IT A MAN, somewhat given to superstition, dreamed on Sunday night, that he saw an omnibus up Washington street, containing four passengers, and drawn by six horses, each animal having six legs. Upon waking from his sleep, he sprang out of bed and after a lottery ticket, with the numbers 4, 8, 48, upon it. Finding one at last, he paid 320 for it, 12 per cent. off. On Tuesday, strange to relate! the ticket drew-a blank!

NEW FIELDS FOR AGRICULTURE. Mr. Francis Bonynge, an Englishman of decided intelligence and modesty, who has spent some fourteen years of his life in India and Western China, is now passing through the press in our city, a book setting forth the facility and signal advantages of naturalizing and prosecuting among us the cultivation of Tea, Coffee, Indigo, the Date, Blango, Jack, Leechee, Guava, and Orange trees. Of course, he does not assert that all these may be grown in the latitude of New York, but that all of them be probtably grown within the limits of our country, and some of them-Tea especially—as in as high latitudes as this, and even higher. He estimates that good Tea grown here would ultimately cost only six cents per pound, while it would thus be secure from the poisonous adulterations now generally practiced upon it by the Chinese, who, in spite of the moral precents of Confucius, are the greatest swindlers on Politices, he Pin Mar.

the face of the earth. That most of the productions instanced by Mr. Bonynge might and should be grown among us, we have no manner of doubt. It is absurd, it is disgraceful, that we of the United States should go on buying a single agricultural product of a temperate climate like our own, at a cost of many millions per annum, without even trying to grow it for ourselves. Many persons commit great errors in building amoke houses. To be nice, and be a Det handsome and respectable appurtenance on a farm, it must forsooth be built of brick or stone, with close fitting doors, and a single aperture for the egress of the smoke. The consequence is, the meat is black and bitter.

becomes flabby and ill-colored: A smoke house can hardly be too open. It takes longer, to be sure, to perfect the pro-cess; but when completed, the meat is dr.
