Dyspepsia and General

Debility Cured by the Oxygenated

In All. Cases of Indigestion and derangement of the stomach, this medicine specifity restores the digestive organs to their natural healthy state, thus strengthening the whole system. Hence it is an excellent preventive of epidemic diseases, for persons in a weak and debilitated condition; at the present time every ruch person ought to have it.

But no medicine is more highly recommended for Dyspersta, in all its forms, such as headach, heartburn, costiveness, and stomach, loss of appetite, pain in the stomach, debility, and also, asthma attended with derangement of the stomach.

The following is from a most eminent Chemist.
The medicinal articles used in the preparation of the Bitters, are those prescribed by the most eminent physicians for the relief from, and cure of, the disease for which these Bitters have been so successfully used.
The combining of them is in accordance with chemical rules securing the efficacy of each; and the compound seems to have resulted from extended observations in medical practice.

Respectfully.

Da. Geo. B. Geers:—Dear Sir—I feel it not only a pleasure, but a duty, to make known to you and to the public, (if you desire h) the surprising effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in relieving me from that most discouraging disorder, Dyspepsia. I have been afflicted for about seventeen years with the usual attendant symptoms, viz. constipration of the bowels, headache, pain in the chest, flatulence, acidity of the stomach, and severe nauses; and for monthe at a time not the least particle of moisture would appear on the surface of the chest or limbs, and most of the time I was extremely billions. I have used various remedies, have been visict in my diet, have been dosed with calomiel and emetic day, after day by physicians, but all to no good purpose. Hearing of the wonderful effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in the cure of Physpepsia, I princared some as a last resort; have used four bottles of the medicine, and find the bad symptoms all removed, and myselfonce more in the enjoyment of health. None butthe Dyspeptic sufferer, who has fell all the horrors of the disease, can at all appreciate the value of the medicine. I most sincerely hope that all will make trial of the medicine, and with me be able to resoice in the return of health.

The following order was received by the Proprietor, from Edward E. Pherry, M. D., Professor of Therapatics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College, who uses the medicine in his practice.

"One of the most renowned physicians, one of the grainst henchetors of modern times, was born at Langen Salza. Germany, on the 12th day of August. 1763. After a care full scholistic education, he, like his father and grandfather, (two celebrated Doctors.) voluntarily devoted binnet to the study of Medicine, at the latter University. From 1732 to 1801, he officiated as Professor at the University of Jean. In 1801, he was appointed Private Physician to the Ring of Prassis, Member of the Academy of Science, and upon the establishment of the near College at Berlin, Professor and Court Physician by the Ministry of the Interior. His characteristic profoundness and deep pone-tration canabled him to combine the theoretical and practical; to antic old and new systems; produce in common the practical and used, and thus draw therefrom the results and the necessary applicable means. "It was Dr. R; principality, who exposed and destroyed the Brown's System," which, not withstanding the brilliant exterior, could not congeal its many imperfections; brought to light by Hoofand's noble impartiality, and truthe, and deep peneration. Independent of his practical usefulness as Physician and Professor of the healing art, he has carned unjung fame for his superior knowledge in Materia Medica, as well as for his mapifold works on Medical jurisprudence. HOOFAAND'S GERMAN BITTER."

The application of ascidious sarth for the cure of Sulphuric diseases.—The celebrated Disphoretic remoty—and numerous invaluable recorded recipes.

After the celebration of his fitteth professional feativity in 1833, upon which becausion the King of Prassitity in 1833, u

Cross of the Red Engle, and many other Royal Order and marks of distinction, he died on the 25th day Angust, 1835, (as the Ming of Prussia's private Med cal Counsellor,) without any legitimate wels here ofspring.

"Dr. C. M. Jackson, of Philadelphia, has had the means of obtaining the genutine recipes of the great medical counsellor "Christoph Wilhelm Husland," and these invaluable medicines are piepared with the utmost care at the German Medicine Store. The bitter minure: Hoodman's German Bitters, is the Frank of many years study and experience by the great inventor, and known and prized in Europe as, an infallible remedy for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, &c. Dr. C. M. Jackson's preparation of this medicine hiss obtained the same celebrity in this Western World. The tertimontals and inhunerable confirmations of thousands of the most severe and difficult cases wared, is ample proof of this. The medicines compounded by Dr. C. M. Jackson, have produced the very efforts and the same happy results which the immortal inventor indicated and intended, and consequently must be prepared with Scrupulous accuracy. In view of the above facts it seems singular, that any body could have the hardhood and impudence to abuse the name of this distinguished Doctor, who died thirteen years ago. To pass off a charlatan quack preparation as the real and genuine medicine, and to give a semblance of originality by affixing a fac simile of the deceased, is indeed extraordinary! The public will understand what to expect, and what to all under auch circumstances."

A number of German papers copied th above and are therefore entitled to our thanks.

"HOUFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS."

"We have seen many fattering motices of this medicine and the source from which they came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. Frominquiry we were persuaded to use it, and mustasy we found it speedig in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive origins, and the powerful indudneed it exerts upon nervous prestration is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

If this medicine was more, generally used, we are satisfied there would be less suchees, as from the stomuch, liver and nervous system the great majority of real and imaginary diseases emanare. Have them in a healthy condition, and you can bid defiance to all the surface.

MEDICINAL: MOFFATS life Pills and Phenix Bliters.

These Medicines have now been before the public for a period of FIFTERN YEARS, and during that time have imaintained a high charge; ter in almost every part of the globe for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable. IN MANY THOUSANDS of certificated instances, they have even rescued sufferers from the very verge of an untimely grave, after all the deceptive nostrains of the day had utterly failed; and to many thousands they have permanently setured that uniform enjoyment of health, without which life itself is but a partial blessing. So great, indeed, has their efficacy invariably and infallibly proved, that it has appeared scarcely less than miraculous to those who were nequainted with the heautifully philosophical grinciples upon which they are compounded, and upon which they consequently act. It was to their manifest and sanishe action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and enduing them with renewed tone and yigor, that they were indebted for their name.

Unlike the host of pernicious quackeries which hoast of vegetable ingredients, the LIFE MEDICINES are purely and solely vegetable; and contain neither Mentingly, nor Antimony, nor Arsenic, nor any other mineral, in any form whatever. They are entirely composed of extracts from rare and powerful plants, the virtues of which, though long known to several Indian tribes, and recently to some aminent pharmaceutical chemists, are altogether unknown to the ignorant pretenders to medical science; and were never before administered in so happily efficacious a combination.

The first overstion is to loosen from the coats

The first operation is to loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels the various impuriof the stomach and bowels the various impurities and crudities constantly settling round them; and to remove the hardened faces which collect in the convolutions of the small intestines. Other medicines only partially cleanse these, and leave such collected masses behind to produce habitual Continuous with all its train of arithe to middle. Costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudden Diarrhea with its imminent dangers. This fact is well-known to all regular anatomists who ex-amine the human bowels after death; and hence the prejudice of these well-informed men against the quack medicines of the age. The second effect of the VKGETABLE LIFE MEDI-CIMES is to cleanse the kidneys and the bladder; and, by this means, the liver and lungs, the healthful action of which entirely depends upon the regularity of the urinary organs. The blood, which takes its red color from the agency blood, which takes its red color from the agency of the liver and lungs, before it passes into the heart, being thus purified by them, and nourished by food coming from a clean stomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming check.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the VEGE-TABLE LIFE MEDICINES are well known to be intallible.

TARIE LIFE MEDICINES are well known to be intallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleaning the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; Fiatulency, Loss of Affertive, Heartsure, Heartsure, Heartsure, Heartsure, Heartsure, Heartsure, Heartsure, Inacutos, and Mellanchur, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure, Costiveness, by cleaning the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

Diarrhea and Cholera, by removing the sharp acrid fluids by which these complaints are occasioned, and by promoting the lubricative seoccasioned, and by promoting the lubricative se-cretion of the mucous membrane Fevers or all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of perspiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others. The LIFE MEDICINES have been known to cure Rheumatism permanently in three weeks, and Gont in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of Dropsies of all kinds, by freeing and strength ening the kidneys and bladder: they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of Gravel.

Also Worms, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the shimy matter to which these rentures adhere. Asthma and Consumption, by relieving the airvessels of the lungs from the nucous which even slight colds will occasion, and which, if not removed, becomes hardened, and products these ireadfui diseases.

Scurvy, Ulcers, and Inveterate Scres, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDI-CINES give to the blood, and all the humors. Scorbutic Eruptions and Bad Complexions, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all cruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other designed by complexions, sales, coopy, and other designeeable complexions.

The use of these Fills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of Salt Rheum, and a striking improvement in the cleaness of the skin.

Common Colds and Infinenza will always be cated by one dose, or by two even in the worst cates.

PILES. As a remedy for this most distressing and obstinate malady, the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES deserve a distinct and emphatic recommendation. It is well-known to hundreds in this city, that the former proprietor of these valuable Medicines was himself afflicted with this valuable Medicines was himself afflicted with this compaint for apwards of THERTY-FIVE YEARS; and that he tried in vain every remedy prescribed within the whole compass of the Materia Medica. THE FARNER IS NOT PROPERLY ESTIMATED. The Farmer is not Properly Estimated—
It is a lamentable fact, that the farmer does not occupy that elevated position in society that his occupation justly entitles him to. He is looked upon as a being quite below the lawyer, physician, divine, artist, merchant, or merchant's clerk. To be a farmer, is to be nobody, a mere clodhopper, a digger of bogs, and ditches, and dung heaps, and free to wallow in the "free soil" he cultivates, provided he never seeks to elevate himself above that position to what the world calle (mod speige). position to what the world calls "good socie-ty." Hence comes the desire of "the boys" to escape, not so much the drudgery of their employment, as from the idea that they are looked upon and estimated as mere drudges.
What blindness, folly, and false philysophy is this. The result of these false promises is, that the "professions" are crowded to the starvation point; clerks not only go begging.

but become beggars, or worse, merchants are multiplied, and good, old fashioned labor appears to be going out of fashion.

While we would give all due honor to professions, the farmer, who is the producer of all, both in food and raiment, that adds to the comfort and sustenance of the human family, nced not feel below the occupations that gain their support from the folly, pride, miscry and wickedness of their fellow creatures. If the aspirations of farmers were half as strong to elevate their sons as farmers, as it is to make them merchants, or professional men, or perchance loafers, we should soon be taught to look to the Agricultural class for the best bred, as well as the best fed men in America.—Barnum's Address. THE TRUE FARMER .- Mr. Editor: With your permision, I am going to give you my views and ideas of what constitutes the true farmer. I know that the country is full of those who style themselves farmers; but, in my opinion, there are but few who can justly lay claim to so honorable a title as the true farmer. There are such, however, scaletered here and there all over the country; and wherever they may be found, they de-serve the respect and esteem of all classes of citizens, -because they stand at the head of society,—as there is no occupation in the sued by the tiller of the soil. It was the first business pursued by man in the garden of Eden; and it should stand first now. But this is not justly telling what and who the true farmer is. Well, to come right at that point, the true farmer is one who owns a respectable sized farm, stocked with just enough to keep the farm in a good condition, and the grazing herds in a thriving state. This is one essential feature. Next in order, he must be one who has been brought up to the business, and served a regular apprenticeship therein, that he may know how to take the proper care of the
