Space of the well behaved intelligent man is respected although he may be poor, and we wish this fact to be spread far and wide, and to be felt by every man. The possessor of knowledge who enjoys the simple pleasure of reading, is more rich strictly speaking, than the rich ignorant man and he feels conscious that he has the means of gratifying a desire—of enjoying an enjoyment (tautological though the expression be) of a more pleasurable nature than any which can be enjoyed by the most wealthy barbarian who cannot say his A B C.

The Man that first introduced a fanning-mill into Scotland, was denounced as an atheist. In the opinion of the old fogies of that generation, it was "flying sinto the face of the Laird"—and getting up a gale of wind when Providence willed a calm.
