The toll and transportation on Coal by Rail Road, we learth will not be reduced until the first of March next, nor will the Company allow any reduction for ; Coal that may be sent to Richmond during the winter season remaining over on the first of March. This determination on the part of the Company meets with the approbation of the whole trade in this region, and will effectually check the mistaken policy ortinent in large stocks of Coal at Richmond for the General of the shipping trade. We understand that both the Canal and Rail Road Companies will be governed by surrounding circumstances in fixing the rates of tolland transportation for 1550. The intimation thrown out a short time since in the report of the Rail Road Company, of charging rates that will be sufficient to pay an interest on an half their, nominal value,-and therefore the rates ought to be so graded as to secure to the holder a fair interest on the market value of the stock and loans, which would divert a large portion of the trade they now enjoy, into another channel.
