Appropriate addresses were depreciated over the whole State, and the people are every where expressing their determination to entrust the offices to be filled to wise and worthy inen only-such as deserve their confidence, and who can be trusted with the high responsibilities of governmental authority. There is hardly a doubt but that the present incumbent will receive the nomination for Governor again, and independent of his being the most popular candidate, he is undoubtedly the best man that the party of the people of the old Keystone, centered Reckon she wasn't used to it. One advanas they are upon Whi. F. JOHNSTON, are worthily bestowed-he is deserving their highest regard and confidence.
