and has more freshness than white lead, and mixes well with any color.

Gray Oride.—The gray oxide of xinc is used in the same manner as the white, it has the same qualities except the color. Its lower price renders it preferable to paint fences, walls, iron-railing or plate, &c., instead of minium, which is rapidly destroyed under the influence of the atmosphere.

Colors band on Zinc.—The Company has invented yellow and green colors, unalterable and harmless to health, in place of those from lead, copper and arsenic, dangerous and liable to change.

The greens made from zinc, resist the action of platsh, suphuric hydrogen, and the most intense heat, son or atmosphere.

The yellow colors of different shades, vimple or mixed, are equally superior to those from lead.

For the Bons. THE OLD MAN. No expression that we are acquainted with, grates so harshly upon our ears as that of "the old man," when it comes from the lips of a son, speaking of his father. It is irreverant, and shows lack of some kind in the training of the child. The person who habitually uses the expression is either intimate with low characters, or he does not feel period amounting now to nearly seventy that respect and reverence due from a child to a parent. In excuse it is said, 'tis but a jest and

LIKENESS IN DIFFERENCE.

There was a tale of feeling,
Told at eve, in a stately room,
Where the air was an odor stealing,
And the light was a gorgeous gloom;
And there was a story whispered
At a window, whose only blind
Was of wet vine leaves that glistened
And shook in the swaying wind;
Two tales that were diverse spoken,
Yet their import ons, I knew,
And the language of each was broken—
And both were true!

There was a maiden queenly—
Through bright halls gliding came.
Which grew brighter, as still serenely
She smiled o'er an unbreathed name;

And there stood a maiden lonely
On the hearth, striving, line by line,
By the light of the embers only,
To spell out a Valentine.

Two hearts that were keeping duly
One time and one tune in each breast,
Both true-loved and loving truly—
And both were blest!

means nothing. If so, it were better not to jest on such a subject, and use some expression that does mean something. "Old man" is used as a term of reproach, a sort of by-word, and a bugaboo to scare bad children, and in the manner used expresses a sort of contempts or don't care.
