It is common to regard milk as little else than a source of food...

EPHRAIM SNUFF.

The following has proved itself highly useful in the treatment of the nose...

TOUGH STORIES—One Editor says—

A friend at our elbow says there is a piece of road, two miles from here...

Another—

A Californian writes that they have fire flies large in that interesting State...

A CUTBURY—

"James, my son, take this letter to the post office and pay the postage."

The boy returned highly elated, and said—

"Father, I used a lot of money putting letters in a little place, and when no one was looking, I slipped yours in for nothing, and bought a ginger cake with the money."

FLETCHER, Bishop of Nimes, was the son of a tailor-chandler.

A great duke once endeavored to marry the prelate, by saying to him, at the King's levee...

The which then drew a shrewd knife,

And in he plunged to the hilt, And out the gory ran.

"MADAM, HAS YOUR PIANO AN ORIGINAL ATTACHMENT?"

"Yes," answered the other knight of the wife of a man who appeared to live fully up to, if not beyond, his income.

"Hush!" whispered Seth in his ear;

"It has a Sheriff's attachment." Sam dropped the subject.

NOT A TROTTOLAR—

"The moon," said a teetotaler, "is not quite one of our sort; she lets her moderation be known to all men, and only fills her horn once a month."

"Then she fills it with something very strong."

"Why are the elephant's tusks now brought to Europe, of smaller size than formerly?"

"Not a TROTTOLAR—"

"The moon," said a teetotaler, "is not quite one of our sort; she lets her moderation be known to all men, and only fills her horn once a month."

"Why is a young man hugging his sweetheart like an epicure who permits his wife to leak away?"

"Because he is realizing what he loves." The author of this was sent to the penitentiary.

A TALL MAN, who was given to disputation, was told by a medical friend that he was dying by inches. "Thank Heaven!" said he, "I measure six feet seven inches."

"Why does the breast-bone of the male in shape resemble a ploughshare?"

Because it has a furrow in it, and a sharp point at the end, and is used to break up the soil of the world.

ESSENTIALS TO FARMING... THE FOLLOWING ARE THE ESSENTIALS TO PRODUCING A GOOD HARVEST...

1. Good implements of husbandry, and plenty of order. 2. Deep plowing and thorough pulverization of the soil...

3. An application of lime, marl, or other manure, where calcareous matter or potash may be present in the soil.

4. A systematic understanding of every quality of soil, and a careful selection of the substances from loss by evaporation...

5. The draining of all wet lands, so as to relieve the roots of the plants from the effects of a superabundance of water...

6. The free use of the plow, cultivator, and hoe, with all row-cultured crops, so as to keep down at all times, the growth of grass and weeds...

7. Seeding at the proper time, with good seed, and an equal attention to time, with regard to the period of working crops.

8. Attention to the construction and repair of fences, so that what is made through their means and anxious care of the husbandman, may not be lost through the neglect to protect his crops from the depredation of stock.

9. Daily personal supervision, on the part of the master, over every good management of the farm...

10. The use of the best machinery, and the comparative independence of the employe upon such labor betrays a disposition of obedience and faithfulness on the part of the employe.

11. Comfortable stabling and sheds for the horses and stock, all necessary out-buildings, and tools and implements, as well as a fine race of poultry.

12. Clover and other grasses to form part of the rotation of crops, and to form a proper preparation for the soil...

13. The clover field to be either plowed or sashed, each succeeding spring—1 bushel for the former, and 8 for the latter per acre...

14. To keep a more stock than the farm can keep in good condition, as it is wise policy to feed as much as possible the crops grown on the farm, and thus turn it to that which has been abstracted from.

15. To provide a good orchard and garden to be filled with choice fruit of all kinds—the other with vegetables of different sorts, early and late, so that the farm, at all times, be seasonably supplied with surplus produce to increase the wealth of the proprietor.

A BEAUTIFUL PICTURE. The man who stands upon his own soil, who feels that by the laws of the land which he lives by—the laws of civilization—he is the rightful and exclusive owner of the land which he tills...
