JUSTICE FOR IRELAND.

ST WM. ALLINGHAM. "Justice for Ireland!", if ye can,
A host of writers brogish;
Nor paint each fellow-countryman
As blundering or roguish.
Think less of oddities and rags,
And more of human nature;
And 'stead of party-words and flags,
March under something greater.

"Sustice for Ireland ( O ye Priests, Both Protestant and Roman; Let each observe his tasts and feasts.
But try to anger no man But try to anger no man
Religion's rind is little worth.
The milk is in the kernel.
And love is of celestial birth,
All-hatred of internal.

" Justice for Ireland !" echoing hand Of empty Agitators; Who score each noiseless, busy hand.
And canonife the praters.
Well may shrewd foes in secret scoff,

Nor think your mouths or corking While so much steam is blowing off. There's little left for working "Justice for Ireland!" brothers all. Of every creed and station; And other counsel it we call. For saving of the nation— This maxim in the meantime prize Nor think its planness-hambling LET EVERY ONE REWARE OF LIES;

MRS. PARTINGTON In A New York Theater .- "How d'ye do, I' so glad to see you, " said Mrs. Partington as she stopped at Mrs. Peabodie's on her way from the depot. "I've just come from New York, and I've seen twice as much as ever I saw in Bosting. I saw the Rochester rappins at a hotel there. The man was a rappin away at the bar and there was all sorts of spirits behind the counter. But Mr.

3. "Youth's Columbian Calculator."—This is a Primary Arithmetic, embracing all the rules to the Single Rule of Three inclusive, with about 900 questions for solution, adapted to the American currency. This volume is acknowledged by those who have used it to be far superior to any Primary Arithmetic that has ever been issued by the American press.

3. "A KET to the Youth's Calculator," in which the volution of the questions are given in full, for the use of teachers.

5. "A Key to the Columbian Calculator," including a variety of miscellaneous matter, in mensuration, fractions, &c., for the use of teachers.

6. "Columbian Sprinting-Book."—The arrangement of this book is different from those in use; the lessons are introduced so as to make it progressive, leading the jupil forward gradually from the most simple words, to those more difficult, so that in a short space of time he will be able to master any lesson in the book.

7. "Tratatise on Mensuration, on the Square TREATISE ON MENSURATION, OR THE SQUARE and Transcis."—This volume is much simplified when compared, with other works of the kind, in the smission of the more objectionable parts of the old books, and the introduction of raluable practical matter in relation to the daily occurrences of life; adapted to the use of schools and every buisness-man in the ommunity.

9. "A KEY to the Mensuration," in which all the examples are given in full.

These Books, and particularly the Geometry and Ansse Books, and particularly the Geometry and Mensuration, were prepared expressly for the Public Schools of this country. They are easier, ckeeper and of a more practical ckeracter, than any other works of the kind published in the United States.

MARRIAGE: WHY SO OFTEN UNHAPPY. THE CAUSES AND THE REMEDY! Many and many a wife endures years of bodily suffering and of mental anguish, prestrate and help-less, embittering her life, that of her husband, and hazarding the future welfare of her children, arising from causes which, if known, would have spared the suffering, the anguish to the wife, and to the husband embarrassments and pecuniary difficulties having their origin in the mind being weighed down and harassed in consequence of the sickness of the companion of his bosom. How important that the causes should be known to every wife, to every husband, that the dreadful and harrowing consequences to the health and hap-piness of both may be avoided! Life is too short and health too precious to admit any portion of the one to be spent without the full enjoyment of the other.

despaired of I supposed that this state of things was minent danger, and which was, on the last occasion, despaired of I supposed that this state of things was inertiable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. At this time (now about two months) I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters reaching my case. On its receipt and perusal, I can not express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind and the loy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Desomenax provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. No pecusiary consideration can ever repay the obligations I am under to you for having been the means of imparting to us the matters contained in 'The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion.' But for this, ere another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have head in her stave, and my children left motherless.'

IN MANY THOUSANDS f certificated instances, they have even rescued of certificated instances, they have even rescued sufferers from the very verge of an untimely grave, after all the deceptive mostrums of the day had utterly failed; and to many thousands they have permanently secured that uniform enjoyment of health, without which life itself is but a partial blessing. So great, indeed, has their efficacy invariably and infallibly proved, that it these presents and manney proved, that it has appeared scarcely less than miraculous to those who were acquainted with the beautifully philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and upon which they consequently act. It was to their manifest and sensible action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and enduing those with renewed tone and viror, that Unlike the host of permicious quackories which basis of vegetable ingredients, the LIFF MEDICINES are purely and solely segetable; and contain neither Mercury, nor Antimony, nor Arsenic, nor any other mineral, in any form whatever. They are entirely composed of extracts from rare and powerful plants, the virtues of which, though long known to several Indian tribes, and recently to some eminent pharmaceutical chemists, are altogether unknown to the ignorant pretenders to medical science; and were never before administered in so happily efficacious a combination.

The first operation is to loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels the various impuri-ties and crudities constantly settling round them; and to remove the hardened faces which collect in the convolutions of the small intestines. Other medicines only partially cleanse these, and leave Costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudde Diarrhoa with its imminent dangers. This fact is well-known to all regular anatomists who examine the human bowels after death; and honce the prejudice of these well-informed men against the prejudice of these well-informed their against the quack medicines of the age. The second effect of the VEGETARLE LIFE MEDI-CINES is to cleanse the kidneys and the bladder; and, by this means, the liver and lungs, the healthful action of which entirely depends upon the regularity of the urinary organs. The blood, which takes its red color from the agency of the liver and lungs, before it passes into the heart, being thus purified by them, and nourished by food coming from a clean stomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming cheek.

The great peculiarity and excellence of consists, in the fact that they arrest and cure disease by suspered application, in place of the usual mode of sdrugging and physicking the puttent, till exhausted Nature inits hopelessly under the infliction.

They arrengthen the whole system equalize the circulation of the blood, premate the secretions, and mayer do the slightest injurys under any circumstances. To avoid these evils, the shelves should be in the centre with a passage all round. This introduction in the United States only three years since the walls.

60.000 Persons including all ages, clusses and conditions, among which were a large number of ladies, who are peculiarly subject to Nervous Complaints, have been ENTIRELY AND PERMANENTLY CURED when all hope of relief had been given up, and every thing else been tried in vain ! when all nope of relief now been given up, and every thing else been tried in vano!

To illustrate the use of the GALVANIC BELFF, suppose the case of a person afficied with that bare of civilization, OVSP-LISTA, or any other Chronic or Nervous Disorder. In ordinary cases stimulants are taken, which, by their action on the across and musice of the stomach, afterd temporary relief, but which leave the patient in 3 lower state and with injured faculties, after the action thus excited his costed. Now compare this with the effect resulting from the application of the GALVANIC BELFT. Itske if tyappits sufferer, wen in the worse symptoms of an attack, and simply the the Belt around the hody, using the Vagnetic Fluid as directed in a short period the insensible perspiration will act on the positive element of the Relt, thereby causing a cial-gain circulation which will pass on to the negative, and ranic circulation which wilt pass on to the negative, and hence back again to the positive thus keeping up a continuous Galvanic circulation throughout the system. In this pleasant vale of beauty.

Since the springtime of my years.

O, this thick old grove of maple.

To heart its ahades are dear.

For the light of pleasant faces.

That have looked upon me here. When the black woods of the winter Saw my foot prints in the snow; When the first faint leaves of springtime Threw their trembling shade below;

When the burning heat of summer Made these heavy shadows sweet, Or the red leaves of the autumn Brightly drifted to my feet. Talking hopeful of the future:
Here what hours have been beguiled,
Ever since these woods beheld mo,

But a little sinless child.
Yet I am not sad or lonesome,
Though of friends that I have known. Some are changed and parted from me; Some I loved are dead and gone! Passed from life's dim shore forever: O, I cannot weep their lot;
On the heavenly side of Jordon,
Are the groves that wither not
And the living, once so cherished,
Cast no shadow on my heart;
Had they loved, they had not left me;
Better then to live apart.

FRUIT IN CELLARS. A great deal of winter fruit suffers early decay in consequence of a deficiency of ventilation, especially during autumn and after the fruit is deposited. Another cause of decay is the improper location of the shelves or bins, which are placed against or around or bins, which are placed against or around the walls. By this inconvenient arrangegles of the already prostrated system; while under the strengthening, life-giving, vitalizing indusence of Galvanism, as applied by this heautiful and wonderful discovery, the exhausted patient and weakened sufferes is control to former health, strength, elasticity and vigor. operator must stretch himself in a most irksome horizontal position. The circulation allows circulation of air, and the shelves may be twice the width with the same convenience in assorting or picking. If suspended from the joists above on stiff bars, rats cannot reach them. We have never succeeded so well by any other than this arrangement. It is said that the Germans are very successful in the ventilation of their cellars, by a communication with the principal chimney, the heated air in which ne-

There is one principle which should not covering applied to tender plants, more especially to the woody portions or paris above ground. This is, that the exclusion of moisture is an important object without excluding air. & Ligatures are sometimes left on inserted buds for protection, and more usually destroy the buds by retaining water like a sponge. Closely wrapped straw operates in the same way, as well as by excluding air, which is often important. Roots and stems like those of the grape, which will bear a greater degree of moisture, are partial exceptions. Roots, even, are often destroyed when in a too moist soil; and there is no doubt that many tender herbaceous perennials would survive the rigors of our winters,

The epidermis of the beet and turnip root, unlike that of the potato, admits the rapid escape of moisture, and hence if exposed to dry air for a few days, they begin to wilt and ose their freshness. Buried in heaps out of doors, they keep well, but are hard to get at in the winter. Good substitutes have been devised, by lining and covering the boxes which contain them in the cellar, with flakes of turf; or by burying them in barrels with slightly moist clean sand.
