SEED POTATOES.

There is no crop the farmer raises that equires so much seed, or seed of which costs so much to the acre as potatoes—ranging from eight to twenty bushels-the difference being one quarter in large or small seed ; or, it it takes sixteen bushels, which is about the average of fair sized potatoes, to plant an acre, the same might be done with four very : small ones, making a difference of twelve bushels-no small item at the present prices of S1, per bushel, which would be S12 m favor of small seed in planting one acre. For six years I have planted both large and small seed-sometimes from necessity, but have always carefully noted the difference, which has been uniformly and decid edly in favor of large seed. I will specify two cases. In the spring of 1849 I planted two acres of potatoes, a pottion of which was planted with small seeds Where I planted large seed I had good ptatoes, but where the small seed was plagted I had very small, poor potatoes-the whole of them being in new ground. The past season I planted the same number of acres, but reserved a quarter of an acre, which I planted with small seed from, the size of a walnut up to that of a hen's egg. The result was as all former crops had been with me, they were all small and worth?

less, besides being more affected by the tot than where the large seed were used. The difference in the vines was percepted ble as far as my potatoe patch could be see -those vines where'I planted small seed being not half the length of the others, he. sides having a slender and sickly appearant. from the time they were out of the ground
