1 REMEMBER.

I remember, I remember
When I just began to creep,
How I crawled straight into mischief—
How I wouldn't go to sleep—
How I pull'd the table linen
With its contents on the floor; How my mother spanked me for it. Till my tender flesh was sore.

I remember, I remember
When I used to go to school,
How I kept a watchful eye on The school master's rod and rule:

How I cut up monkey shines
Every time his back was turned— I remember, I remember

When I went a hooking peaches, How a dog came out and caught me By the surplus of my breeches; How I hung on to the bushes— How the dog hung fast to me, Till my crying brought a man who Flogg'd me most " orful-E.

I remember, I remember When the girls I used to kiss, How I thought it rather funny, But it gave no extra bliss; Now it siezes me with rapture, Now it fills my soul with joy; Yet with manhood's blissful pleasure, Would that I was still a boy.

A PLAN FOR DRYING FRUIT. I HAVE a house six feet square and seven feet high, with a tight floor; at the bottom and top the frame is made of scantling about three inches square, with three posts on each side: those three side posts have inch holes through them six inches apart, from bottom to top, to receive inch pins, eighteen or twenty inches long, to sustain the fruit. The shelves used are half inch boards, fire feet ten inches long and ten inches wide, with the corners at each end a little rounded, so that they are the names of many merchants and others, in this city and other places, which they can give in reference—Their celebrated safes have been well tested by accidental as well as by public bondres, as the report below will show. square, with three posts on each side : those three may be taken out and put in handily. Two of Great Triumph Schieved by EVANS & WATSON'S may be taken out and put in handily. Two of these boards lie on the range of pins—one board of twenty inches would do, but is rather heavy when filled with green fruit. A door two feet wide and seven feet high is about right; let it be in the centre of one end; it is then convenient to stand outside and slip in the shelves filled with fruit, either to the right or left. A small stove placed in the centre completes the fixture, except a covering to the building, which may be attached to it, or be a separate concern.
