COACIS MAKER'S REMOVAL.

Poetrn. THE VILLAGE COURTSHIP. BY CHARLES SWAIN.

Tapping at the window.
Peeping o'er the blind:
Tis really most suprising.
He never learns to mind!
Twas only yester evening,
As in the dark we sat,
My mother asked me, sharn My mother asked me, sharply—
"Prey Mary who is that?"
Who's that, indeed!—you're certain
How much she made me start, Men seem to lose their wisdom Whene'er they lose their heart.

Yes: there he is—I see him!
The lamp his shadow throws
Across the curtained window—
He's stepping on his toes!
He'll never think of tapping, Or making any din;
A knock though even the lightest,
Is worse than looking in!
Tap! tap!—would any think it!
He never learns to mind, 'Tis surely most surprising— He thinks my mother blind. Tis plain I must go to him :

It's no use now to cough;—
It's no use now to cough;—
I'll ope the door just sofily,
If but to send him off!
'Tis well if from the door-step
He be not shortly hurl'd—
Oh, man, there ne'er was trouble;
Till he came in the world!
Tapping at the window. Tapping at the window,
Peeping o'er the blind;
Oh, man! but you're a trouble
And that we maidens find!

have given place to the Age of Iron. Iron is your true agent of civilization. So says of the Menia and Conway tubular bridges, he might be justified in proclaiming this; still less by opiates.

For the first few months avoid loud and harsh sounds in the hearing of children, or violent lights in their sight; address them in soft tones; do nothing to frighten them. Avoid angry words and violence coin to a child and in its presence; by which means a caturally violent child may be trained to gentleness.

Moderate any propensity of a child; such as anger, viölence, greediness for food, cunning, which appears too active. Show him of those in whose arms he lives.

Not long since, a young girl, eleven years of age, who lived in Paris, attempted to murder her mother, sister, and many of her playmates, for the purpose of drinking their blood. After a careful examination by a scientific man, it was declared that she was subject to the strange and terrible mania of cannabalism. As she was extremely young, this strange perversion of natural instinct afforded a prospect of cure.
