ZINC PAINTS,

Manufactured by the New Jersey Exploring and Mining Company, NEWARK, N. J.

THIS Company is prepared to furnish a supply of those valuable ZINC PAINTS, which have been found after several years triel, both in Europe and the United States to retain their original beauty and protective properties, superior to any other Paint whatever. Their Whits Zinc Paint, is purely an Oxide of Zinc, and is warranted free from all adulteration and impurity whatever; it covers well, is beautifully white and is entirely, free from the poisonous properties of paints made from Lead, so dangerous to the health of Painters and Families. It will not turn fellow when exposed to subpherous, or mephtic exhalations, or evan when shut up in a close room.— As an outside paint it withstands any climate and weather better than any other, not being liable to turn chalky and crumble, or-tub off. It may be worked with any other color, with water and size, or with d with any other color, with water and size, or was arnish, which gives the celebrated Porcelain Finish r China Glois.

BLACK AND COLORED ZINC PAINTS.—These BLACK AND COLORED ZINC PAINTS.—These are farnished at a low price and are the cheapest and best Paints in the market for coating Roofs, Peneing, Barns, Out-houses, Steam Boilers, Steamboats, Ships or any other exposed surface of Wood, Brick, Tin, Iron or Stone as they are both Weather and First Proof. For iron or metalic eurfaces they are particularly valuable, as they form a Galvanic connection and entirely prevent oxidation or rust; they dry quickly with a polished surface, do not blister or crack on wood or metal, and having a pure metalic base do not change color like many of the earthy paints now in use; in proof of which we refer to the following certificates:

PHILADA. Gas Works, May 15, 1851.

Messrs. F. C. Jones & Co.—Gentlemen: Having made several trials of your Brown Zinc Paints in various methods calculated to test its protective qualities upon Wood and Metal, I have the satisfaction to state that the results have been highly favorable. The paint covering well, drying quickly and possessing greater tenacity, especially upon iron than any other paint with which I am familiar. Yours Truly, JOHN C. CRESSON, Engineer of the Philadelphia Gas Works.

The undersigned having used the Zinc Paints referred to, concur in the foregoing opinion.

by the State Mutual Fire Insurance Company. It is a mutual organization, chartered by the Legislature in 1850. It embraces two important branches, that of indemnifying the Merchant and the Farmer against ture in this company's system of business is, that each branch pay its own losses, thus the farmer is not liable for loss in the merchant, nor is the merchant liable for loss in extra hazardous ricks, for it will be seen in the By-Laws of this Company, that such risk

A PACK OF CARDS.

A nobleman in the city of London, who kept a great number of servants, reposed considerable confidence in one of them, which excited a jealousy with the others, who, in order to prejudice their master against him, accused him of being a notorious gamester. Jack was called up and closely interrogated; but he denied the fact, at the same time declaring he never played a card in his life .-To be more fully convinced, the gentleman ordered him to be searched; when behold a pack of cards was found in his pocket.— Highly incensed at Jack's want of veracity, the nobleman demanded, in a rage, how he dured persist in an untruth? "My lord," replied he "I certainly do not know the meaning of a card; the bundle found in my following anecdote:

nocket is my Almanac." "Your Almanac, The morning following the battle at Yorkpocket is my Almanac." "Your Almanac, indeed! then I desire you will prove it."— Well, sir, I will begin. There are four suits in the pack, that intimates the four limbs were so much injured as to require and reading them: after all receive from e vear : and there are thirteen store in the cards in each suit, and there are thirteen weeks in a quarter. The twelve court cards remind me of the twelve patriarchs from whom spring the twelve tribes of Israel, the twelve me of the twelve patriarchs from whom sprung the twelve tribes of Israel, the twelve Apostles, the twelve articles of the Christian faith. The King reminds me of the allegiance due to his majesty. The queen of the same to her majesty. The queen of the same to her majesty. The ten brings to my recollection the ten cities in the plains of Sodom and Gomorrah, destroyed by fire and brimstone from heaven; the ten plagues of Egypt, the ten commandments, the ten tribes seven seals wherewith the book of life is sealed, the seven liberal arts and sciences given by God for the instruction of man, and the seven wonders of the world. The six reminds me of the six petitions contained in the Lord's prayer. The five reminds me of the senses given by God to man: hearing, seeing, feeling, tasting, and smelling. The four puts me in mind of the four Evangelists, and the four seasons of the year. The three reminds me of the Trinity, the three hours our Saviour was on the Cross, and the three days he lay interred. The two reminds me of the two testaments, and the two contrary principles struggling in men, virtue and vice. The ace reminds me of the only true God to adore, worship and serve, one only faith to believe, one !ruth to practice, and one good master to serve and obey." "So far is very well," said the nobleman, "but I believe you have omitted one card, the knave."-True my lord, the knave reminds me of ORIGIN OF THE PENNY POST. A traveller, sauntering through the Lake Districts of England, some years ago, arrived at a small public house just as, the postman stopped to deliver a letter. A young girl came out to receive it. She took it in her hand, turned it over and over, and asked the charge. It was a large sum—no less than a shilling. Sighing heavily, she observed that it came from her brother, but that she was too poor to take it in, and she returned it to the postman accordingly. The traveller was a man of kindness as well as of observation; he offered to pay the postage himself, and in spite of more reluctance on the girl's part-than he could well understand, he did pay it and gave her the letter.

No sooner, however, was the postman's back turned than she confessed that the proceeding had been concerted between her brother and herself; that the letter was empty. that certain signs on the direction conveyed all that she wanted to know, and that, as they could neither of them afford to pay post-age, they had devised this method of franking the intelligence desired. The traveller pursued his journey, and as he plodded over the Cumberland fells he mused upon the badness of a system which drove people to such straits for means of correspondence, and deaga. A few days before his end, which he straits for means of correspondence, and defelt was approaching, he sent for his lawyer feated its own objects all the time.
