Miners Journal. Saturday Morning, Nov. 23.

OUR IMPROVEMENTS. We have been very busy during the week in making the improvements in our office. proposed some weeks since. They are. however, completed and we are happy to announce to our readers that the inner form of this number of the Journal was worked off on our new Power Press. Efforts will be renewed, if possible, to please our patrons in every respect, and we shall no longer labor under any difficulty in accommodating any number of subscribers. We hope delinquent subscribers will take a hint and forward the amount of their bills. Our expenses are heavy. Nothing has been spared for your accommodation, and we think we for your accommodation, and we think we are deserving of prompt payments, and apenty of them: Now is the time for new subscriptions, and we shall be glad it our friends will interest themselves in furnishing us with fresh lists from every quarter.

**UNION SPIRIT IN THE NORTH.**

**The spirit of the North, though always considered thoroughly Union, has never before been so fully expressed as by the recent calls to various Union meetings in different parts of the country. There is but one sentiment that pervades the pairtoite breasts of our citizens, "The Union must be preserved." In N. A GREAT ADVANTAGE TO BE GAINED.—BY keeping always on hand a bottle of G. W. Merchant's celebrated Gargling Oil for Horses, or Universal Family Embrocation. One man says while taking a pot of boans from the oven for his "better half," the hot fat ran over his hands, which caused great alarm and load calls for the Gargling Oil, (which, by the way was on band) and which was at once septied and the hands soon cured without suffering.
