Address of the Whig State Central Committee to the People of Pennsylvania.

The Whig State Central Committee beg leave to address you briefly on the great questions of the political contest now before you. Speaking to the sovereigns of a mighty empire, concerning their highest privileges and most sacred duties, we shall be careful of the substance, though careless of the form of our remarks. He is no worthy inheritor of our glorious birthright, who seeks, by false words to enlist your sympathies for pernicous principles. The stern spirits of the patriots of old start up from their dusty graves, and frown upon the traiter demagogue who, for the base purpose of advancing his political fortunes, with lying tongue endeavors to mistead or deceive you.

They conquered, and their illustrious victim fell.—
But all good seen deplore the virtory. They had proclaimed friendship for the "Protective Tariff of 12." one of their earliest acts was to destroy it.—

Our frightened adversaries strive once more, as in times past, to defraud you by names. They cry "Democracy," and rely upon the word alone. They talk of "principles;" and yet what single affirmative practical principle do they profess? What measures do they advocate, but measures of opposition? stion?
The great National Whig Party, under its illustrious founder and leader, HENRY CLAY, grew out of the most patriotic elements of the dismembered old Democratic party. All the principles of that party and the most and best of its adherents fell to our share. While we advocate, and have ever advocated, "Protection to American Industry," "Improvements of Rivers and Harbers," and other of their function and time-honored dectaines, our adverse ments of Rivers and Harbers," and other of their favorite and time-honored doctrines, our adversaries, with brazen effrontery, have upheld or denounced them, as expediency demanded. For instances, we need not go far back.

In 1844 a fraud was perpetrated on the people of Pennsylvania, unparalleled in the annals of politics—a deliberate, appalling, and disastrous fraud!—a fraud that struck deep at her mighty heart, and fell with crushing weight on her vast energies. Was Pennsylvania stunned by the blow? Aye! she was stunned. For her betrayers still live, and their party still survives. We will say to them, in the prophetic words of the Girondin leader—"We fell when the people had lost their reason. You will fall on the day when they recover it." Pennsylvania will never again vote for a Presidential candidate who is identified with the party that betrayed her. She was cheated once; that was the fault of her deceivers. If she is cheated again, the fault

Holke our opponents, we will not charge any great portion of any party with wilful infidelity to the country. That the present locofocos are in error in regard to measures, many of their own partizans are compelled already to admit; and the day is not far distant when all will admit it again, as they did in the ever to be regretted campaign of '44. Then they disavowed their great cardinal doctrine of Free Trade, and claimed the Whig measure, Protection to the industrial interests of the country, although it was the main, leading, distinctive line of demarcation between us. By their own contessions in time past, and by the admitsion of some of their adherents now, they are mission of some of their adherents now, they are grossly and deplorably in error. They advocate measures that are ruinous to the nation—subversive of the best interests of her "toiling millions;" and yet we will not follow the example of their leaders, and

This may be fidelity to party, but it is not patriotism. It is everything for spoils, and nothing for the country. Is not the time at hand when a nobler impulse will govern these men? It they cannot overcome the attractive influences of power and plunder, let them remember that the party with which they agree in doctrine will be rendered mightier far. by their accession, than the one with which they now act, at the sacrifice of their honest convictions. Think of now sam it be when they are for us? Think of this, ye office-loving Democrats in name, and Whigs in doctrine! Strike for the principles which you approve, and the measures which you love, and ye shall not be shorn of your might, but your strength shall be strengthened. He who approaches a great election thoughtlessly, and without earnest deliberation upon the issues involved in the contest, is, to say the least of him, an indifferent friend of his country—untrue to a most sacred trust! It is his high and imperative duty to ponder well the creeds and the principles which he is about to uphold or to overthrow. Uninduenced by the prejudices of his earlier years—regardless of the predilections of his friends or father—he should judge wholly and tearlessly for

We premise these remarks, because we have just learned that the friends of Mr.

Both have re-indorsed, and greatly amended Magna Charta and the Bill of Rights. Both parties have declared the American Eagle to be the biggest and tattest bird, that ever shadowed the earth with its wings. Gen. Scott has a well-balanced mind and In regard to the great, leading, vitally important, is very liberal in his views on the subject of religion. No sect or demonstration will ever have any cause to complain of his acts in that respect, as President of the United States.

The Hon. Jas. Whitcomb, Free Soil Democrat, United States Senator of Indians, died in New York city on Tuesday last.

In regard to the great, leading, vitally important, all-absorbing question of Protection to the Industry of the country, among thinking and patriotic men there can be but one opinion. In fact, as we have already intimated, at one time there was but one opinion. The doctrine was deemed so impregnation that even its enemies claimed it as a cardinal tenet of their faith, and defied the men who had enacted it into a law, against their own strenuous and united exertions, to repeal it. In 1841, the Whigs, for the first tune, came into power, with a working majority in each branch of the National Legislature. One of their first efforts was to enact in Tariff, whose object was to protect the labor of morning.

tion. They admit that, with the present wages of labor in the United States, the generality of our manufactures, unprotected, cannot compete with the manufactures of the old world, where labor manufactures, unprotected, cannot compete with the manufactures of the old world, where labor that pauses to rest must starve. Their statesmen say, let the wages of labor be reduced. Let paper money and the whole credit system be abolished, and gold and silver the only circulating medium, and then you will need no protection. The American operative will be reduced to the condition of the Russian serf. They tell us "ten cents a day" is enough for him to live on, for the products of the country will come down in proportion; wheat will be teorth 12½ cents, and corn 6½ cents per bushel; and as for the products of other lands, such as tea and coffee, they are enervating luxusies; and he is better off without them. This is Locotoco doctrine. This is the substitute which their wise men have offered for protection. Choose ye between them, citizens of Pennsylvania!

It is a proposition which will not admit of argument, that that country is most prosperous where labor is most diversified, and where it commands the highest reward. Let the shoemaker abandon his bench, and go to tarming. Let the failor, the blacksmith, the carpenter, the merchant, the lawyer, quit his shop, his anvil, or his desk, and compete with the shoemaker in his new vocation, and where will the original farmer and his new rivals fina a market for the products of their toil? How will they find the where withal to purchase shoes, and other merchandise from other lands—especially when those other lands have wheat; and corn, and potatoes much cheaper at their doors and other merchandise from other lands—especially when those other lands have wheat; and corn, and potatoes much cheaper at their doors and other merchandise from other lands—especially when those other lands have wheat; and corn, and potatoes much cheaper at their doors are questions we wish every American farmer, mer-corn, and potatoes much cheaper at their doors than our competition can raise them? These are questions we wish every American farmer, merchant, mechanic and laborer to ask himself before he casts his vote for or against Protection. Our locofoco brethren would make us believe the question no longer exists. But it does, and will, and must exist as long as truth lives. It still exists, and will that and explore the trumph. As the violent of the protection of t must exist as long as truth lives. It still exists, and must at last, and ere long, triumph. As the violation of the true principles of political economy involve disaster and destruction. Men will be driven at last by their sufferings to acknowledge and adopt the truta. Great Britain has sent her gold to corrupt and control us; but let us show her we know how to resist her metal, even as our fathers resisted it in the days of the Revolution.

Of the Presidential candidates this is not the occasion to speak. At a future time, and very soon, we will discuss, them fairly and fully. We will then compare Gen. Scott? and Mr. Pierce, and bring into juxtaposition their merits and qualifications. At the present time, it is enough to ask—if there han been no National. Convention, if every candidate had run upon his own strength, unbacked by a nomination, how many would have voted for Mr. Pierce?

Apart from these great national issues, other opesitors arise which only affect the interests of the special ally to British interests!

In regard to the Supreme Judgeship, we have but a few words to say. Much that we have written in reference to the Canal Board applies to this.

The whole career of George W. Woodward has aimed the murderous dagger at her heart. Molino del. Rey. Chapullepec, storming of Mexico, expense of their fown importing, which they researed included and examine their stock, and the quality and style of their ground spices.

No lines with the best articles in market. W. & W. would call particular attention to their stock of Green Coffees, some of their fown importing, which they feel assured are of their fown importing, which they shippers, and Consert would do well to call and examine their stock, and the quality and style of their ground spices. Marsinals, and otheg worse, of which off worders would be and other worders would be and the worder of the South and North, by Rev. B.; R. Hall, author of Something for Everybody, "New Purchase," &c. 1 vol. 12mo. 76c.
This work, while it advocates the cause of the African, would do justice to the South. It would awaken sympalay, but not excite wrath, nor turn pity for the Negro into vengeanch against the White, not in-rican, would no justice to the endth, nor turn pity for the nagralph, but not excite wrath, nor turn pity for the Nagro into vengeance against the White, not inculcate treason under pretence of love and freedom. It would have loved to the work of hate. It will be marked with the characteristics of the author, so well known to the public by his previous works, of whom it was said in the publication of "The New Purchase," that "He was master of many styles, and had stepped to the highest round of the ladder at once." The work is no defence of slavery; but it would be a balance-wheel, not to stop, but to concentrate, equalize, and direct other motions. It treats ultraism of the North to the Let Talianis. The writer witnessed much that he describes, and real persons are introduced under new names, so that the work, while it will possess the interest of fiction, is not only true to life, but in many of its scenes and characters is true in fact.

Will be published in October.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1851, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., in the Clerk's Office of the District Court for the Eastern District Another Scientific Wonder!

Another Scientific Wonder!

GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA:

Dive Fould, or Gastric Juice—prepared from Rennet, or the fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Bason Liebic, the great Physiological Chemiel, by J. S. Houghton, the great Physiological Chemiel, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

"I Dioest." Such is the true meaning of the word Pepris. It is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Selessis of the Food, the Parifying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus formings true Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and Turnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is Nature's own Remedy for an unhealthy Stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It contains no Alcohol, Bitters, Acida, or Nauscous Drugs. It is extremely agreeable to the taste, and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without acute distress. Beware of DRUGGED INITATIONS. Pepsin is NOT A DRUG.

Islaifa tea-spoonfut of Pepsin infused in water, will digest or dissolve Fire Pounds of Reast Beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.
