"BRING BACK MY HEAD."

Jake was a little negro who belonged to Dr. Tallinferro, and was said to have in his little frame a heart as big as General Jackson's-to say nothing of Napoleon Bonaparte or Zack Taylor. He didn't fear even our respectable fellow-citizen, Old Nick; and as dy will be found a most effectual one: To 3 galfor coolness, he was as cool as the tip top lons of water add one peck of soot and one quart of of the North Pole.

One day Dr. Tallinferro, upon occasion of the commencement of a medical college of which he held the chair of anatomy gare. which he held the chair of anatomy, gave a dinner. Dr. Swayns.—Deer Sir-Belleving is a duty I Dr. Swayrs.—Deer Sir-Belleving is a duty I owe to the public, and in justice to you, I have thought proper to make known one of the most extraordinary cures, in my own case, that has aver been truly recorded. In the month of October last I was afflicted with a severe gathering in my breast, which formed a large abcess, and also communicated to my Lungs, and very much afflicted them, and discharged large quantities of corruption, external and internal, that is, large quantities passed through my Lungs, which I threw up. My breath could also pass through my Lungs, and out through the cavity of my breast with apparent case, attended with a violent cough day and night, loss of appetite, and extreme itely hopelessand beyond the power of medicine.—
I remained in this wretched condition for a long time will be used to be no hope for me, but having read in the bublic papers of the many wonderful care performed my your COMPOUND SYRUP OP WILD CHERRY, I immediately sent to Baltimore for five bettles and commenced its was, and to my great antiafaction and anxious family, the abcers or opening in my lungs began to heal, and the cough subside, and on using ten bottles I was required to perfect health. I feel very grateful and firmly believe, that to your valuable medicine, under the blessings of Divine Providence, I am medicined for this great change, and I am happy to say that I am now enjoying as good health as I ever have.

TREATMENT OF POULTRY. The following rules are authoritatively laid down, for the treatment of Poultry .-

We hope they may prove of value to the readers of the Journal: 1. All young chickens, ducks and turkers should be kept under cover, out of the weather during rainy seasons. 2. Two or three times a week, pepper, shallots, shives or garlie should be mixed up

3. A small lump of asafætida should be placed in the pan in which water is given 4. Whenever they manifest disease, by the sign of ill-health,"a little asalætida broken into small lumps should be mixed with their 5. Chickens which are kept from the dung hill while young, seldom have the gapes; therefore, it should be the object of those who have the charge of them, so to confine drooping of the wings, or any other outward the hens as to preclude their young from the range of barn or stable yards. 6. Should any of the chickens have the gapes, mix up small portions of asafætida, rhubarb and pepper in fresh butter, and give each chicken as much of the mixture as will lie upon half the bowl of a small teaspoon. 7. For the pip, the following freatment is judicious: take off the indurated covering on the point of the tongue, and give twice a day, for two or three days, a piece of garlic the size of a pear. If garlic cannot be obtained, onion, shallot or shives will answer. and if neither of these be convenient, two grains of black pepper given in fresh butter will answer. 8. For the snuffles, the same remedies as the gapes will be found highly curative, butin addition to these, it will be necessary to. melt a little asafætida in fresh butter, and rub the chicken about the nostrils, taking care to clean them out. 9. Grown up ducks are sometimes taken off rapidly by convulsions. In such cases. four grains of rhubarb, and four grains of Cayenne pepper mixed in fresh butter, should he administered.

PERMANENT PASTURE. If you have an old field that you have turned out to rest, and you desire to conven t into a permanent pasture for your stock, you may do so by pursuing the following plan: plough it up 6 inches deep, harrow and roll it. then sow at the rate of three bushels of peas broadcast, per acre, harrow them in, and roll. When they come into bloom, plough them under, roll, and harrow your land; leave it in this state about a week, then sow one bushel of buckwheat, harrow it in and roll the ground; when the buckwheat comes into bloom, plough it in, roll the ground, spread thereon 50 bushels of lime, or the same quantity of ashes, or twice that quantity of marl, harrow it in, then For sale Wholesale and Retail at Agents' prices by Foll the ground and sow on each acre of it is B. soil, taking the seasons as 'coll," and varie ties as they are developed," is more reliable than one of a heavier and more consolidated texture. Where land is light and warm, it will admit of being worked much earlier in the season, and produce an earlier crop; but whether it will produce a greater yield, is a question, impossible to decide. He says for the future he intends to plant his potatoes wholly on land of this description,-getting them in, if possible, in advance of all other crops, not even excepting Indian corn, and cultivate them entirely without manure, or cutting the seed.

USEFUL TO FARNERS. The Soil of the South furnishes the following rules, which will occasionally be useful to every farmer: To Measure Land .- 16 and a half feetis pole, rod or perch. A rope 33 feet long is two poles, and i poles is a chain; 66 feet is a chain also. RULE .- Multiply the length by the breadth in chains, and point off one figure to the right of the product, which will be tenus of an acre; those to the left of the point will be acres. Example. A field 12 chains one way and 10 the other way contains 12 acres-12 10 -12,0=12 acres. Or you may multiply the number of poles each way together, and divide by 160-16 poles being a square acre. LARGE VS. SMALL POTATOES. Paul A. Way communicates an experiment in planting 2 acres of potatoes, the ground being well manured and worked. It was his opinion that large seed were the best for planting, but falling short in seed, about one-fourth of an acre was planted with small potatoes, the size of a walnut. When he came to dig them, he was surprised to find the potatoes equally large, and the yield 11 great, where he used the small seed as of any other part of the patch. BUSHES. No tidy and ambitious farmer will allow the head lands or any other part of his fields Many a long homily has been written about the best time to cut off such encumberers of the ground, that they will not grow again: but the most effective method of getting the of them is to take a good grubbing hoe and hoist them out "root and branch." When once clean and clear, little labor will be re quired to keep them so. SELECTION OF SEED CORN. -In selecting seed corn, cars are selected, which are perfect in all respects, and well kernellel over the small end; and imperfect kerneli from each end of the ear are removed and Buns.-Concealed buds may be started by making a niche immediately above them with a knife. This is a good way to form new limbs.

A SEASONABLE HINT.-Farmers should be active this season—harvests most be late, even under the most favorable circumstances -make use of good weather.
