior. Let them do this, and we are indemnified for the past.

THE PROSPECTS AHEAD. The growing crop of Great Britain and throughout Europe, were a promising condition. There had been a great deal of wet, unfavorable weather in England, which created considerable apprehension relative to the harvest; but very extensive damage had been realized, and the result of the season was a light crop. The result of this was a light crop of wheat in price, and the appearance of large supplies of grain in the market. We are deeply interested in an abundant harvest in Great Britain, for the reason that it would tend to increase the price of wheat in this country, and thus benefit our farmers. It is a great pleasure to see that the result of the season is a light crop, and that the price of wheat is high. It is a great pleasure to see that the result of the season is a light crop, and that the price of wheat is high.

THE NEW-YORK BARR-BUFFERS.

A house divided against itself, must fall. The Barr-buffers are at it! Few persons out of the Empire State, can form an idea of the bitter feeling with which they regard the proceedings of the Baltimore Convention, and the appointment of the Whig ticket, and the nomination of the President. The Troy Budget speaks thus:

"The Baltimore Convention has accomplished a feat which will be remembered among the remarkable events in the political history of the country. It has elected the Democratic party of the Nation."

"The representative of a parish meeting of forty persons came into the Convention, with the great State of New York was wholly disfranchised. We do not see the Democracy of this State with the President of the Democracy of the Nation."

On the same subject the New-York Globe, whose editor was at the Convention, says:

"Lewis Cass will want from fifty to one hundred thousand votes of carrying the Electoral ticket of New York. The man who thinks otherwise, knows little of the extent of the popular indignation respecting the course committed on the New York Democracy. A revolution in parties is at hand. The honest of all parties will come together, and the Democracy of the Nation will become purified."

It needs "purifying" very much; but it will remain for the Whig Doctors to administer the self-healing medicine.

The Barr-buffer Delegates have called a State Convention, to assemble on the 22d instant, at which the candidates for the Presidency to be supported by the Whigs, will be nominated.

Nothing can be more certain, than present indications, that the Whig nominees are destined to carry that State, by an unprecedented majority, at the coming election. As goes New-York will go the Union—hail, therefore, in the Whig President of '48!

CHEMICAL TECHNOLOGY.

Meats, Lea & Blanchard of Philadelphia, are now publishing a series of valuable Scientific works, from the foreign standard editions, with additions, and under the careful editing of Prof. Wm. H. Johnson. We have seen several of these books, and cannot but regard them as among the most useful and creditable works that have emanated from the American press.

The works are published in the English, French and German languages, and are well adapted for the use of the student and the professional chemist.

NEW YORK CITY.

It may seem an easy thing to the uninitiated to write a letter from a great city to a distant newspaper, but those who have tried it know better. The difficulty with the letter-writer is not to find material sufficient to make up his communication; but to select such as may be best adapted to the taste of the readers for whom it is intended.

Events crowd so fast upon each other in this "godly city of Gotham," that it is somewhat of a task to decide which to note and which to pass by.

The leading event of the last week was the reception of Gen. Scott, who visited New-York as the guest of the city. Since the arrival of Henry Clay in March, there has been no so great a concourse of that illustrious General.

On Monday he reached Frederick, Md., where he was the guest of the city. He was accompanied by Capt. H. S. Scott, Dr. W. Thompson, Gen. Taylor, Col. Belling, Gen. Quimman, and others. He was welcomed by thousands of people at the railroad depot, and conducted to his lodgings amidst the greatest enthusiasm.

On Tuesday the Court adjourned, owing to the absence of Gen. Fillow.

A contemporary, who evidently is a shrewd observer, remarks that no person who took a newspaper seriously and paid for it like a man, would ever be seen at the penitentiary, or any other place. No such person ever committed suicide, or went to the lunatic asylum; and with a few exceptions, long life has been the consequence of so upright a practice.

SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.

GENERAL SCOTT.

We learn from the Baltimore papers that the old hero was received with marked distinction and great enthusiasm in that city. He was escorted to the United States Hotel, where he addressed the citizens with a few remarks. He expressed his sense of the hospitality of Baltimore, and alluded to the kindness shown him during his illness there, consequent upon his wound received during the war of 1812.

An interesting incident occurred after the ceremony of reception was over. He was asked whether he would like to visit the city of Baltimore in person. He was, however, unfortunately detained by the charge, and said they would have to wait to the last. The Washington correspondent of the General's arrival there on Saturday.

A large concourse of people greeted him, and the most enthusiastic was manifested.

On Monday he reached Frederick, Md., where he was the guest of the city. He was accompanied by Capt. H. S. Scott, Dr. W. Thompson, Gen. Taylor, Col. Belling, Gen. Quimman, and others.
