

THE MINERS' JOURNAL, AND POTTSVILLE GENERAL ADVERTISER.

TERMS OF THE MINERS' JOURNAL.—SINCE it has been published, we have been, necessarily, less popularly in advance, to those who reside in the County—and mainly in advance to those who reside out of the County. The publisher reserves to himself the right to charge 20 per annum, when payment is delayed beyond one year.

To Glou-

shire replies to our address: 50 00
Seven Do Do 10 00
Fifteen Do Do 20 00
Five dollars in advance will pay for three years' subscription to the Journal.

NOTES OF ADVERTISING.

One Square of 11 lines, 3 times, ...	$ 1.00
Every subsequent insertion, ...	25
Four lines, time, ...	25
Subsequent insertions, each	15
One ad., 3 months, ...	50
One Year, ...	80
Business Cards of Five Lines, per annum, ...	12 00
Matters of business, and other advertising, by the year, with the privilege of inserting dif- ferent advertisements weekly, ...	12 00
Larger Advertisements, as per agreement.

VOLNEY D. PALMER, At his Real Estate and Coal Office, 101 Broad Street, Philadelphia, No. 21 of Third and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, No. 16, State Street, Boston, and No. 10, State Street, New York; and also at 101 Broad Street, and 101 Chestnut Street, Baltimore, our Agent for receiving subscriptions and advertisements for the Miners' Journal.

THE CIRCULATION of the Miners' Journal is greater than any other newspaper published in Northern Pennsylvania, and has nearly double the circulation of any other published in Schuylkill County. It daily circulates largely among the capitals, manufacturers, and coal dealers throughout the Atlantic and Eastern States.

SINGLE COPIES of the Miners' Journal, or any number of copies, may be had of William Oldham, Miners' Agent, Mr. Moore, Post Carbon, at the corner of Center and Market streets, Pottsville, Baltimore, our Agent for receiving subscriptions and advertisements for the Miners' Journal.

HEALTHY, LIFE, AND LIFE INSURANCE AGENCY.—The subscriber is Agent for Health and Life Insurance. Any information on either of these branches can be obtained at the office of the Miners' Journal, where insurance are effected.

B. BANNAN.

Miners' Journal.
Saturday Morning, July 7.

THE PROTECTIVE POLICY OF THE COUNTRY.
The People Demand its Restoration

ADVERTISEMENTS.—Advertisers are invited to insure interest in the Miners' Journal, which should be issued in the most prominent position. Friday morning. Note can be inserted after 11 o'clock Friday morning.

This arrangement is rendered necessary by the rapid increase of our circulation, and the fact that we do not publish early on Friday, in order to have it worked off in time for Saturday morning's paper. All our advertising friends bear in mind.

HANDSOME ARTICLES, which are shown in the Miners' Journal, are Agents for Joseph E. F. Stoddard, of Boston, and are of fine gold, and a very pretious and substantial appearance. They are made of fine porcelain, and are of fine workmanship.

They are Agents for Jos. E. F. Stoddard, of Boston, and make like brooches, rings, etc., and give additional evidence of the rank and taste of Mr. St. in his profes-

FASTING AND PRAYER.

President Taylor has appointed Friday, the 3d of August, to be observed throughout the United States, as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer, that the ravages of the "Cholera," now sweeping over the country, may be averted.

OUR DUTY.

The full election is rapidly approaching, and soon the political contest will begin. It becomes the duty of the Whig party to reconnoitre—to look about and see how things stand—who whether the next election can be carried. The next will be no ordinary election.

The vacancy produced by the expiration of Mr. Fawcett's term in the Canal Board will have to be filled—for the Loco-foces, who have met with such a disastrous defeat, will assure themselves to action as in days of old, and to meet them we must be prepared.

It becomes the duty of every Whig voter, who desires to see Whig rule perpetuated, go to work and organize an important contest.

When the Whigs are defeated, they are to be successful, no matter what odds they have to contend against. That we had all the influence of the National and State Administrations to combat with; now we have obtained possession of those fortresses, and it is our bounden duty to maintain them at all hazards.

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause.

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

If the people of this Republic cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

If the people of this Republic cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.

The Whig party cannot directly interfere in the contest, they can nevertheless express their sentiments upon the subject, and by their actions, cheer on the gallant Italians and heroic Hungarians.

The following resolutions were passed at a meeting in New Orleans, held a few days ago, convened for the purpose of sym-
pathizing with the patriots of Europe:

"Resolved, That we regard the present struggle of the people of Central Italy as the struggle of the rights of man, and sympathize with the type of government and institutions formed in the same cause;

"That we do so to express our sympathy, and, instead of cheering on a people who are devoting to free, send our army, not to assist them—but to aid, and if possible to defeat the whole plot."

It is time, then, if we want to reap the benefits of the victory, to meet them we must be prepared.