PHYSIOLOGICAL FACTS. The following physiological facts were translated from a French Scientific Journal: "The average height of a man and woman at birth, is generally sixtcen inches. to be exceedingly amiable and happy. A In each of the twelve years after birth, one friend inquired if there was any secret in his twelfth is added to the stature each year.further diminished after this up to twentyold age the height of the body diminishes on height of a woman varies less than that of a man, in different countries. The average weight of a male infant is about seven lbs. ; of a female, about six and a half pounds .-The weight of an infant decreases a few days after its birth, till it is a week old. At the end of the first year, the child is three times as heavy as when it is born .--Few parents realize how much their chil- At the age of seven years, it is twice as heavy as when a year old."

PRINTING OFFICES.

When Dr. Franklin's mother-in-law first discovered that the young man had a hankwould depend for support on the profits of a third, and this was rather a doubtful chance. If such an objection was urged to a would-be son-in-law when there were but two printing offices in the United States, how can a printer hope to get a wife now, when the present consus shows the number to be 1567.

THE BRAIN OF WEBSTER.

The Atlas says that a very careful, minute and accurate post mortem examination of the brain of Daniel Webster was made, under the eve of one of the best living morbid anaomists, and the results carefully noted. The cerebral organs were of the very largest known capacity, exceeding by thirty per centum the average weight of the human brain; and with only two known exceptions; (Cuvier and Dupuytren,) the largest of which there is any record.
