RUNAWAY ENGINE.

On Wednesday afternoon, the driver of an engine on the Great Northern Railway, having occasion to go into the station at York, left his engine in charge of the stocker, who, in order to save time, as he thought, endeavored to shoot it on the other line. For this purpose he partially put on the steam, and then got off and went to turn the points, intending to jump on the engine as soon as it had passed on to the proper line. Unfortunately, however, the escape valve closed.

Thompson's Bank Note Reporter says:—

"Refuse all notes corresponding to the following descriptions, no matter of what denomination they may be, or what Bank they may purport to be issued by:

"So, in the centre of the note is a large circular die containing a figure 5—to the right of this are two meu, one harrowing with two horses, and the other sowing seed."

"Bet on the left end is a man with a double-horse plough team. On the right end margin is a figure 5 in the centre, and the little V on the upper and lower corners. On the left end margin is the word FIVE running across the whole end.

This is altered from some broken western Bank, and its last appearance was on the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, at Easton, CHEAP TRAVELLING. Travelling in France, like every thing else there, has been reduced to science, or rather to art. Companies are now formed at Paris which convey passengers to London and back at an expense of only thirty francs-about six dollars. They will pay all your expenses for this sum, and give you four days in London to see all the lions. It took more time and money a lew years ago to ourney from Paris to Rouen, which is only a few miles off. These pleasure trains, as they are called, quit Paris on Saturday, cross the channel in a good steamer on Sunday, reaching London in the afternoon, give the voyagers Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, in the city, leaving in time to get back to Paris on Friday night.
