Street, Southeast corner of FOURTH Street, Philadelphia. This popular Clothing Establishment, (which has for more than a quarter of a century farnished our citizens with Elegant and Fashionable Clothing at such remarkably low rates, that their superior made Clothing is now not only sold in immenas quantities throughout our own state, but is in increasing demand in every town and village of the great South and West,) is now prepared for the coming Fall and Winter, with a most extensive assortment of Superior Clothing, which for Style, Fit, Ease, Durability and Workmanship will defy competition. The great facilities which C. Harkness & Son possess in purchasing the finest Fabrics of French, English and American Manufactures, enable them to offer the Beat quality of Clothing at such prices as pither houses charge for the meanest kind of goods. WORTH KNOWING.

Whenever an artisan, resident in one of the filthy places, leaves off strong drink, the the parties retain their hands in the position indicated. This is no hoax. We have pins to pay his debts: he purchases decent gins to pay his debts; he purchases decent A Physician in the Philadelphia tion to prevent trick, and always with the his habitation clean, and provides good furniture; he buys a few books; takes his family to a place of worship; and, if not content with being clean and decent amongst surrounding diri and wretchedness, he looks for a better residence in some airy and salubrious locality, leaving his unimprovable residence to be occupied by one like his former self, who prefers drinking, smoking and gambling to the comfort and decencies of domestic life.—Temperance Chronicle.

Boys, you have heard of blacksmiths who have become Mayors and Magistrates of and towns and cities, and men of great wealth influence. What was their secret of success?
