MANUFACTURING BUSINESS. While the stock for the Cotton Pactory at Harrisburg has been all subscribed for, we observe the Factory project in Reading, is progressing slowly. the General Manufacturing Law, enacted at our $798,370 49, showing an increase in the present may have their influence in the proceedings of few, but by all. We understand that the stock part of the present year should only equal those in the proposed Factory at Reading, has been put of last year, the gress amount of the year will be at $50 a share-and started principally by the $1,618,712 90. wealthy men of the place, who may want to reap all the benefits of the capital, and who, we presume, do not care about having the laborers con nected with them as stockholders. Now, if this supposition be true, this is wrong; and here may be found the cause of the success of other establishments over theirs. Instead of putting the shares at $10, which would give every man of nterprise an opportunity of subscribing to the stock, and be carrying out the design of the new law, they are put at such a rate as prevents a large number of men, poor it is true, but who would nevertheless contribute their mite towards a project which would bonefit themselves and children, from doing what they under other circumstan would. We are inclined to believe that there is a feeling not of the proper character existing between the capitalist and the laborer of that place, which to us is manifest in the high rate at which they have put the shares; lower the price of stock, and the project would advance more rapidly, enlist more in its behalf; but as those who might be able-to take several shares at $10, cannot even take one at $50, we would again advise the workingmen of Reading to start a Manulacturing project upon their own responsibility, and taking the General Manufacturing Law as their guide, we feel pretty confident their success would be greater than that which has attended the first GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK. OF Afflicting .- A correspondent of the Potts town Ledger, gives an account of four deaths in the family of Mr. Sloanaker only a few hours apart, as having occurred in Chester County, a # days ago. The u tions in the South, and before the people conclude to extend the boundary of the Republic, let them consider over the effects of annexation; the effect it will have upon the South, whose citizens in case of annexation, will strike at once for Cuba. Here Edward Ryan, was killed by a fall of Coal in Mr. Whitfield Colliery, near Patterson, this county, on Toerday last. He was sitting apparently secure, amoking his pipe, when the fall of Slate took phoe, thilling him instantly. We understand he has left a will have upon the South, whose citizens in case wife and family. it will have upon the South, whose citizens in case of annexation, will strike at once for Cuba. Here is the rub—the question is, when will the annexation of territory cease; there is danger—imminent danger—in extending the boundaries of any Country, but more so the territory of a Republic—whose object is not to swallow up all the territory within its reach. If the Canadians think their condition will be improved; if the Mother Country will consent; if the South, which at present is very much dissatisfied, and waits for an opportunity to speak out, would consent to act towards the North with the proper feeling, then we should, perhaps yield to the project. Difficulties, like these are in the way; and desirable as to construct the consequences which might flow from annexation might be such for which half deten.
