DEMOCRACY BOILING OVER. An acute observer at Washington thus describes the condition of the democratic party : Such is the universality of the democratic party that after the next election it will be no party at all. The House is now so dem-coratic that it cannot pass a democratic mea-sure. Democracy is becoming a universality instead of a party. When the part-shall become the whole, the whole will again be divided into parts. Therefore it is that two new democratic papers are to be started in Wathington and the democratic mea-sure and the whole, the whole will again be or attraction and the part shall become the whole, the whole will again be on a party attraction and the starter and the s her armies, defended her rights and adorned her name with an impershable renown. This is in ac-cordance with the nature of man-in accordance with a noble and generous impulse. And as long as human hearts are constituted as now, the man who has denied himself the comforts of home, foregone the pleasures of wealth-invested the strength of his body and the powers of his mind-risked health and life in the defence of his country-will always receive at the hands of hts fellow citizens the highest earthly honors and rewards when the oppor-Bannan's.

In idelity to its Constitution, and in gratitude to its defenders, Pennsylvania acknowledges no supe-rior. Within the broad limits of this great Demo-cratic Empire there is to be found no Common-wealth more loyal and patriotic. And while it is very certain that no man who is not true to the Con-stitution in all parts of the Union in its integrity, can stand even the shadow of a chance to obtain her sloatored votamit is coupling certain that no, man, stand even the shadow of a chance to obtain her electoral vote—it is equally certain that no man. Whig or Democrat, has so much the confidence and affection of her people, as WINFIELD SCOTT. Our adversaries know this, and most earnestly and hi-terly deprecate his nomination. But we are aware that if they had the good fortune to possess such a candidate there would be no divided counsels among them in regard to his nomination. If General Scorr belonged to the ranks of the enemy, instead of be-ing an honest, brave, and reliable Whig, the first Baltimore Convention would nominate him by ac-clamation.
