THE BABY'S LAMENT. O mother, dear mother, no wonder I cry, More wonder by far that your baby don't die; No matter what ails me, no matter who's here. No matter from hungry the "poor little dear". No matter if full or all out of breath, te trots me, and trots me to death! I love my dear nurse, but I dread that great kace;

I love my dear nurse, but I dream that great ance I like all her talk, but, we unto me! She can't be contented with talking so pretty, And washing, and dressing, and doing her duty; All that's very well—I can bear soap and water; Bit, mother, she is an unmerciful trotter.

Pretty ladies, I want just to look at your faces;
Pretty lamp, pretty fire, let me see how it blazes;
How can I. my heart going bibbity bob?
And ahe trots me the harder, the harder I sob.
Oh! mother, do stop her, I'm inwardly sore;
I hiccough and cry, and she trots me the more,
And talks about "wind," when 'tis she makes me

Wish 'twould blow heraway, for poor baby's rake Thank goodness, I'm still; O blessed be quiet! I'm glad my dear mother is willing to try it, Of foolish old customs my mother's no lover, And the wisdom of this she can never discover, I'll rest me awhile, and just look about, And laugh up at Sally, who peeps in and out, And pick up some notions as soon as I can, To fill my small noddle before I'm a man.

O dear, is that she? is she coming so soon? She's bringing my dinner, with tea-cup and spoof She'll hold me in one hand, in tother the cirp. And as fast as it's down, she'll just shake it up. And thumpity thum, with the greatest delight, And thumpity thum, with the greatest dengm, Her heel it is going from morning till night; Trot—trotting! just think what I'm doom'd to ea

FAINTING ONCE TOO OFTEN. "My dear child," said Miss Lilly white to her niece, ivou must give up fainting-it's gone out of fashion." "Fashion, Miss Lilly white! Do you think that feelings"-"Fiddlededee," said Miss Lilly white:: "when I was eighteen, your age-and that, my dear, is nearly thirty years ago, I used to faint, too. I enjoyed fainting very much; indeed, my dear, I question whether you take greater pleasure in fainting than I did. You see, it gave me a little consequence, it drew upon me general notice; it made me, as it were, the centre of a picture; and it was a pleasure to enjoy so much sympathy about one and But we may faint once too often. Of this dreary truth I am a sad example. When I was nineteen I was about to be married. About, did I say? Why, the day was fixed; I was in my bridal dress; at the altar; the ring, the wedding ring; at the very tip of my finger. In a few minutes I should have been his wife, when I thought I must faint. I would seem very bold of me in such a situlation not to faint. I, who had fainted on so many occasions, not to swoon at the altar, would have been a want of sentiment-of proper feeling, on so awful an occasion .-With this thought, I felt myself fainting and just as the bridegroom had touched my finger with the ring, I went off; yes, swooned with all the honors. As I swooded the ring slipped from the bridegroom's fingers, fell upon the floor, and was rolling, rolling to drop through an aperture to the store that from below, admitted heat to the church; when, though swooning, I somehow saw the danger, and, to stop the ring, put forth my foot; but I was too late! The ring rolled on, disappeared down the chimney of the stove, and then I fainted with great fidelity. Hartshorne and sal volatile came to my aid. I was restored, but where was the ring? I was hopeless to seek for it. Half a dozen other rings were proffered; but no, it would be an evil omen-there would be no happiflew—and, we were late at church to begin with—and the ring was not found when the church clock struck twelve. The elergyman, closing his book, said, "it is past the canonical hour; the parties cannot be married to.

"Do you give it up?" "I give it up," quoth the dignity." "Well, then," quoth the flippant, " it is that the ass's cross is upon his back, while the archbishop's lies upon his breast." "Good, indeed; but let me ask, in refurn." continued his grace, "what is the difference between and ass and an officer-say in the army ?"

A long pause ensued. The subaltern gave it up. "I protest," quoth he, "I cannot make it out. The difference !- the differ-No, I cannot see it." er can I, said the grave Arch Prelate,

"At a religious anniversary in England a few years ago, a very excellent but eccentric clergyman was called on to close the meeting with prayer; and as the exercise had been protracted to an unusually late hour, and many of the audience had already left the house from excessive fatigue, he was to offer a short prayer, which he did in the words following:

BERVOUS SYSTEM. This beautiful and convenient application of the mysterious powers of GALVANISM and MAGNETISM, has been pronounced by distinguished physicians, both in Europe and the United States, to be the most calculate medicinal discovery of the Age.

Dr. CHRISTIE'S GALVANIO BELT MAGNETIC FLUID. b used with the most perfect and cartain such GENERAL DESILITY, Strengthening the weakened body, giving tone to the various ergans, and invigorating the entire system. Also in FITS, CRAMP, PARALYSIS and PALSY, DYSPEP-IN FITS, CRAMP, PARALYSIS and FALSY, DYSFEP-SIA OF INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, ACUTE and CHRONIC, GOUT, EFILERSY, LUMBAGO, DEAF-NESS, NERVOUS TREMORS, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, APOPLEXY, NEURALGIA, PAINS in the SIDE SHI GIEST, LIVER COMPLAINT, SPINAL COMPLAINT, and CURVATURE of the SPINE, HIP COMPLAINT, DISEASES Of the KIDNEYS, DEFI-CIENCY OF NERVOUS AND PHYSICAL ENERGY, and all NERVOUS DISEASES, which complaints arise from one simple rause—namely. from one simple cause—namely, A Derangement of the Nervous System.

no- In NERVOUS COMPLAINTS, Drugs and Medi-cines increase the disease, for they weaken the vital enercines increase the disease, for they weaken the vital energies of the already prostrated system; while under the strengthening, life-giving, vitalizing influence of Galvanism, as applied by this beautiful and wonderful discovery, the exhausted patient and weakened sufferer is restored to former health, strength, elasticity and vigor. The great peculiarity and excellence of

Dr. Christie's Galvanic Curatives, consists, in the fact that they arrest and cure disease by sutured application, in place of the usual mode of drugging and physicking the patient, till exhausted Nature sinks and poelessly under the indiction. must noperessly uncer the innicuon.

They etermethen the whole system equalize the circulation of the blood, premote the secretions, and never do the slightest animiny under any circumstances. Since their introduction in the United States, only three years since more than 60.000 Persons including all ages, classes and conditions, among which were a large number of ladies, who are peculiarly sub-ject to Nervous Complaints, have been ENTIRELY AND PERMANENTLY CURED. when all hope of relief had been given up, and every thing else Been tried in vain?

To illustrate the use of the GALVANIC BELT, suppose the case of a person afflicted with that bane of civilization, DVSEESIA, or say other Chronic or Nervous Disorder. In orditary cases, stimulants are taken, which, by their action on the nerves and muscles of the stomach, afford temperary relief, but which leave the patient in a lower state, and with injured faculties, after the action thus excited has ceased. Now compare this with the effect resulting from the application of the GALVANIC BELT. Take a Dyspaptic sufferer, even in the worse symptoms of an attack, and simply tie the Belt around the body, using the Magnetic Fluid as directed. In a short period the sineanible perspiration will set on the positive element of the Gelt, thereby causing a Galvanic circulation which will pass on to the negative, and hence back again to the positive, thus keeping up a continuous Galvanic circulation throughout the system. Thus the most servere cases of D18T2. ISIA are PERMANNELL CURED. A FEW DAYS IS OFTEN AMPLY SUFFICIENT TO ERADICATE THE DISEASE OF YEARS. when all hope of relief had been given up, and every thing else been tried in vain:

Never Knew the Like! Not a single case can be found where, properly used according to the printed directions that accompany each bottle, it failed to effect a rapid, safe and radical who ever it was introduced. The Watchman of Norristown, the Monigomery Ledger of Fontstown, the Neutralist of Skippackville, the Beauern Friend of Sunneytown, the Dental Pearli of New York, and others, recommended it as a certain, hualing remedy for all the diseases for which we recommend ut.
We have the testimony of the best Physicians in Monigomery County, in its favor, those who used it themselves, and who publicly recommended it to their patrone.

Add to this over two hundred cruifcates of the most respectable citizens of Nurristown, Reading.

most respectable citizens of Norristown, Reading, Easton, Fottsville, &c., &c., and you have a body of evidence in favor of the Compound Asiatic Balsam of Dr. M. G. Kerr & Bartolet, that is perfectly irresista-ble. Warranted in all cases.

SOBER FACTS THAT NONE CAN DENY! Now that the Coinpound Asiastic Balsam has been before the people of this place and County for several months, we submit the following facts to their candid independ: months, we submit the following facts to their candid judgment:

13t. That there never was a Medicine compounded that cared so invariably in so short a time, and with such entire safety and permanency, as the Baisam.

24. That it cures Diarrhwa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbds, Summer Complaint, Crambs and Colic, in from 30 minutes it afew hours. Hysentery not so soon, as that is of a more inflammatory nature, and under any trestment requires a longer time; but that syem much sooner than any other remedy or mode of treatment.

4th. That one bottle will cure a half dozen cases 413. That one bottle will cure a half dozen cases; thus proving it not only the surest remedy, but also the cheapest ever given to the public.

5th. That no family should be without it. Cases may saddenly arise of such severity that time does not occur to call the regular family Physician. Give the Halsam as directed; send for your Physician, and he will know if the remedy can be relied on; we are willing to abide his decision.

parts. I have not scripled to use and recommend it in my private practice, in which I have found it to possers unrommon curative properties. Under its use, cases recover in a much shorter time, and recoveries are more permanent than under any combination of remedies that I have ever tried. I do therefore, not hesitate to express my entire approbation of it and advise all to try it. Signed.

MOFFATS

Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters. These Medicines have now been before the public for a period of FIFTEN YEARS, and during that time have maintained a high charac-ter in almost every part of the globe for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring per-fect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable f certificated instances, they have even rescued sufferers from the very verge of an untimely grave, after all the deceptive nostrums of the day had utterly failed; and to many thousands they have permanently secured that uniform enjoyment of health, without which life itself is but ment of health, without which line heen is due a partial blessing. So great, indeed, has their efficacy invariably and infallibly proved, that it has appeared scarcely less than miraculous to those who were acquainted with the beautifully philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and upon which they consequently act. pounded, and upon which they consequency act.

It was to their manifest and sensible action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and enduing them with renewed tone and vigor, that they were indebted for their name.

they were indebted for their name.

Unlike the host of pernicious quackeries which boast of vegetable ingredients, the LIFE MEDICINES are purely and solely vegetable; and contain neither Mercury, nor Antimony, nor Arsenic, nor any other mineral, in any form whatever. They are entirely composed of extracts from rare and powerful plants, the virtues of which though long known to several Indian of which, though long known to several Indian ribes, and recently to some eminent pharmaceu tical chemists, are altogether unknown to the ignorant pretenders to medical science; and were never before administered in so happily efficacious Combination.

The first operation is to loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels the various impuri-ties and crudities constantly settling round them; and to remove the hardened faces which collect in the convolutions of the small intestines. Othe medicines only partially cleanse these, and leave such collected masses behind to produce habitual Costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudden Diarrhea with its imminent dangers. This fact is well-known to all regular anatomists who examine the human bowels after death; and hence the prejudice of these well-informed men against the quack medicines of the age. The second effect of the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDI-CINES is to cleanse the kidneys and the blad-der; and, by this means, the liver and lungs, the healthful action of which entirely depends upon the regularity of the urinary organs. The blood, which takes its red color from the agency of the liver and lungs, before it passes into the heart, being thus purified by them, and nourished by food coming from a clean stomach, courses freely through the veins, renews overy part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the ban-The following are among the distressing va-iety of human diseases in which the VEGE.

The Farmer.

COWS FOR FARMERS.

What are the qualities necessary to constiute a good cow? A good milker alone does not, in our judgement, constitute a good cow; neither does a good breeder nor a good feeder. It is these three qualities combined that makes the cow. Give us a cow that is good for milk, quality as well as quantity considered-that when properly bred to good bulls will invariably produce good calves, and one that when well dried of her milk will, with proper care and attention, take on flesh rapidly and evenly-and for one we rest, for awhile, at least, satisfied. And till we can raise up an entire herd of cows, each one of which shall possess these excellencies, our aim shall be to advance in improvement till we accomplish our object.

To possess the first of these qualities, a' cow should have a fine head, a little wide above the eyes, but quite small below, and ippear somewhat long. Her nose should be f a rich yellow color, or at all events not black; (we do not know of any full-blooded stock, of any breed, with black noses, but they frequently appear on stock as high breed as fifteen sixteenths.) Her neck should be very small where it joins the head, but widening and deepening as it approaches the shoulders and briskets. Her udder should be of a good size, well covered with long soft hair, and not inclined to fleshiness; large milk veins, and small delicate horns: they may be long in some breeds, but they should be fine, and she should have a yellow skin. To be a good breeder, she should in the first place, be descended from good stock; and the further back you can trace her from good stock the better. She should possess all the before-mentioned milking qualities, with a broad, straight back, wide loins and hips, long deep quarters, round ribs, bones small in proportion to her size, deep and full brisket, fore legs wide apart, and lastly, she. should be a good handler. A cow that is a good handler will also, almost invariably, . roduce rich milk; and if a first-rate handler, and possessing the before-mentioned qualities, she will be invariably a good feeder. The handling qualities is or has been, too much overlooked by breeders and judges of cattle-shows. Judges that will give in their decisions for premiums on stock, without even touching an animal, are, in dur opinion, unfit for that office. We shall not think of purchasing a cow for milk, stock, and beef, vithout knowing her to be a good handler.

-{N. A. Farmer. THE MULE. From the earliest period of American hisory, this valuable animal has been held in high esteem, and in many sections of our country he is used for most purposes in preference to the horse. The mule is a hybrid animal—the offspring of a jack and mare: Like all animals of his class, he is unable to perpetuate his species, and their existence can only be secured by having recourse to the animals from which they were originally derived. The advantages of the mule over the horse for labor, are, great patience under fatigue, hardness, great longevity. uniting apparently the age of both the animals from which it is derived, and ease of keeping. It is also remarkably strong, subject to few diseases, and performs most of the labors of the farm with as much facility when judiciously used, as the horse. "If we consider," says a writer, the "naural age of the horse to be thirty years, and that of the ass forty years, the mule would live to sixty-five or seventy, and this age is frequently attained by them. The mule is in great demand for the West Indies and South America, and is extensively bred for exportation to those countries. The mule is apable of longer continued bodily exertion than either the horse or the ass, as it is principally used for carrying heavy burdens over the wastes and mountains of all coun-

It is sometimes objected to the mule, and with justice, that he is vicious, but this is not necessarily so. By proper management and training while young, the mule may be endered remarkably tractable, and becomes in time one of the most placed of all animals. Another complaint is that they are too dimnutive for most kinds of farm work, and it is certain that this objection is sustained in most cases, yet the evil is not chargeable to any incorrigible propensity on part of the animal, but it is rather attributable to the system adopted by most breeders, and is owing to the size of the parents, and where large mares and good Spanish Jacks are selected, this objection is never known to exist. "It has been remarked," says a late writer, that as a general rule, the mule is just about the medium between the sire and dam, and hence it will be at once perceived that animals sufficiently large for ordinary purpose, can be obtained by proper precaution and care in the selection of animals from which to breed."

The business of breeding mules for market is perhaps more extensively pursued and beter understood in Kentucky and Tennesseo than in any other States of the Union .--When Governor Shelby of Kentucky died a few years since, at the settlement of his estate. it is said that the sale of his mules produced a sum of between fourteen and fifteen thousand dollars. Several spans sold as high as five hundred dollars each.

GALLS ON HORSES. Alum dissolved in whiskey will cure galls on horses caused by the collar or other pieces of the harness. It will prevent galls from forming, or where they have occurred, constant bathing will secure the continued use of the horses, and actually heal the wound while in service. We commend this simple remedy as worthy of trial. For housekeepers,
