SPEECH OF HON. WILLIAM H. BISSSEL, IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, FEBRUARY 21, 1850, IN COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE ON THE REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE RESOLUTIONS RELATIVE TO THE PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL MESSAGE.

Mr. Chairman—Our discussions in this Committee have already produced a profound impression throughout the Union...

Reluctant as I am to do the public duty, I yet do not feel at liberty to withhold the expression of my own opinion upon this subject...

It is not to be denied, that the people of the North are not less attached to the Union than the people of the South...

already existing against that institution. To some extent this may be the fact, Mr. Chairman, though I doubt that, so far as my own knowledge extends, the instances are exceedingly rare...

But again: It is charged also against the free States, that we tolerate anti-slavery societies, native American societies, temperance societies, moral reform societies, missionary societies, sewing societies, and possible...

Another charge against us is, that we permit the free press to be so far from coming on abolitionism, thus increasing the prejudice already existing against the institution of slavery...

It is also made a matter of accusation, against the free States, that anti-slavery presses are kept up there, all that the papers of the Southern States are not to be printed in the Northern States...
