WHIG NOMINATIONS. WILLIAM F. JOHNSON, FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER. JOHN STROHM, for Lancaster.

JUDGES OF THE SUPREME COURT. RICHARD COULTER, of Westmoreland. JOSHUA CHAMBERS, of Franklin. WILLIAM M. MEREDITH, of Philadelphia. WILLIAM JESSUP, of Susquehanna.

THE WHIG TICKET.

In another column our readers will find the proceedings of the Lancaster Convention. The ticket there presented, is calculated to give universal satisfaction. The candidates are able, well-known, and popular men, and with the proper kind of support on the part of the Whigs, the ticket is bound to carry.

A "union and harmony" strongly agitated, was with the proceedings of the Lancaster Convention, characterized the entire nomination. Nothing could be more satisfactory, or more judiciously the result of the coming campaign. The discount and opposition manifestly and openly expressed on all sides, by their own party, toward the Locofoco nominations, are evidence of the general disapprobation of the means used by certain political tricksters, to accomplish their personal ends, in securing the nomination of their favorites.

Our readers are already aware that the regularly elected delegates of Lancaster county were denied their seats in the Reading convention, and compelled to attend at Lancaster. Everything was done openly and above board, and with the honest heart and one mind of the whole Whig party.

Governor Johnson has proved himself a faithful and efficient officer. His labors to lessen the taxes of the People, and to establish the financial character of the State, in a condition to command respect and confidence, have entitled him to the lasting gratitude of his citizens.

His private character is unimpeachable. Even some of his political opponents, reaching and unscrupulous partisans, are speaking out in a manly manner in his defence, to the rebuke and disgrace of those who attempt to defame him.

The candidates are all men of the highest qualifications. They rank in point of ability among the foremost citizens of the country, and are too well known to be more highly appreciated, by any commendation we can give them.

Their eminent talents have been recognized by the most important positions in the government, and the manner in which they acquitted themselves, has proved them to be no wise unworthy the confidence they had previously inspired. The punctual discharge of former responsibilities is the best guarantee of future faithfulness.

The Resolutions of the two Conventions, strongly contrast, in one respect especially. The Locofocos, unblushingly reiterate their Free Trade doctrine, while the Whig delegates, in their resolutions, are all loudly for Home Protection. This goes to show, conclusively, which party appreciates the labor of Home Industry, and which is doing most to protect our own laborers and manufacturers from the competition of European cheap labor.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Chief Justice Marshall once said: "I have always thought, from my earliest youth, that the greatest safety to an angry Heron is to be inflated upon an ungrateful and sinning people, was an ignorant, a corrupt, or a dependent Judiciary."

By the testimony of some of the most prominent Locofoco lawyers in the State, one of the candidates of their party for the Supreme Bench, is an eminently able and experienced lawyer, and one of their candidates is immoral. All know that two of their nominees are mere partisans and have attained their position by the force of party discipline and a reward for party services.

As to the ability of the Whig nominees, no one will question that. They have all for years occupied conspicuous positions in the political management of the day, and their nominations were chiefly effected by local influence and partizan trickery. They are all men of high qualifications. They are, moreover, removed from political influences and partizanship, although consistent advocates of the principles they profess, and the people will on this account more willingly support them.

By all means, let us have a fair trial, and let our nominations be chiefly effected by local influence and partizanship, although consistent advocates of the principles they profess, and the people will on this account more willingly support them.

"HARMONIOUS" OR DEMOCRACY. To give our readers an idea of the party "union and harmony," of which the Locofocos are boasting, we subjoin a few extracts from some of their leading presses upon the nominations of their State ticket.

In the proceedings of the Lancaster Convention, we were not only democratic, but we were patriotic; we selected our men, and the principles of justice require that he should have been one of the five nominees for the Supreme Bench.

Judge Woodward declined; Judge Coningham declined; this left but one candidate for the North. Every county composing that territory is not only democratic, but by a large majority. As the matter stands, Philadelphia City, Lancaster, Somerset and Allegheny, each furnish a man—the four being equal counties in population.

We are sorry for this abandonment of a whole section of the State. It grieves us to contemplate it. It is a severe blow, and our people are not only disappointed, but they are angry. We have only wanted in the field in the hour of strife, and the fruits of the victory were to be shared by all.

The Lancaster press, which is anti-Buchanan, and which has been heretofore the organ of the Locofoco party of that county, complains bitterly of the course pursued by the Reading convention, which refused seats to the anti-Buchanan Delegates from Lancaster county, although they were elected strictly according to party usage.

It boldly charges bargain and sale upon the convention, which prohibited the delegates; it complains that the delegates were not allowed to be present, and that the delegates were not allowed to be present, and that the delegates were not allowed to be present.

Our readers are already aware that the regularly elected delegates of Lancaster county were denied their seats in the Reading convention, and compelled to attend at Lancaster. Everything was done openly and above board, and with the honest heart and one mind of the whole Whig party.

EDITOR'S TABLE. SAVANNAH, for July, below us. The result of the election in this State has been a triumph for the Whigs. The Locofoco party has been defeated, and the Whig party has been elected to office.

The Whig party, to nominate candidates for Governor, Canal Commissioner and five Supreme Judges, met at Lancaster, Tuesday. A great crowd was in attendance. The Convention was called to order, and for the purpose of a temporary organization, the Hon. Samuel W. Pearson, of Somerset, and Amos S. Henderson, of Lancaster, appointed Secretaries.

The President, among other communications, submitted the following preamble, which, after some discussion, was declared to be a counterfeited copy of the Democratic Convention resolutions.

The Convention then proceeded to nominate candidates for Governor, Canal Commissioner and five Supreme Judges. The following names were proposed: Governor, Samuel W. Pearson; Canal Commissioner, Amos S. Henderson; Supreme Judges, Richard Coulter, Joshua Chambers, William M. Meredith, and William Jessup.
