HOW A COAT WAS IDENTIFIED.

"Thin look at it," said Patrick, as he passed the coat into the hands of Timothy, who vainly searched every part of it for his name, and passed it back to Patrick, boastingly saying, "An' now let us say if you can be findin' the likes iv yer own name upon the garment.".

"Ye'll stick to the 'greement," said Patrick, eagerly grasping the coat.

collar of his coat, taking therefrom two very small peas, exclaiming as he held them out $7 50 to each inhabitant, and to each family in his hand: in his hand :

" There d'ye see that !"

"Yes; but what iv that," said Timothy.

Uniontown, Fayette co.; Pa., July 2, 1850.

This is to certify that we have sold Dr. S. P. Townsend's Sarsaparilla for many years, and consider it a very valuable medicine, many cures having heen effected in our vicinity. A young man by the name of Westley Rotherock, of this place, was cured of the Serofula, (baving large lumps in his neck) by the use of one bottle.

THOS. REED, & SON, Huntingdon, Pa., July 3d, 1850.

NOTICE.

The public are notified that Dr. S. P. Townsend's Extract of Sursaparilla, will in future be manufactured under the direction of James R. Chilton, Chemiat, whose name in connection with that of Dr. S. P. Townsend will be upon each bottle, to prevent fraud. Sold at BANNAN'S iold at Bookstore, Pottyville, Wholesale and Retail.

The Recipe to manufacture this article, was sold a few months ago, for the sum of Ose Hundred Thousand Dulars, the best evidence of its great worth as a medicine. The sale has been unexampled.

The article sold as Old Dr. Jacob Townsend's, is all a "Humbug." Jacob Townsend is a Vender of Periodicals in New York, and a firm pay him several tendered dolliers a year for the use of his name, for the purpose of manufacturing a spurious article, and paim it off upon the public as the "genulue article," by calling it old Doct. remarkable.

BCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE:

Baron Liebig, in his relebrated work on Animal chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid anagous to the Gastric Julce, may be readily prepared at the mucous membrane of the atomach of the Calford which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human atomach.

Dr. Pereira, in his famouts treatise on "Food and Diet," published by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 35, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira;

Dr. Combe, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a dimunition of the dae quantity of the Gastric Julce is a prominent and all-prevailing cause of Dyspepia;" and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, finding eyesything else to fall, had recourse to the Gastric Julce, obtained from the stomach of itving animals, which proved completely successful."

Dr. Graham, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Diet," suys: "it is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomache of animals, macerated in water, impart to 'the fluid the property of discolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of are tificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestive process."

Dr. Shuon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lea & Blanchard, Phila. 1985, pp. 231-2) says: "The discovery of PEPBIN forms a new era in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments, we know that food is dissolved as rapidy in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural Gastric Julce itself."

Professor Dunglison of the Jefferson College, Phila elephia, in his great work on human Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this subject. His experiments with Dr. Beamont, on the Gastric Juice, obtained from the living human stomach and from animals are well known. "In all cases," he says, "digestion occurred as perfectly in the artifictal as in the natural digestions."

Dr. John W. Draper, Professor of Chemistry in the Medical College of the University of New York, in his "Text Book of Chemistry," page 386, says: "It has been a question whether artificial digestion could be performed—but it is now universally admitted that it may be."

be performed—but it is now universally admitted that it may be."

Dr. Carpenter's standard work on Physiology, which is in the library of every physician, and is used as a Text Book in all the Colleges, is full of evidence similar to the above, respecting, theremarkable Digestive power of Pepsin, and the fact that it may be readily separated from the stomach, of the calf or ox, and used for experiments in artificial digestion, or as a remedy for disease of the Stomach, and deticient secretion of Gastric Juice.

All modern works on Chemistry, Materia Medica, and Physiology, and all good Medical Dictionaries, describe the character and properties of Pepsin, and state many interesting details respecting it.

The fact that an artificial digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice, perfectly resembling the material field, may be readily prepared, does not admit of question. The only wonder is, that it has not been applied to the cure of indigestion and Dyspepsia—so naturally does such a use suggest itself to the mind.

AS A DYSPERSIA CURER. Dr. Houghton's Peppin has produced the most mar-vellous effects, in curing cases of Debility, Emaciation Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptle Consumption. It is impossible to give the details of cases in the limits this advertisement; but authenticated certificates have been given of more than Two Hundred remark-able cares, in Philiadelphia, New York, and Boston alone. There is no form of old Stomach Complaints which it does not seem to reach and remove at once. No matter how badthey may be, it gives instant relief:
A single doso removes all the unpleasant symptoms; and it only needs to be repeated for a short time to make these good effects permanent. Purity of blood, and vigor of body follow at once. It is particularly excellent in cases of Nausca, Vomiting, Cramps, Norshaus of the pit of the Stomach, distress after eating, low, cold state of the Blood, Henviness, Lowness of Spirits, Despondency, Einschalton, Weakness, tendency to Insanity, Suicide, &c.

Dr Houghton's Pepsin, is sold by nearly all the dealersin fine drugs and Popular Medicines, throughout the United States. It is prepared in Powder and in Field form—and in Prescription vitals for the use of physicians.

The second of the Research will go at an account of the Research of the Resear omitted a great moral duty, and was, at the time, neglectful of his interest. Thus think: ing and believing, we have been for years laboring to impress our own convictions upon the minds of our readers; and it has been a satisfaction to us to know that, to a great extent, our labors have been fruitful of good results : but as we are apprehensive there is > sidering it to be one of vast importance in every light in which it may be viewed .-With these prefatory remarks, we will proceed to point out certain things which should be done this month to ensure supplies of early vegetables the coming season; and as the suggestions we shall make, if carried out, will not be expensive, we indulge the hope that the LADY of every subscriber to our Journal will feel herself called upon to see that her garden be made such a one as may be looked up to as an example for thes neighborhood-such a one as will elicit the praise of all whose judgments are worthy of still a large verge to be filled up, we shall continue to call attention to the subject, con-

appreciation: Sowing Seeds for EERLY Use .- It is to be presumed that all our enterprising readers have prepared their gardens with hot-bed frames, therefore, we take pleasure to remind them that during this month they should sow seed of the following kinds of vegetables, viz :- Cabbages, of early and late kinds, Lettuce, Tomatoes, Egg-plants, Cauliflower, Broccoli, Celery and Oyster-plants or Salisfy.

Celery seed may be sown in the open ground as soon as the frost is out of the ground, to raise a crop to succeed that which may be grown from the plants grown in the hot-bed.

RADISHES.—If you have a good loamy, warm border, facing the south, and protected on the north and west, you may sow radishes thereon towards the latter part of the month, or so soon as the frost is out of the ground. The border must be well manured, dug deep, and thoroughly pulverized by frequent raking. Should frost unexpectedly come after the seed is sown, or the plants up, protect the border by a covering of straw. corn-stalks, or pine bushes.

PARSNIPS, CARROTS, BEETS.-To secure an party supply of these for family use, vo should drill in a few rows of each, so soon as, from the absence of frost, the ground can be dug and put in good order. Manure with 8 parts rotten dung, and 2 parts ashes, I Juice: Prepared from Rennet, or the fourth Stomach of the Ox: after directions of Baron Liebig, dig the ground a spade deep, rake well, and the great Physiological chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D. of Philadelphia, Pa. deep, sow the seed very thinly, cover with stir them frequently with the hoe, and keep warm borders there. RASPBERRIES .- Prune the vines, He unthe bearing ones, and dig in a compost composed of 6 parts rotten dung, 1 part ashes, and 1 part bone-earth. This compost should be thoroughly mixed together, and remain in heap some days before being used, in order that the incipient stage of decomposition may be excited in the bones, before the compost is used.

GRAPE-VINES should be pruned, if not done before, tied up, and dressed with the same compost as that recommended for raspberries. CURRANTS-GOOSEBERRIES.-Trim your current and gooseberry bushes, and give them a dressing of the same compost recommended above. The parts cut off, it you desire to multiply your current and gooseberry bushes, may be planted out in a

STRAWBERRY BEDS .- Whenever the frost is entirely out of the ground, is the time to clean up your strawberry beds. At this time dig in lightly a pretty free dressing of a compost composed of 6 parts rotten dung. ? parts ashes, and then rake finely, spread straw between the rows, over the straw strew tanner's bark, and sow salt over the bed-Asparagus Beds .- Thoroughly clean up your beds, then apply a full dressing of the compost advised above for strawberries, dig it in with a hay fork, taking care not to disturb the crowns of the roots, rake between the rows, and sow salt over the bed with a very free hand. POT AND MEDICINAL HERBS.—As every garden should be supplied with these, we will give a list of such as ought to be in every farmer and planter's garden. Sage, Thyme, Hyssop, Sweet and Pot Marjoram.
