About this custard that I have a plate of. Balicious custard! what uncommon eggs-Fresh as your face, nay door, thous in ust have been. No chickens thereinheing, with short legs. Witting to enter on this outdoor scene, And very humbly your inquirer begs That extra care be paid the mother ben. For giging us such splendid specimens So much above the brood of common hens,

Apropos, Mary, is it China, Dorking, Orcommon fawl you keep ? I recommend Hens with a cluck that counds like wine uncorking, A bill extramely yellow at the end : The kind I mentioned, with five toes outforking Are very good and may be made to men! Eachew especially all fowls called "game."

Another plate-yes-thank you : I would say This milk has been delicious almost cream. You milk, of course, quite early every day, Something before the rising sun's first beam; It must be fine, this getting up in May, Just when we sluggards first begin to dream: You have the dew upon the grass. I think-A glassfull of the milk, and I will drink, Sugar, milk, eggs, no butter did you say ? No butter; would it not improve the taste? Perhaps not; would it keep if put away; Of course not—milk grows acid in such haste—

Be careful, Mary, custard for to day.
But fresh to morrow, 'tis a shame to waste' And you, I know, are careful, and so clean-Fifteen ! Ah more! seventeen, sweet seventeen!

You use fine custard sugar-loaf of course, And white Havana is one quarter worse, Stuart's best loaf will always bear the crown For crystal uniform, but not too course So much milk, to smooth the custard down, I'll have you, Mary dear, when I get rich, For cook, or wife, or both, I don't care which.

Mrs. ATTREE, the wife of Wm H. Attree, Eaq. was given up by Dr. Sewal of Washington, Drs. Roe and McCliellan of Philatelephia, and Dr. Motto flow. York. Her friends all thought she must die. She bad every appearance of being in consumption, and was so pronounced by her physicians—Sherman's Balsam was given and it cured her.

Rev. HENRY JONES, 103, Eighth avenue, was cured of cough and catarrhal affection of 50 years standing. The first dose gave him more relief than all the other medicine he had ever taken. Dr. L. J. Beals, 19, Delancy street, gave it to a sister-in-law who was aboring under Consumption, and to another sorely afflicted with the Ashma. In both cases its effect were immediate, and soon restored them to comfortable health.

Being puor, he was compelled to limit its manufacture, by which means it has been kept out of market, and the sales circumscribed to those only who had proved its worth and known its value. It had reached the ears, of many, nevertheless, as those persons who had been healed of sure diseases, and saved from death, proclaumed its excellence and wonderful.

Knowing, many years are, that he had, by his skill, science, and experience, devised an article which would be of incalcuable advantage to mankind, when once known and extensively used, he hoped and persevered, expecting the lime to arrive when the means would

Hence the reason why we hear commendations on every side in its favor by men, women, and children. We find it doing wonders in the cure of Consumption; Dyspepsia, and Liver Complaint, and in Rheumation, Strofula, Piles, Bostiveness, all Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, and all affections arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

It possesses a narvellous efficacy, in all complaints arising from indigestion, from Acidity of the Stomach, from unequal circulation, determination of blood to the head, pulpitation of the heart, cold feet and cold hands, cold chills and bot flashes over the body. Corn and the English groups have not been increased as English hay had. It now costs quite as much to produce a bushel of corn or grain as in years long past. The first settlers here made it their business to supply themselves with bread from their own fields. Corn and ryo were their favorite grains, and they took repectal care to lay, but up sluces of these as easyntal to their very existence. Indian corn was almost worshipped by farmers who had often come to the last bushel before the new harvest compenced. And it was held to be immoral to pluck boy of the green east for rossting or boiling, bugsiles they would give less nourishment in this state than when ground into meal. But though it may cost as much as ever to grow a bushel of corn on account of the high price of labor, there can be no question that we produce we make our lands richer, as we wave more curn per sore than we did in former time. We make our lands richer, as we wave more manure. We grow heavy crops, and it costs or much to harvest them. We grow less rye and buy more wheat flour. Propully we harvest less in proportion to our cleared acres, that we did forty years ago. DAVY'S SAFETY LAMPS, TME subscriber has just received a supply of Safety
